

Stanford Tennis and Cashin Company Salute the East Palo Alto Tennis and Tutoring Program

The East Palo Alto Tennis and Tutoring Program (EPATT), now in its 15th year, provides one-on-one academic tutoring and group tennis instruction to one hundred children per year. Serving youth in the 1st through 12th grade, this unique endeavor, under the auspices of the Youth Tennis Advantage, strives to impact the children academically, athletically and socially. EPATT, named among the top three inner-city tennis programs in the country by Tennis Week Magazine, flourishes year round at the Taube Tennis Center on the Stanford University campus.

Tutoring sessions are conducted at the Center after school and in the evenings in the Gwen and Victor Riches Pinewood Tutorial Rooms. The program facilities include four classrooms, and counter space, which include a library and computer center with internet access, providing the students with resources necessary to succeed academically. More than 120 Stanford students volunteer as academic tutors and tennis instructors.

EPATT partners with the Haas Center for Public Service at Stanford University to help recruit these volunteers.

Stanford Tennis Team members hope these youths can be afforded some of the same opportunities they themselves received as young people. An anonymous foundation provides season admissions to tennis matches for program participants. If you are interested in becoming a member of the East Palo Alto-Stanford "Team," contact coaches Dick Gould, Lele Forood, or EPATT Executive Director Dave Higaki at (650) 725-4450.

Lele Forood

Women's Head Coach

1976 Stanford All-American

1997 ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year

2003 Wilson/ITA National Coach of the Year

Head women's tennis Lele Forood, the 2003 Wilson/ITA National Coach of the Year, enters her fourth year at Stanford after a three-season tenure that boasts two NCAA team titles and one runner-up finish. After serving as an assistant and associate head coach at Stanford for 13 years, Forood has made the most of her time with the Cardinal women's tennis team, guiding them to an 82-3 record. The Cardinal has won 154 of its last 158 matches over the past five seasons.

Last season, Forood led the Cardinal to a 25-2 record overall, a second-place finish at the NCAA Tournament and Stanford's 16th-straight Pac-10 title. Cardinal freshman Amber Liu was crowned the 2003 NCAA Singles Champion.

In Forood's second year, the Cardinal capped off a 6-0 run in the NCAA Tournament with a 4-1 victory over top-ranked Florida in the title match. Forood guided Stanford, which won its 12th NCAA Team Championship in the 22-year history of the event, to a 27-1 overall record and a Pac-10 Championship.

Forood became the first female head coach to win the NCAA team title in 2001. The championship was the first for Forood, who was an assistant coach for five national title runs from 1989-1991 and in 1997 and 1999. She guided the Cardinal to a stellar 30-0 mark in her first complete season at the helm, as well as the 2000 Pac-10 Championship and a final No. 1 ranking. That year marked the ninth perfect season and first in over 10 years.

Forood replaced one of Stanford's all-time great coaches in Frank Brennan, who retired in June 2000 after 21 years and 10 national championships.

She was an assistant coach for 10 years before being promoted to associate head coach in March of 2000. In 1997, Forood's efforts in helping lead the Cardinal to the NCAA title were recognized as she was named the Division I National Assistant Coach of the Year by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association.

An All-American at Stanford 1976, the first year they started the All-American accolades, Forood was a National Collegiate singles finalist as a freshman and a semifinalist during her sophomore campaign. Competing internationally, she captured the gold medal in both singles and doubles at the 1975 Pan American Games. She was also the 1975 national amateur singles and doubles champion. Forood was ranked as high as 30th on the women's professional tour, and she had an impressive victory over Wimbledon Champion and second-seed Virginia Wade at the 1977 U.S. Open. At the 1976 U.S. Open, Forood teamed with Rachel Giscafre to reach the doubles semifinals.

Forood was a member of the Board of Women's Tennis Associates from 1979-1987 and served as its secretary-treasurer from 1983-87. She has been extremely active in promoting WTA events, and was the recipient of the prestigious WTA Player Service Award in 1983. After the tour and before coming back to Stanford, she promoted the first professional women's tour event in France from 1986-1988 at Strasbourg.

A native of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Forood was a member of Stanford's class of 1978, graduating with a degree in sociology.

Lele Forood was named the 2003 Wilson/ITA National Coach of the Year.

