First Serve provides the curriculum and competition at no cost to tennis and education programs.

EPATT provides one-on-one academic tutoring and group tennis instruction for over 100 children in the kindergarten through 12th grades. This unique model helps the children reach their potential academically, athletically and socially. EPATT has become the national model for education and tennis programs and flourishes year round at the Taube Family Tennis Center on the Stanford University campus. ## What To Watch For In 2009-10

Home Sweet Home

Stanford enters the 2010 dual match campaign having won 151 consecutive matches (121 regular season, 30 NCAA Tournament) at home- a remarkable streak that spans 10 seasons and is recognized as the longest active home winning streak among all sports in Division I athletics. The Cardinal has not lost at the Taube Family Tennis Stadium since a 5-4 setback against No. 4 California back on Feb. 27, 1999. Stanford has nine regular-season matches on tap in 2010, beginning with UC Davis on Feb. 2.

Doubles Experience Leads The Way

Just like the men's team, the women's squad boasts one of the best doubles team in the country. After finishing as the national runners-up in 2009, junior Hilary Barte and senior Lindsay Burdette enter the spring season ranked No. 1 and the duo remains a serious contender to win the national championship. Barte and Burdette have chalked up a stellar 13-1 record so far in 2009-10, already claiming tournament titles at the ITA Northwest Regional Championships, ITA National Indoor Championships and NCTC Classic. The duo has not lost since Oct. 9- a span of 12 matches.

The Legacy Continues

The Burdette family name will continue to live on for Stanford tennis fans with the addition of freshman Mallory Burdette on The Farm. The youngest Burdette to play at Stanford, Mallory earned a No. 16 national ranking following a fall season that saw her finish 12-2 while posting a 4-2 mark against nationally-ranked foes. Mallory joins her sister, senior Lindsay, who has received All-America accolades in doubles during all three seasons. And of course the legacy began in 2002 with oldest sister Erin, who was a four-time All-American and capped her career with the 2005 NCAA doubles title.

Depth In The Lineup

Head coach Lele Forood will be able to round out her talented lineup with junior Carolyn McVeigh, sophomore Veronica Li and freshman Stacey Tan. McVeigh, who finished 5-3 during the fall season, has proven to be a dependable option for Stanford at the Nos. 4-6 spots during her first two seasons. Li, 6-3 during the preseason, developed nicely as the year went on and finished 19-11 as a rookie playing mainly at the Nos. 4 and 5 positions. Tan might eventually work her way higher in the lineup, as the highly-touted freshman capped a 10-5 fall season with a singles championship at the Freeman Memorial Invitational.

Pac-10 Will Be Challenging

One of the top conferences last year, the Pac-10 should once again represent a formidable league in 2010. The national runner-up for back-to-back seasons, California opens the spring season ranked No. 3. USC checks in at No. 9, followed by UCLA and Stanford at Nos. 12 and 13, respectively. Washington (No. 24) is clearly a program on the rise, as evidenced by last year's jump to the NCAA Sweet 16, while Arizona State (No. 30) continues to improve as well. It's quite possible the Pac-10 can once again place almost all of its programs in the postseason.

Lele Forood

The Peter and Helen Bing
Director of Women's Tennis
Stanford (1978)

10th Season

1997 ITA National Asst. Coach of the Year

2003 Wilson/ITA National Coach of the Year

Head coach Lele Forood, the 2003 National Coach of the Year and three-time Pac-10 Coach of the Year (2004, 2005, 2007), begins her 10th year at the helm of the Cardinal.

Under Forood's guidance, Stanford has solidified its reputation as the nation's premier women's tennis program. During her tenure, the Cardinal has compiled an unthinkable 233-15 record while capturing five NCAA team titles and eight of the last nine Pac-10 championships.

Stanford has maintained two lengthy, eye-popping streaks under Forood's tutelage. Last year, the Cardinal made its 28th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance and has now tallied a 44-4 postseason ledger during Forood's tenure. Additionally, Stanford is unbeaten in its last 151 home matches at the Taube Family Tennis Stadium (121 regular season, 30 NCAA Tournament) as the home court domination dates back to the 1999 season and is recognized as the longest active home winning streak of any intercollegiate sport in NCAA Division I history.

After serving as an assistant and associate head coach at Stanford for 13 years, Forood has clearly made the most of her time with the Cardinal.

Last year, Stanford finished 19-5 overall while reaching the round of 16 at the NCAA Championships for the 24th straight season. The Cardinal finished third in the Pac-10 at 6-2, snapping the program's streak of 21 consecutive Pac-10 titles. Meanwhile, Hilary Barte earned All-America honors in both singles and doubles for the second straight year and teamed with Lindsay Burdette for a runner-up finish in the NCAA Doubles Championship final.

Prior to suffering a 4-3 dual match loss to Georgia Tech on Feb. 3, 2007, Forood directed the Cardinal to a historic 89-match winning streak that spanned three undefeated seasons (2004-06) and resulted in three NCAA titles, three Pac-10 championships and numerous conference and national accolades along the way.

In 2006, Forood guided the Cardinal to its 15th NCAA Championship in the 25-year history of the tournament. The Cardinal posted a 4-1 victory over Miami in the title match, claiming the hardware on its home court. Five different players (Alice Barnes, Celia Durkin, Amber Liu, Theresa Logar and Anne Yelsey) earned All-America honors in the process.

Forood led Stanford to a 27-0 overall record and a 4-0 shutout of Texas in the 2005 NCAA Championship match. Barnes and Erin Burdette, the ITA Doubles Team of the Year, were crowned NCAA champions, besting teammates Liu and Yelsey in the final. The Cardinal also won its 18th Pac-10 team title, while Barnes and Yelsey captured the Pac-10 doubles championship.

