

STANFORD TENNIS & CASHIN COMPANY SALUTE THE EAST PALO ALTO TENNIS & TUTORING PROGRAM

The East Palo Alto Tennis and Tutoring Program (EPATT) is proud to be associated with Stanford University and Stanford Tennis. Founded by 1982 Stanford All-American, Jeff Arons, we are now in our 16th year. EPATT provides one-on-one academic tutoring and group tennis instruction to one hundred disadvantaged youth per year. This unique endeavor, under the auspices of the Youth Tennis Advantage, strives to impact children academically, athletically, and socially. EPATT recently received the Stanford University Community Partnership Award for its work with the East Palo Alto community.

Tutoring sessions are conducted at the Taube Family Tennis Center after school and in the evenings in the Gwen and Victor Riches Pinewood Tutorial Rooms. The program facilities include four classrooms, and counter space, which includes a library and computer center with internet access. More than 120 Stanford students volunteer as academic tutors and tennis instructors per year.

Stanford tennis team members hope these youths can be afforded some of the same opportunities they themselves have received as young people. An anonymous foundation provides season admissions to tennis matches for program participants. If you are interested in becoming a member of the East Palo Alto Stanford "Team," contact Stanford Tennis Director Dick Gould or EPATT Executive Director Dave Higaki at (650) 725-4450.

Lele Forood

Women's Head Coach

1976 Stanford
All-American

1997 ITA National Assistant
Coach of the Year

2003 Wilson/ITA
National
Coach of the Year

Head women's tennis coach Lele Forood, the 2003 Wilson/ITA National Coach of the Year, enters her fifth year at Stanford after winning her third NCAA team title in four years. The Cardinal has also posted one runner-up finish during her tenure. After serving as an assistant and associate head coach at Stanford for 13 years, Forood has made the most of her time with the Cardinal women's tennis team, guiding them to a 111-3 record. The Cardinal has won 183 of its last 187 matches over the past six seasons.

Last season, Forood led the Cardinal to a perfect 29-0 record, the school's 13th NCAA Championship and Stanford's 17th-straight Pac-10 title. Cardinal sophomore Amber Liu was crowned the 2004 NCAA Singles Champion and doubles pair Erin Burdette and Lauren Barnikow were named the ITA and Pac-10 Doubles Team of the Year.

In Forood's fourth year, Stanford posted a 6-0 record in the NCAA Tournament with five-straight 4-0 wins and a 4-1 victory over UCLA in the title match. Forood guided the Cardinal to its 13th NCAA Team Championship in the 24-year history of the event and its eighth undefeated season in school history. Stanford posted a 29-0 record, the second undefeated season in her tenure.

Forood became the first female head coach to win the NCAA team title in 2001. The championship was the first for Forood, who was an assistant coach for five national title runs from 1989-1991 and in 1997 and 1999. She guided the Cardinal to a stellar 30-0 mark in her first complete season at the helm, as well as the 2000 Pac-10 Championship and a final No. 1 ranking. That year marked the ninth perfect season and the first in over 10 years.

Forood replaced one of Stanford's all-time great coaches in Frank Brennan, who retired in June 2000 after 21 years and 10 national championships.

She was an assistant coach for 10 years before being promoted to associate head coach in March of 2000. In 1997, Forood's efforts in helping lead the Cardinal to the NCAA title were recognized as she was named the Division I National Assistant Coach of the Year by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association.

An All-American at Stanford in 1976, the first year they started the All-American accolades, Forood was a National Collegiate singles finalist as a freshman and a semifinalist during her sophomore campaign. Competing internationally, she captured the gold medal in both singles and doubles at the 1975 Pan American Games. She was also the 1975 national amateur singles and doubles champion. Forood was ranked as high as 30th on the women's professional tour, and she had an impressive victory over Wimbledon Champion and second-seed Virginia Wade at the 1977 U.S. Open. At the 1976 U.S. Open, Forood teamed with Rachel Giscafre to reach the doubles semifinals.

Forood was a member of the Board of Women's Tennis Associates from 1979-1987 and served as its secretary-treasurer from 1983-87. She has been extremely active in promoting WTA events, and was the recipient of the prestigious WTA Player Service Award in 1983. After the tour and before coming back to Stanford, she promoted the first professional women's tour event in France from 1986-1988 at Strasbourg.