The Stanford women's tennis team visited the White House after capturing the 2002 NCAA title.

Frankie Brennan

Women's Assistant Coach

2003 ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year

Frankie Brennan, the 2003 ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year and son of legendary former head coach Frank Brennan, is now in his ninth year as an assistant coach on The Farm. In the last eight years, he has tutored 15 student-athletes to 32 All-American awards, has helped the Cardinal to a 222-12 record as well as eight-straight Pac-10 titles, four national championships and three second-place finishes in the NCAA Tournament.

Brennan was a two-time All-Conference player for the University of Redlands, where he helped the team to a Final Four appearance in 1993 and a fifth-place national finish in 1994. He was also a two-time All-Conference player down the road at Foothill Junior College, where he helped lead the team to a semifinal appearance in the state championships in 1991 and a runner-up finish in 1992.

In 1991, Brennan was voted as The Times Tribune Athlete of the week twice, named MVP of the tennis team and nominated as The Times Tribune Athlete of the Year. He was also nominated for the Foothill College Male Athlete of the Year.

Brennan was head coach of the women's tennis team at the University of Redlands in 1995 before coming to work for his father in 1996. He has also worked for the United States Tennis Association, assisting in the Area

Training Center and serving as a USTA zonal coach. Brennan has also been a hitting partner for Venus Williams and other top professionals over the last four years at the Bank of the West Classic.

Brennan prepped at St. Francis and Los Altos High schools, where he was a four-year letterwinner in both tennis and football. He finished his senior year on the East Coast at Mt. St. Joseph High School in Vermont where he was a standout running back on their State Championship football team.

A third generation coach, Brennan and his family have been involved with coaching tennis for years. His grandfather was Billie Jean King's coach for 18 years as well as the personal instructor to former president Jimmy Carter and his family while he was in the White House. In May of 2002, Inside Tennis named the "Brennan Clan," Frank Sr., Jr and III, to their top-10 list of "Guys Who Have Lent A Hand" to women's tennis.

Brennan played a few years on the satellite circuit before deciding to dive into coaching full time.

Frankie Brennan, the 2003 ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year and son of legendary former head coach Frank Brennan, is now in his ninth year as an assistant coach on The Farm. In the last eight years Brennan has tutored 15 student-athletes to 32 All-America awards, has helped the Cardinal to a 222-12 record, as well as, eight-straight Pac-10 titles, four national championships and three runner-up finishes in the Tournament.

Brennan resides in Mountain View, Calif., with wife, Shauna, a speech pathologist in the Hillsborough School District, six-year old daughter, Madeline, and dog, Tide.

Brian Ramirez

Women's Volunteer Assistant Coach

Brian Ramirez returns to The Farm as a volunteer assistant coach with the women's program this year after having worked for Stanford athletics marketing for two years in 1999 and 2000.

A two-time All-Conference player at Foothill Junior College, Ramirez helped lead the team to a semifinal appearance in the state championships in 1991 and a State Runner-up finish in 1992. He also teamed with current Stanford assistant coach Frankie Brennan to become one of the State's top doubles teams.

Ramirez then began working as an assistant coach for the University of North Carolina at Greensboro as they made the change to Division I athletics. There he worked with both the men's and women's teams for two years and helped establish both teams as conference powers.

Following his stint at UNC-Greensboro, he went on to coach some of the world's top junior players and pros at Palmer International in Tampa, Fla. While there he worked and traveled with former Stanford stars Ryan Wolters, Geoff Abrams, Scottie Scott, KJ Hippensteel and other college standouts from the University of Florida and University of Georgia.

Ramirez most recently left his position as Marketing Director with ZOOM Marketing in Palo Alto to start his own business that will allow him to work with families that have children that are involved in sports as a Family Sports Mentor.

Sophomore Alice Barnes, junior Erin Burdette and senior Lauren Barnikow are a formidable trio of returning All-Americans who look to lead Stanford to the NCAA title match for a sixth straight season.

The Stanford women's tennis team enters the 2003-04 season ranked No. 2 and looking to reclaim the national team title that eluded the young squad last season. After taking their 16th-straight Pacific-10 Championship and cruising past their first five opponents at the 2003 NCAA Tournament, the Cardinal narrowly fell to Florida 4-3 in the NCAA Final match. But head coach Lele Forood has not strayed from her usual focus.

"Our season goals are, as always, to repeat as the Pac-10 Champions and to be playing in the final match of the year," Forood said.

2 record overall and taking the Pac-10 with an unblemished 8-0 league record.

"We have a lot of talented players this year and added depth in our lineup that will definitely have a positive effect on our overall play," Forood said. "This year's team gained a lot of experience from our runner-up finish in last year's Tournament that will benefit us coming into this campaign."

The 2003-04 senior class consists of Emilia Anderson and Lauren Barnikow. Anderson, ranked No. 62 in the ITA preseason national poll, tallied a 24-5 overall record last season and recorded a 2-1 postseason mark. Barnikow earned All-America honors last year and was named Second-Team All-Pac-10 after boasting a 26-13 singles record and a 33-6 doubles record

The Cardinal return a complete squad from last season that includes 2003 NCAA Singles Champion Amber Liu and the Pac-10 Doubles Team of the Year, Erin Burdette and Lauren Barnikow. The 2002-03 team finished the season ranked No. 2 by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association after posting a 25-

The ITA honored Lele Forood as National Coach of the Year, Amber Liu as National Player of the Year and Frankie Brennan as National Assistant Coach of the Year for 2003.

with partner Burdette. The Barnikow/Burdette duo enters the 2003-04 campaign ranked No. 6 by the ITA.

"Both of our seniors are three-year starters who provide great leadership and competitiveness," Forood said.

Other Cardinal returning starters include juniors Erin Burdette and Story Tweedie-Yates, and sophomores Amber Liu and Alice Barnes.

All-American Burdette returns this season ranked No. 7 in singles and No. 6 in doubles with partner Barnikow. She boasted a 31-9 overall singles record last season and notched a perfect 6-0 record in postseason action. Tweedie-Yates, ranked No. 74, tallied a 30-8 record at the No. 6 spot for the Cardinal last season. She also teamed with Anderson to post a 19-9 overall doubles mark.

"Both of our juniors were part of the championship team in their freshman year and have gained even more experience after successful seasons last year," Forood said.

Barnes and Liu had standout seasons last year in their freshman campaigns. Liu earned All-America, Pac-10 Freshman of the Year, ITA Rookie of the Year and National Player of the Year honors after being crowned the NCAA Singles Champion last season. During the past summer, Liu toured Japan with the U.S. College All-Stars and competed in her first Bank of the West WTA Tournament, held at Stanford in July, winning her first round before falling to the world's top-ranked Kim Clijsters.

Barnes, ranked No. 21 in the preseason poll, notched an unblemished 25-0 dual match record and boasted a 39-5 record overall to earn All-America honors as a freshman. Paired with teammate Liu, the duo tallied a 22-3 doubles record.

"Our sophomores were major strengths of our team last year," Forood said. "Liu competed at the No. 1-spot all season and won a national title and Barnes went undefeated in dual matches."

Senior Emilia Anderson was a key component of the Cardinal's NCAA titles during her freshman and sophomore seasons.

Cardinal reserves junior Kara Guzman, and sophomores Joanna Kao and Jessica Leck will also return this season to the Stanford squad.

Guzman recorded a 6-4 record last season, but was forced to sit out this past fall season due to a shoulder injury. As a freshman, Kao notched a 7-6 overall record and advanced to the semifinals of the invitational flight of the Pac-10 Individual Championships. Leck paired with Kao to tally a 4-3 record in doubles action last year.

"We have three experienced reserves who have played meaningful competition and will provide depth to this year's squad," Forood said.

The Stanford squad is looking for great things from incoming freshmen Theresa Logar and Anne Yelsey.

Logar won the United States Tennis Association's Girls' 18 Super National Hard Court Singles Championship to earn a berth in the main draw of the U.S. Open. Logar, who was also a finalist at the prestigious Easter Bowl Supernational Championship in 2002, was ranked as high as fourth in the nation by the USTA in the Girls' 18 division.

Yelsey won the doubles title at the United States Tennis Association's Girls' 18 National Hard Court Championship to earn a spot in the main draw at the U.S. Open. She also won the singles and doubles titles at the Easter Bowl Girls' 18 Championship, and is a two-time doubles champion at the USTA Supernational Clay Court Championship.