A native of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Forood was a member of Stanford's class of 1978, graduating with a degree in sociology.

Lele Forood was named the 2003 Wilson/ITA National Coach of the Year.

The Stanford women's tennis team visited the White House after capturing the 2002 NCAA title.

Frankie Brennan, the 2003 ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year and son of legendary former head coach Frank Brennan, is now in his 10th year as an assistant coach on The Farm. In the last nine years, Brennan has tutored 15 student-athletes to 36 All-America awards, has helped the Cardinal to a 251-12 record, as well as, nine-straight Pac-10 titles, five national championships and three runner-up finishes in the NCAA Tournament.

Brennan was a two-time All-Conference player for the University of Redlands, where he helped the team to a Final Four appearance in 1993 and a fifth-place national finish in 1994. He was also a two-time All-Conference player down the road at Foothill Junior College, where he helped lead the team to a semifinal appearance in the state championships in 1991 and a runner-up finish in 1992.

In 1991, Brennan was voted as The Times Tribune Athlete of the Week twice, named MVP of the tennis team and nominated as The Times Tribune Athlete of the Year. He was also nominated for the Foothill College Male Athlete of the Year.

Brennan was head coach of the women's tennis team at the University of Redlands in 1995 before coming to work for his father in 1996. He has also worked for the United States Tennis Association, assisting in the Area Training Center and serving as a USTA zonal coach. Brennan has also been a hitting partner for Venus Williams and other top professionals over the last four years at the Bank of the West Classic. Brennan also played a few years on the satellite circuit.

Brennan prepped at St. Francis and Los Altos High schools, where he was a four-year letterwinner in both tennis and football. He finished his senior year on the East Coast at Mt. St. Joseph High School in Vermont where he was a standout running back on their State Championship football team.

Frankie Brennan

Women's Assistant Coach

2003 ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year

A third generation coach, Brennan and his family have been involved with coaching tennis for years. His grandfather was Billie Jean King's coach for 18 years as well as the personal instructor to former president Jimmy Carter and his family while he was in the White House. In May of 2002, Inside Tennis named the "Brennan Clan," Frank Sr., Jr and III, to their top-10 list of "Guys Who Have Lent A Hand" to women's tennis.

Brennan resides in Mountain View, Calif., with wife, Shauna, a speech pathologist in the Hillsborough School District, a soon to be eight-year old daughter, Madeline, and dog, Tide. They welcomed a baby girl Francesca on April 17, 2004 into the family.

Julie Scott Thu, a former Stanford player from 1994-98 and a three-time All-American, will be helping the Cardinal this season in her first year as a volunteer assistant coach.

Scott Thu was a two-time NCAA Semifinalist in both singles and doubles and was ranked nationally in the collegiate top-five. She captured the Pac-10 Singles Championship in 1996 and Julie Scott a four-time All-American who earned the ITA/Cissie Leary Award for Sportsmanship in 1997, returns as a volunteer assistant coach.

1997 and served as captain of the Cardinal squad for two seasons. In 1997, Scott Thu won the deciding match at the NCAA Team Championship when the Cardinal won a 5-1 decision over Florida to clinch the title.

She currently holds the Stanford record for most dual match victories in a single season with a 29-1 record. In addition to her on-court achievements, Scott Thu was awarded the National Cissie Leary Sportsmanship Award and the Arthur Ashe Leadership Award.

After graduation, Scott Thu competed on the WTA tour for two years. As a pro, she won several challenger events, earned a world ranking of top-200 in singles and top-100 in doubles, and was able to compete in Wimbledon and the U.S. Open. For the past three years, Scott Thu has served as the assistant women's tennis coach at Rice University in Houston, where she gained valuable coaching experience. She is married to Chris Thu, a Stanford resident in anesthesia. They have two sons, Hunter (two years old) and Carson (two months old).

Junior Amber Liu (left), a two-time defending singles champion, along with Senior Erin Burdette and Junior Alice Barnes are looking to defend Stanford's 2004 NCAA title.

The Stanford women's tennis team enters the 2004-05 season looking to defend the national team title that the squad reclaimed last season. After taking their 17th-straight Pacific-10 Championship and recording a perfect 29-0 record, the Cardinal won its 13th NCAA Championship. Although head coach Lele Forood has won three NCAA titles in her four years at the helm of the Stanford program, her goals remain the same, as each new year brings a new set of challenges and a new group of student-athletes reaching for their goals.