"We also added two national juniors champions to the team who will be counted on to start this season," Forood said.

The Cardinal will face another tough schedule this season as they make a run for the national title in May. The Pacific-10 Conference boasts six teams ranked in the top-20 in the ITA preseason poll (No. 2 Stanford, No. 3 California, No. 6 USC, No. 7 Washington, No. 11 UCLA and No. 19 Arizona State).

Stanford heads into non-conference action after competing in the 2004 ITA/USTA Women's National Indoor Tennis Championships. The Pac-10 season opens on the road at California, Arizona State and Arizona. The Cardinal home schedule features conference matches against Arizona, Arizona State, California, Oregon, UCLA and USC.

"I think we will really be ready going into the team indoor championships and hope for a good finish, which is really important early in the season," Forood said. "We get into the heart of the Pac-10 schedule later in the season, creating a situation where you have to be up for every match. Four Pac-10 teams were ranked in the top-11 in the final team rankings last year, so every match is a big one."

Plexipave SYSTEM

On October 1, 1891, the 465 new students who were on hand for opening day ceremonies at Leland Stanford Junior University greeted Leland and Jane Stanford enthusiastically, with a chant they had made up and rehearsed only that morning. Wah-hoo! Wah-hoo! L-S-J-U! Stanford! Its wild and spirited tone symbolized the excitement of this bold adventure. As a pioneer faculty member recalled, "Hope was in every heart, and the presiding spirit of freedom prompted us to dare greatly."

For the Stanford's on that day, the university was the realization of a dream and a fitting tribute to the memory of their only son, who had died of typhoid fever weeks before his sixteenth birthday. Far from the nation's center of culture and unencumbered by tradition or ivy, the new university drew students from all over the country: many from California; some who followed professors hired from other colleges and universities; and some simply seeking adventure in the West. Though there were many difficulties during the first months – housing was inadequate, microscopes and books were late in arriving from the East – the first year foretold greatness. As Jane Stanford wrote in the summer of 1892, "Even our fondest hopes have been realized."

Millions of volumes are housed in many libraries throughout the campus.

Stanford University The University at a Glance

Ideas of "Practical Education"

Governor and Mrs. Stanford had come from families of modest means and had built their way up through a life of hard work. So it was natural that their first thoughts were to establish an institution where young men and women could "grapple successfully with the practicalities of life." As their thoughts matured, these ideas of "practical education" enlarged to the concept of producing cultured and useful citizens who were well-prepared for professional success.

More than one hundred years later, the university still enjoys the original 8,180 acres (almost 13 square miles) of grassy fields, eucalyptus groves, and rolling hills that were the Stanfords' generous legacy, as well as the Quadrangle of "long corridors with their stately pillars" at the center of campus. It is still true, as the philosopher William James said, during his stint as a visiting professor, that the climate is "so friendly ... that every morning wakes one fresh for new amounts of work."

Current Perspectives

In other ways, the university has changed tremendously on its way to recognition as one of the world's great universities. At the hub of a vital and diverse Bay Area, Stanford is an hour's drive south of San Francisco and just a few miles north of the Silicon Valley, an area dotted with computer and high technology firms largely spawned by the university's faculty and graduates. On campus, students and faculty enjoy new libraries, modern laboratories, sports facilities, and comfortable residences. Contemporary sculpture, as well as pieces from the Stanford Museum's extensive collection of sculpture by Auguste Rodin, is placed throughout the campus, providing unexpected pleasures at many turns. At the Stanford Medical Center, world-renowned for its research, teaching, and patient care, scientists and physicians are searching for answers to fundamental questions about health and disease. Ninety miles down the coast, at Stanford's Hopkins Marine Station on the Monterey Bay, scientists are working to better understand the mechanisms of evolution, human development, and ecological systems.

The university is organized into seven schools: Earth Sciences, Education, Engineering, the Graduate School of Business, Humanities and Sciences, Law and Medicine. In addition, there are more than 30 interdisciplinary centers, programs, and research laboratories – including the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace; the Institute for International Studies; the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center; and the Stanford Center for the Study of Families, Children and Youth – where faculty from a wide range of fields bring different perspectives to bear on issues and problems. Stanford's Overseas Studies Program offers students in all fields remarkable opportunities for study abroad, with campuses in Paris, Kyoto, Santiago, Berlin, Oxford, Florence, and Moscow.

Stanford People

By any measure, Stanford's faculty – which numbers approximately 1,700 – is one of the most distinguished in the nation. It includes 17 Nobel laureates, 4 Pulitzer Prize winners, 21 National Medal of Science winners, 124 members of the National Academy of Sciences, 219 members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, 83 members of the National Academy of Engineering, and 24 members of the National Academy of Education. Yet beyond their array of honors, what truly distinguishes Stanford faculty is their commitment to sharing knowledge with their students. The great majority of professors teach undergraduates both in introductory lecture classes and in small advanced seminars.

Currently 13,900 students, of which 6,500 are undergraduates, live and study on campus. About 40 percent come from California, but all 50 states and approximately 100 countries are represented as well. Among undergraduates, 44 percent are African American, Asian American, Hispanic or Native American. Like the faculty, the Stanford student body is distinguished. Approximately 10 students apply to Stanford for every place in the freshman class. Seventy-six Stanford students have been named Rhodes Scholars and 52 have been named Marshall Scholars. Nearly 90 percent of graduating seniors plan to attend graduate or professional schools. Stanford students also shine in a tremendous array of activities outside the classroom – from student government to music, theater, and journalism. Through the Haas Center for Public Service, students participate in dozens of community service activities, such as tutoring programs for children in nearby East Palo Alto, the Hunger Project, and the Arbor Free Clinic.

In the athletic arena, Stanford students have enjoyed tremendous success as well. Stanford fields teams in 34 Division I varsity sports – equally divided between men's and women's teams. Of Stanford's 95 national team titles, 43 have been captured since 1990, by far the most in the nation. Thirty-eight of Stanford's athletes and coaches participated in the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona, 49 competed in Atlanta at the 1996 Games and 34 represented Stanford at the 2000 Games in Sydney – by far the most of any university in the nation. Intramural and club sports are also popular; over 1,000 students take part in the club sports program, while participation in the intramural program has reached 9,000, with many students active in more than one sport.

Looking Ahead

In her address to the Board of Trustees, in 1904, Jane Stanford said, "... Let us not be afraid to outgrow old thoughts and ways, and dare to think on new lines as to the future of the work under our care." Her thoughts echo in the words of former Stanford President Gerhard Casper, who has said, "The true university must reinvent itself every day ... At Stanford, these are days of such reconsideration and fresh support for our fundamental tasks – teaching, learning, and research."

Stanford University still enjoys the original 8,100 acres of grassy fields, eucalyptus groves, and rolling hills that were the Stanfords' generous legacy.

Catcher Ryan Garko hit over .400 to lead Stanford to its third College World Series title game in four years.

Stanford Athletics Home of Champions

No other athletic department in the country can boast of the kind of success that Stanford has accomplished.

“Home of Champions.” Those are the bywords for the Stanford University Athletic Department.

And for good reason. No athletic department in the country can boast of the kind of success that Stanford has accomplished since the 1980s. NCAA team champions. NCAA individual champions. Olympic medalists. Stanford University athletes have been all over the world capturing championships.

The statistics speak for themselves: Stanford University has won 70 NCAA team championships since 1980, the most in the nation; Cardinal athletes have won 45 NCAA championships since 1990 – again the most in the nation. Stanford has brought home 25 NCAA championship trophies the past seven years, including an unprecedented six NCAA team titles in 1996-97. In 1991-92, Stanford athletes took home 29 individual NCAA titles – an NCAA record. Cardinal athletes won 21 individual championships during the 1992-93 season, the second most in history. Already in 2003-04, Stanford has won NCAA titles in men’s and women’s cross country.

Even more impressive is Stanford’s string of nine consecutive Directors’ Cup titles (1995-03). The award honors the nation’s top overall athletic program and with nine straight #1 finishes, it’s no wonder Stanford is considered the dominant athletic program in the nation.

Stanford captured its ninth straight Directors’ Cup in 2002-03 with 1420.5 points, winning the honor by 326.5 points over second place Texas. The Cardinal won a total of two NCAA team crowns with championships in men’s water polo and cross country. The Cardinal added second place national finishes in baseball, women’s volleyball, men’s soccer, women’s cross country, women’s tennis, women’s water polo and synchronized swimming. A total of 13 Stanford teams finished among the nation’s Top Five and 24 among the Top 10, and 28 among the Top 25. The Cardinal also picked up nine individual NCAA titles and 12 team conference championships.