Despite the loss of Emilia Anderson and Lauren Barnikow, the Cardinal has not slowed down in pursuit of another outstanding year for the team and the individuals. Stanford returns two-time NCAA Singles Champion Amber Liu, as well as All-Americans Erin Burdette and Alice Barnes.

Barnes and Burdette began the 2005 season with a No. 7 ranking in doubles by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association and the duo already earned the Pac-10 Indoors Championship title in January. In the fall, Barnes and Burdette won the ITA Northwest Regional to earn a bid to Nationals, where they fell in the championship match.

The 2004-05 Cardinal squad is a strong mix of experience and enthusiasm. Seniors Burdette and Kara Guzman provide a solid base for the young team, while juniors Barnes, Joanna Kao, Liu and Jessica Leck provide even more experience. With three returning All-American upperclassmen to rely on, the younger members of the squad have the opportunity to learn and play with the best in the nation every day in the Taube Tennis Center.

Barnes begins the year as the Cardinal's top-ranked singles player checking in at No. 12. She finished her sophomore campaign with a No. 11 ranking after posting a 39-7 record and a 26-1 mark in double play. Barnes earned All-America honors in singles as well as First-Team All-Pac-10 honors.

Burdette, ranked No. 22 in the nation to start the year, was named ITA and Pac-10 Doubles Team of the Year with partner Lauren Barnikow after finishing season ranked No. 1 by the ITA and notching a 31-3 record. She garnered All-America accolades for third-straight season and earned Second-Team All-Pac-10 honors. She concluded her junior campaign with a No. 25 ranking in singles after posting a 25-5 overall singles record and 19-2 dual record.

Liu did not compete in the 2004 fall season, taking a much-deserved rest after capturing her second-straight NCAA Singles Championship in May with a 10-0 record in the postseason. Now a junior, Liu will return to the courts as she looks for her second team title and third individual title. She earned First-Team all-conference honors and All-America honors for the second year in a row. Liu finished her sophomore season with the No. 1 ranking in the ITA singles rankings.

Guzman, Kao and Leck provide extra depth to the Cardinal and have battled back from injury and illness and are consistently willing to step up to new challenges and fill important roles on the team.

Sophomores Theresa Logar and Anne Yelsey were an important part of last season's championship, and they will be even more pivotal to this squad's success.

Logar earned honorable mention all-conference honors and finished her rookie campaign with a No. 42 ranking in singles. Logar posted a 38-4 overall record, including a perfect 27-0 dual record. In the postseason, Logar helped the Cardinal win its 13th team title with a 5-0 record at the team championship.

Yelsey has already made improvements after being a consistent performer for the Cardinal last season. Yelsey broke into the top-100 in the ITA singles rankings, earning the No. 71 spot in the preseason rankings. She posted four wins in the fall season and advanced to the Round of 16 at the ITA Northwest Regional Championship before falling to the eventual champion.

The veteran core of this year's squad is complimented by an impressive pair of freshmen, who have made an immediate impact on their team and have quickly garnered national attention. In the fall season, Whitney Deason and Lejla Hodzic proved themselves early on – playing each other in the finals of the Arizona State/Thunderbird Invitational. The duo also showed off as a team, making it to the title match of the ITA Northwest Regional Championship, where they were eliminated by Barnes and Burdette.

Tough competition throughout the year prepares the Cardinal for the postseason, and the Cardinal will not be able to rest on its laurels at any point this season.

Stanford will compete in a number of tough duals after competing in the 2004 ITA/USTA Women's National Indoor Tennis Championships. The Pacific-10 Conference season opens at home with Washington, Washington State, UCLA and USC. The Cardinal also has home duals against Pac-10 foes Oregon, Arizona, Arizona State and California.

Sophomore Theresa Logar swept her dual matches at NCAAs to help Stanford win its third title in four years.

Coach Lele Forood says: "Whitney was a top junior player for years, but she had to sit out most of her last year with a back problem that has healed. She won her first collegiate tournament this fall and it certainly won't be the last. She has surprising power off the ground with very good consistency to complement it and her practices are extremely focused. Her serve is improving, as is her ability to use the whole court, all of which will make her game very tough to deal with. She competes well all the time and if she follows in the footsteps of our last Lone Star standout, volunteer assistant coach Julie Scott Thu, we will truly have something to look forward to over the next four years."

She leads by example with her outstanding competitive attitude and her teammates take notice particularly on match days. Her serve keeps improving, she covers court better all the time and she continues to add shots to her powerful repertoire. This enhanced game combined with the ability to play at her best in big matches will make her junior year possibly the best one yet and that's really saying something with Amber's record!"

Her power and ability to put a ball away from anywhere on the court serves as her base game and hard work to bring this lefty a serve to match are enjoying great success. A great game is only topped by a very competitive attitude and no one on this team is more ready to play on game day than Theresa. Her game will show off more shots this year and combined with all of the intangibles intact she will play a very important role again in this team's attempt at another championship season."

Millions of volumes are housed in many libraries throughout the campus.

On October 1, 1891, the 465 new students who were on hand for opening day ceremonies at Leland Stanford Junior University greeted Leland and Jane Stanford enthusiastically, with a chant they had made up and rehearsed only that morning. Wah-hoo! Wah-hoo! L-S-J-U! Stanford! Its wild and spirited tone symbolized the excitement of this bold adventure. As a pioneer faculty member recalled, "Hope was in every heart, and the presiding spirit of freedom prompted us to dare greatly."

For the Stanfords on that day, the university was the realization of a dream and a fitting tribute to the memory of their only son, who had died of typhoid fever weeks before his sixteenth birthday. Far from the nation's center of culture and unencumbered by tradition or ivy, the new university drew students from all over the country: many from California; some who followed professors hired from other colleges and universities; and some simply seeking adventure in the West. Though there were many difficulties during the first months – housing was inadequate, microscopes and books were late in arriving from the East – the first year foretold greatness. As Jane Stanford wrote in the summer of 1892, "Even our fondest hopes have been realized."

Stanford University The University at a Glance

Ideas of "Practical Education"

Governor and Mrs. Stanford had come from families of modest means and had built their way up through a life of hard work. So it was natural that their first thoughts were to establish an institution where young men and women could "grapple successfully with the practicalities of life." As their thoughts matured, these ideas of "practical education" enlarged to the concept of producing cultured and useful citizens who were well-prepared for professional success.

More than one hundred years later, the university still enjoys the original 8,180 acres (almost 13 square miles) of grassy fields, eucalyptus groves, and rolling hills that were the Stanfords' generous legacy, as well as the Quadrangle of "long corridors with their stately pillars" at the center of campus. It is still true, as the philosopher William James said, during his stint as a visiting professor, that the climate is "so friendly ... that every morning wakes one fresh for new amounts of work."

Current Perspectives

In other ways, the university has changed tremendously on its way to recognition as one of the world's great universities. At the hub of a vital and diverse Bay Area, Stanford is an hour's drive south of San Francisco and just a few miles north of the Silicon Valley, an area dotted with computer and high technology firms largely spawned by the university's faculty and graduates. On campus, students and faculty enjoy new libraries, modern laboratories, sports facilities, and comfortable residences. Contemporary sculpture, as well as pieces from the Stanford Museum's extensive collection of sculpture by Auguste Rodin, is placed throughout the campus, providing unexpected pleasures at many turns. At the Stanford Medical Center, world-renowned for its research, teaching, and patient care, scientists and physicians are searching for answers to fundamental questions about health and disease. Ninety miles down the coast, at Stanford's Hopkins Marine Station on the Monterey Bay, scientists are working to better understand the mechanisms of evolution, human development, and ecological systems.

The university is organized into seven schools: Earth Sciences, Education, Engineering, the Graduate School of Business, Humanities and Sciences, Law and Medicine. In addition, there are more than 30 interdisciplinary centers, programs, and research laboratories – including the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace; the Institute for International Studies; the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center; and the Stanford Center for the Study of Families, Children and Youth – where faculty from a wide range of fields bring different perspectives to bear on issues and problems. Stanford's Overseas Studies Program offers students in all fields remarkable opportunities for study abroad, with campuses in Paris, Kyoto, Santiago, Berlin, Oxford, Florence, and Moscow.