Tiger Woods is one of the PGA’s most successful golfers with victories in all four Major events.

Stanford has now won at least one NCAA team championship for 27 straight years. Cardinal teams have also won four or more NCAA team titles in a single year nine times, an NCAA best.

All totaled, Stanford has won 97 collegiate team titles (87 NCAA championships) and 376 NCAA individual titles. Cardinal women have won an NCAA-best 30 team championships while men’s teams have captured 57 NCAA team titles, third best in the nation. Overall, Stanford’s 87 NCAA team championships rank second in the nation.

In the last 10 years (since 1993-94), Stanford has claimed 37 national team championships and 34 NCAA team titles – the best in the country.

In 2000-01, Stanford won an NCAA Team Championship in women’s tennis and had 15 teams finish in the top five nationally. The Cardinal also had 20 teams place among the top 10 and 26 among the top 25, to go along with 14 individual national champions and 12 conference titles. Stanford finished with 1,359 points in the Sears Directors’ Cup standings to easily outdistance runner-up UCLA’s 1,138.

In 1999-2000, Stanford won the Sears Director’s Cup by a wide margin for the sixth consecutive year. Stanford won team championships in men’s tennis – its 18th overall in that sport – and men’s track and field while placing second nationally in six other sports (baseball, women’s volleyball, men’s water polo, synchronized swimming, women’s tennis and women’s golf).

In 1999-2000, Stanford’s football team won the Pacific-10 Conference championship and played in the Rose Bowl for the first time in 28 years while the men’s basketball team earned a No.

Stanford runner Lauren Fleshman captured her third straight 5,000 meter title at the NCAA championships.

1 seed in the NCAA Tournament, tied for the conference title, finished 27-4 overall and held the nation’s No. 1 ranking during the season. The Cardinal baseball team followed by sharing the Pac-10 crown and advancing to the College World Series, marking the first time in history that a school won Pac-10 championships in football, men’s basketball and baseball in the same year.

Stanford has also enjoyed unequalled success in Olympic competition.

At the 2000 Summer Games in Sydney, Australia, Stanford University was represented by a total of 34 athletes and coaches. The Cardinal contingent won a total of 10 medals – four gold, three silver and three bronze.

At the 1996 Games in Atlanta, Stanford again placed 49 coaches and athletes on Olympic Teams, including three head United States Olympic coaches (Tara VanDerveer, women’s basketball; Richard Quick, women’s swimming; Skip Kenney, men’s swimming). Stanford athletes accounted for 16 gold medals, one silver and one bronze in Atlanta.

At the 1992 Games in Barcelona, Cardinal athletes earned 19 medals – 10 gold, four silver and five bronze. If Stanford were a country, it would’ve placed 13th in the world with its 19 medals and ninth with 10 golds. Thirty-eight Stanford-affiliated athletes and coaches participated in Barcelona while 41 members of the Cardinal family took part in the 1988 Olympic Games in Seoul, Korea.

National titles have become quite commonplace in the Stanford Athletic Department. In 1996-97, Cardinal teams set an NCAA record by winning six NCAA team championships in a single academic year: men's and women's cross country, men's and women's volleyball and men's and women's tennis. Nine other teams finished in the Top Four nationally, including second place finishes in women's swimming, men's swimming, men's water polo and women's synchronized swimming. Stanford also posted third place finishes in women's basketball, baseball and fencing, as well as fourth place finishes in women's golf and women's water polo.

The 1996-97 school year also saw the Cardinal football team advance to the Sun Bowl, the 18th bowl game in school history, the women's basketball team return to the Final Four, the baseball team qualify for the College World Series and the men's basketball team advance to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament for the first time since it won the 1942 NCAA title.

The following year (1997-98) Stanford won NCAA team titles in men's cross country, women's volleyball, men's swimming, women's swimming and men's tennis along with a U.S. Collegiate title in synchronized swimming. Also, 14 teams finished among the nation's Top Five, 19 in the Top 10 and 22 in the Top 20. Other teams finishing among the Top Five nationally included men's basketball, which made its first Final Four appearance in 56 years, women's tennis, men's water polo, women's water polo and fencing.