Stanford People

By any measure, Stanford's faculty – which numbers approximately 1,700 – is one of the most distinguished in the nation. It includes 17 Nobel laureates, four Pulitzer Prize winners, 21 National Medal of Science winners, 124 members of the National Academy of Sciences, 219 members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, 83 members of the National Academy of Engineering, and 24 members of the National Academy of Education. Yet beyond their array of honors, what truly distinguishes Stanford faculty is their commitment to sharing knowledge with their students. The great majority of professors teach undergraduates both in introductory lecture classes and in small advanced seminars.

Currently 14,339 students, of which 6,731 are undergraduates, live and study on campus. About 40 percent come from California, but all 50 states and approximately 100 countries are represented as well. Among undergraduates, 44 percent are African American, Asian American, Hispanic or Native American. Like the faculty, the Stanford student body is distinguished. Approximately 10 students apply to Stanford for every place in the freshman class. Seventy-six Stanford students have been named Rhodes Scholars and 52 have been named Marshall Scholars. Nearly 90 percent of graduating seniors plan to attend graduate or professional schools. Stanford students also shine in a tremendous array of activities outside the classroom – from student government to music, theater, and journalism. Through the Haas Center for Public Service, students participate in dozens of community service activities, such as tutoring programs for children in nearby East Palo Alto, the Hunger Project, and the Arbor Free Clinic.

In the athletic arena, Stanford students have enjoyed tremendous success as well. Stanford fields teams in 34 Division I varsity sports – equally divided between men's and women's teams. Of Stanford's 98 national team titles, 48 have been captured since 1990, by far the most in the nation. Thirty-eight of Stanford's athletes and coaches participated in the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona, 49 competed in Atlanta at the 1996 Games, 34 at the 2000 Games in Sydney and 42 represented Stanford in Athens in 2004 – by far the most of any university in the nation. Intramural and club sports are also popular; over 1,000 students take part in the club sports program, while participation in the intramural program has reached 9,000, with many students active in more than one sport.

Looking Ahead

In her address to the Board of Trustees in 1904, Jane Stanford said, "... Let us not be afraid to outgrow old thoughts and ways, and dare to think on new lines as to the future of the work under our care." Her thoughts echo in the words of former Stanford President Gerhard Casper, who has said, "The true university must reinvent itself every day ... At Stanford, these are days of such reconsideration and fresh support for our fundamental tasks – teaching, learning, and research."

Stanford University still enjoys the original 8,180 acres of grassy fields, eucalyptus groves, and rolling hills that were the Stanfords' generous legacy.

Stanford Athletics Home of Champions

11-time NCAA champion Tara Kirk became the first Stanford student-athlete to earn Collegiate Woman of the Year honors in 2003-04.

“Home of Champions.” Those are the bywords for the Stanford University Athletic Department.

And for good reason. No athletic department in the country can boast of the kind of success that Stanford has accomplished since the 1980s. NCAA team champions. NCAA individual champions. Olympic medalists. Stanford University athletes have been all over the world capturing championships.

The statistics speak for themselves: Stanford University has won 71 NCAA team championships since 1980, the most in the nation; Cardinal athletes have won 48 NCAA championships since 1990 – again the most in the nation. Stanford has brought home 26 NCAA championship trophies the past seven years, including an unprecedented six NCAA team titles in 1996-97. In 1991-92, Stanford athletes took home 29 individual NCAA titles – an NCAA record. Cardinal athletes won 21 individual championships during the 1992-93 season, the second most in history.

Even more impressive is Stanford’s string of 10 consecutive United States Sports Academy Directors’ Cup titles (1995-04). The award honors the nation’s top overall athletic program and with 10 straight #1 finishes, it’s no wonder Stanford is considered the dominant athletic program in the nation.

Stanford captured its 10th straight Directors’ Cup in 2003-04 with 1337.25 points, winning the honor by 111 points over second place Michigan. The Cardinal won a total of three NCAA team crowns with championships in men’s and women’s cross country, and women’s tennis and had Top Five finishes in men’s water polo, women’s basketball, men’s swimming, women’s swimming, men’s gymnastics, women’s gymnastics, synchronized swimming, softball, men’s tennis and women’s water polo. A total of 13 Stanford teams finished among the nation’s Top Five and 21 among the Top 10. The Cardinal also picked up eight individual NCAA titles and 11 team conference championships.

Tiger Woods is one of the PGA’s most successful golfers with victories in all four Majors.

WT-28

Stanford has now won at least one NCAA team championship for 27 straight years. Cardinal teams have also won four or more NCAA team titles in a single year nine times, an NCAA best.

All totaled, Stanford has won 98 collegiate team titles (88 NCAA championships) and 386 NCAA individual titles. Cardinal women have won an NCAA-best 31 team championships while men’s teams have captured 57 NCAA team titles, third-best in the nation. Overall, Stanford’s 88 NCAA team championships rank second in the nation.

In the last 11 years (since 1993-94), Stanford has claimed 38 national team championships and 35 NCAA team titles – the best in the country.

During the 2002-03 campaign, Stanford teams captured two NCAA team championships, 14 conference titles and had 24 teams finish among the nation’s Top 10 as it won its ninth straight Directors’ Cup by a wide margin over Texas.

Stanford was equally impressive in 2001-02, winning four NCAA team championships and the Directors’ Cup once again. The Cardinal took home national titles in women’s volleyball, men’s water polo, women’s water polo and women’s tennis, placed 11 teams in the Top Five and 21 in the Top 10.

In 1999-2000, Stanford’s football team won the Pacific-10 Conference championship and played in the Rose Bowl for the first time in 28 years while the men’s basketball team earned a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament, tied for the conference title, finished 27-4 overall and held the nation’s No. 1 ranking during the season. The Cardinal baseball team followed by sharing the Pac-10 crown and advancing to the College World Series, marking the first time in history that a school won Pac-10 championships in football, men’s basketball and baseball in the same year.

Stanford has also enjoyed unequalled success in Olympic competition.

Stanford was represented by 42 affiliates at the most recent Olympic Games that took place in 2004 in Athens, Greece. The Cardinal totaled 17 medals (three gold, seven silver, seven bronze).

At the 2000 Summer Games in Sydney, Australia, Stanford University was represented by a total of 34 athletes and coaches. The Cardinal contingent won a total of 10 medals – four gold, three silver and three bronze.

At the 1996 Games in Atlanta, Stanford again placed 49 coaches and athletes on Olympic Teams, including three head United States Olympic coaches (Tara VanDerveer, women’s basketball; Richard Quick, women’s swimming; Skip Kenney, men’s swimming). Stanford athletes accounted for 16 gold medals, one silver and one bronze in Atlanta.

At the 1992 Games in Barcelona, Cardinal athletes earned 19 medals – 10 gold, four silver and five bronze. If Stanford were a country, it would’ve placed 13th in the world with its 19 medals and ninth with 10 golds. Thirty-eight Stanford-affiliated athletes and coaches participated in Barcelona while 41 members of the Cardinal family took part in the 1988 Olympic Games in Seoul, Korea.

The Stanford men’s basketball team owned a No. 1 ranking and a 26-game winning streak in 2003-04 en route to their fourth Pac-10 title in six years.

National titles have become quite commonplace in the Stanford Athletic Department. In 1996-97, Cardinal teams set an NCAA record by winning six NCAA team championships in a single academic year: men's and women's cross country, men's and women's volleyball and men's and women's tennis. Nine other teams finished in the Top Four nationally, including second place finishes in women's swimming and men's swimming.

The 1996-97 school year also saw the Cardinal football team advance to the Sun Bowl, the 18th bowl game in school history, the women's basketball team return to the Final Four, the baseball team qualify for the College World Series and the men's basketball team advance to the Sweet Sixteen of the NCAA Tournament for the first time since it won the 1942 NCAA title.

The following year (1997-98) Stanford won six national team titles in men's cross country, women's volleyball, men's swimming, women's swimming and men's tennis along with a U.S. Collegiate title in synchronized swimming. Also, 14 teams finished among the nation's Top Five, 19 in the Top 10 and 22 in the Top 20. Other teams finishing among the Top Five nationally included men's basketball, which made its first Final Four appearance in 56 years, women's tennis, men's water polo, women's water polo and fencing.

During the 1998-99 campaign, Stanford won one NCAA team title in women's tennis and one U.S. Collegiate Championship in synchronized swimming while seven teams placed second in the nation. During the 1999-2000 season, Stanford won two NCAA team championships (men's tennis, men's track and field) and placed second nationally in six other sports. The 2000-01 campaign saw the Cardinal win one NCAA championship (women's tennis) and have 15 other teams place among the nation's top five.