During the 1998-99 campaign, Stanford won one NCAA team title in women's tennis and one U.S. Collegiate Championship in synchronized swimming. Seven teams placed second in the nation, including men's cross country, men's soccer, men's swimming, women's swimming, men's track and field, men's water polo and women's water polo. Third place finishers included baseball, women's cross country and men's and women's fencing.

Cardinal teams also won 18 conference or regional championships in '98-99 – by far the best performance of any school in the nation. Stanford has now won 149 conference or regional titles since 1991, again the best in the country.

Not only has the Cardinal won an NCAA record six NCAA team championships in a single season (1996-97), but it has also won five NCAA titles in a single year on three occasions: 1991-92, '94-95 and '97-98. Cardinal teams have won four championships in a single academic year on five occasions: 1985-86, '86-87, '92-93, '93-94 and 2001-02.

Stanford has simply dominated in several sports. Under head coach Dick Gould, the Cardinal men's tennis team has won 17 NCAA titles while the women's team has hauled in 13 national titles. The men's swimming program has won eight NCAA team championships, seven under current head coach Skip Kenney while the men's water polo team has captured 11 national titles.

The Cardinal women's swimming team has won nine national titles, seven under current head coach Richard Quick. Quick has been the head coach for the United States Olympic Swimming teams in 1988 (Seoul), 1996 (Atlanta) and 2000 (Sydney.) Tara VanDerveer, the 1996 United States Olympic Head Women's Basketball Coach, has led the Cardinal to two NCAA championships and five appearances in the Final Four.

Baseball coach Mark Marquess, who was the head coach of the gold medal winning 1988 United States Olympic baseball team, led the Cardinal to back-to-back College World Series titles in 1987 and '88. Former men's gymnastics coach Sadao Hamada led the Cardinal to three NCAA championships, now men's volleyball coach Don Shaw guided the Stanford women's volleyball program to four NCAA titles in the 1990s and current head women's volleyball coach John Dunning guided the Cardinal to an NCAA title in his first season in 2001. Former men's golf coach Wally Goodwin led his team to the NCAA title in 1994, the first men's golf title at Stanford since 1953. Vin Lananna joined the championship parade in 1996 by leading both his men's and women's cross country teams to national titles. He came back in 1997 to lead his men's cross country team to another NCAA title and in 2000, his men's track and field team won the first national championship in track at Stanford since 1934. Lananna also led the men's cross country program to the 2002 NCAA Championship. Coaches Andy Gerard and Dena Evans led the men's and women's cross country teams to NCAA titles in 2003, respectively.

Olympic gold medalists are numerous on The Farm. Former Cardinal standout Bob Mathias won back-to-back Olympic decathlon gold medals in 1948 and '52 while swimmers Pablo Morales, Jenny Thompson, Summer Sanders, Janet Evans and Misty Hyman have become household names in the swimming world.

Morales, who helped Stanford win three straight NCAA team championships (1985-87), won three medals at the '84 Games in Los Angeles (one gold, two silver) and two more gold medals at the '92 Games in Barcelona. Evans won three golds in the '88 Games in Seoul and one gold and one silver in Barcelona, while Sanders won four medals in Barcelona; two gold, one silver and one bronze. Thompson is the most decorated athlete in Olympic history with eight gold medals, a silver and a bronze. Hyman added her name to the list of Stanford swimming greats by winning the 2000 Olympic Gold Medal in the 200 meter butterfly to pull off one of the biggest upsets of the Sydney Olympiad.

Some of the great student-athletes in Stanford history include Tiger Woods and Tom Watson (golf), John McEnroe, Roscoe Tanner and Tim Mayotte (men's tennis), Kim Oden and Kristin Klein (women's volleyball), Kristin Folkl (basketball/volleyball), Jack McDowell and Mike Mussina (baseball), Julie Foudy (women's soccer), Hank Luisetti, Brevin Knight and Mark Madsen (men's basketball), Jennifer Azzi and Kate Starbird (women's basketball), Jim Plunkett, John Elway and Troy Walters (football), Debi Thomas (figure skating), Eric Heiden (speed skating) and the great Ernie Nevers (football), to name a few.

It's no wonder Stanford University is often referred to as the "NCAA's Champion of Champions."