Stanford has won 160 conference or regional titles since 1991, again the best in the country. Cardinal teams won a record 18 conference or regional championships in 1998-99 – by far the best performance of any school in the nation.

Not only has the Cardinal won an NCAA record six NCAA team championships in a single season (1996-97), but it has also won five NCAA titles in a single year on three occasions: 1991-92, '94-95 and '97-98. Cardinal teams have won four championships in a single academic year on five occasions: 1985-86, '86-87, '92-93, '93-94 and 2001-02.

Stanford has simply dominated in several sports. Under former head coach Dick Gould, the Cardinal men's tennis team won 17 NCAA titles while the women's team has hauled in 14 national titles, including 10 under former head coach Frank Brennan and three in the last four years under current coach Lele Forood. The men's swimming program has won eight NCAA team championships, seven under current head coach Skip Kenney, while the men's water polo team has captured 11 national titles.

The Cardinal women's swimming and diving team has won nine national titles, seven under current head coach Richard Quick. Quick has been the women's head coach for the U.S. Olympic Swimming teams in 1988 (Seoul), 1996 (Atlanta) and 2000 (Sydney). He was also a women's assistant coach in 1992 (Barcelona) and 2004 (Athens), as well as an assistant for a combined team in 1984 (Los Angeles). Tara VanDerveer, the 1996 United States Olympic head women's basketball coach, has led the Cardinal to two NCAA championships and five appearances in the Final Four.

Baseball coach Mark Marquess, who was the head coach of the gold medal winning 1988 United States Olympic baseball team, led the Cardinal to back-to-back College World Series titles in 1987 and '88. Former men's gymnastics coach Sadao Hamada led the Cardinal to three NCAA championships, current men's volleyball coach Don Shaw guided the Stanford women's volleyball program to four NCAA titles in the 1990's and current head women's volleyball coach John Dunning guided the Cardinal to an NCAA title in his first season in 2001. Former men's golf coach Wally Goodwin led his team to the NCAA title in 1994, the first men's golf title at Stanford since 1953. Former Director of Track Vin Lananna joined the championship parade in 1996 by leading both his men's and women's cross country teams to national titles. He came back in 1997 to lead his men's cross country team to another NCAA title and in 2000, his men's track and field team won the first national championship in track at Stanford since 1934. Lananna also led the men's cross country program to the 2002 NCAA Championship. Current men's water polo coach John Vargas (2002) and men's cross country coach Andy Gerard (2003) won NCAA titles in their first years on the job, while Dena Evans coached the women's cross country team to a national championship in 2003.

Olympic gold medalists are numerous on The Farm. Former Cardinal standout Bob Mathias won back-to-back Olympic decathlon gold medals in 1948 and '52 while swimmers Pablo Morales, Jenny Thompson, Summer Sanders, Janet Evans and Misty Hyman have become household names in the swimming world.

Morales, who helped Stanford win three straight NCAA team championships (1985-87), won three medals at the '84 Games in Los Angeles (one gold, two silver) and two more gold medals at the '92 Games in Barcelona. Evans won three golds in the '88 Games in Seoul and one gold and one silver in Barcelona, while Sanders won four medals in Barcelona; two gold, one silver and one bronze. Thompson is the most decorated athlete in Olympic history with 12 medals (eight gold, three silver, one bronze). Hyman added her name to the list of Stanford swimming greats by winning the 2000 Olympic gold medal in the 200 meter butterfly to pull off one of the biggest upsets of the Sydney Olympiad.

Some of the great student-athletes in Stanford history include Tiger Woods and Tom Watson (golf); John McEnroe, Roscoe Tanner and Tim Mayotte (men's tennis); Kim Oden, Kristin Klein, Ogonna Nnamani and Logan Tom (women's volleyball); Kristin Folk (women's basketball/volleyball); Jack McDowell and Mike Mussina (baseball); Julie Foudy (women's soccer); Hank Luisetti, Brevin Knight and Mark Madsen (men's basketball); Jennifer Azzi and Kate Starbird (women's basketball); Jim Plunkett, John Elway and Troy Walters (football); Debi Thomas (figure skating); Eric Heiden (speed skating); and the great Ernie Nevers (football), just to name a few.

It's no wonder Stanford University is often referred to as the "NCAA's Champion of Champions."