The first of three straight undefeated seasons occurred in 2004, as the Cardinal downed UCLA 4-1 in the NCAA Championship match. Forood helped Liu win her second straight NCAA Singles title, while the doubles pair of Lauren Barnikow and Erin Burdette was named the ITA and Pac-10 Doubles Team of the Year.

Forood became the first female head coach to win the NCAA team title in 2001. The championship was the first for Forood, who was an assistant coach for five national title runs from 1989-1991 and in 1997 and 1999. She guided the Cardinal to a stellar 30-0 mark in her rookie season at the helm, in addition to the 2000 Pac-10 championship and a final No. 1 national ranking. That year marked the seventh perfect season overall and first in over 10 years.

Lele Forood was named the 2003 Wilson/ITA National Coach of the Year, and has guided the Cardinal to the national title five times in eight years as head coach.

She was an assistant coach for 10 years under legendary skipper Frank Brennan before being promoted to associate head coach in March of 2000. In 1997, Forood's efforts in helping lead the Cardinal to the NCAA title were recognized nationally as she was named the ITA Division I National Assistant Coach of the Year.

An All-American at Stanford 1976 – the first year All-American accolades were awarded – Forood was a National Collegiate singles finalist as a freshman and a semifinalist during her sophomore campaign in leading Stanford to two second place national finishes. Competing internationally, she captured the gold medal in both singles and doubles at the 1975 Pan American Games. She was also the 1975 national amateur singles and doubles champion. Forood was ranked as high as 30th on the women's professional tour, and she had an impressive victory over Wimbledon champion and second-seed Virginia Wade at the 1977 U.S. Open. At the 1976 U.S. Open, Forood teamed with Rachel Giscafre to reach the doubles semifinals.

Forood was a member of the Board of Women's Tennis Associates from 1979-1987 and served as its secretary-treasurer from 1983-87. She has been extremely active in promoting WTA events, and was the recipient of the prestigious WTA Player Service Award in 1983. After the tour and before coming back to Stanford, she promoted the first professional women's tour event in France from 1986-1988 at Strasbourg.

A San Francisco native who grew up in Mill Valley, New York and then Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Forood earned a degree in sociology from Stanford in 1978.

Frankie Brennan

Assistant Coach
Univ. of Redlands (1994)
15th Season
2003 ITA National Assistant
Coach of the Year

Frankie Brennan, the 2005 ITA Northwest Region Assistant Coach of the Year and son of legendary former head coach Frank Brennan, begins his 15th year as an assistant coach on The Farm.

During his time as an assistant coach, Brennan has tutored numerous student-athletes to All-America and Pac-10 accolades. Since joining the staff, he has helped guide the Cardinal to a 373-23 overall record, seven national championships and 13 conference titles. In 2003, Brennan's contributions were recognized on a higher level when he was named the ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year.

Brennan was a two-time all-conference player for the University of Redlands, where he helped the team to a Final Four appearance in 1993 and a fifth-place national finish in 1994. He was also a two-time All-Conference honoree at Foothill Junior College, where he helped lead the team to a semifinal appearance in the state championships in 1991 and a runner-up finish in 1992.

In 1991, Brennan was voted as The Times Tribune Athlete of the week twice, named MVP of the tennis team and nominated as The Times Tribune Athlete of the Year. He was also nominated for the Foothill College Male Athlete of the Year.

Brennan was head coach of the women's tennis team at the University of Redlands in 1995 before coming to work for his father in 1996. He has also worked for the United States Tennis Association, assisting in the Area Training Center and serving as a USTA zonal coach. Brennan has also been a hitting partner for Venus Williams and other top professionals at the Bank of the West Classic. Brennan also played a few years on the satellite circuit.

Brennan prepped at St. Francis and Los Altos High schools, where he was a four-year letterwinner in both tennis and football. He finished his senior year on the East Coast at Mt. St. Joseph High School in Vermont, where he was a standout running back on their State Championship football team.

A third generation coach, Brennan and his family have been involved with coaching tennis for years. His grandfather was Billie Jean King's coach for 18 years, as well as the personal instructor to former president Jimmy Carter and his family while he was in the White House. In May of 2002, Inside Tennis named the "Brennan Clan," Frank Sr., Jr. and III, to their top-10 list of "Guys Who Have Lent A Hand" to women's tennis.

Frank Brennan

Volunteer Assistant Coach
Indiana (1966)
2nd Season

Stanford added even more experience and tradition to its bench last year with the addition of coaching legend Frank Brennan joining the staff for the 2008-09 season. Brennan is back again for his second season in the role of the club's volunteer assistant coach.

Brennan is the winningest coach in program history, compiling a 510-50 overall record in 21 years while leading the Cardinal to 10 NCAA championships (1982, 1984, 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1997 and 1999). During his time on The Farm, Brennan developed some of the finest collegiate players in the country, which resulted in nine NCAA singles and three NCAA doubles titles.

The ITA and Pac-10 Coach of the Year in 1999, Brennan also accumulated other numerous honors throughout his career. In December 2000, he was honored by both Wilson Sporting Goods and the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (formerly the ITCA) as the women's collegiate tennis "Coach of the Decade." It marked the second time Brennan received the award as he was recognized as "Coach of the Decade" for the 1980s, as well.

In 1991, he again was honored as the Coach of the Decade by the NCAA as part of the NCAA All-Decade Team. The Northern California Tennis Hall of Fame member (February 1994) is also a five-time Pac-10 Southern Division Coach-of-the-Year honoree and winner of the 1998, 1999 and 2000 Pac-10 Coach of the Year award.

In addition to the numerous national champions he has coached, Brennan tutored 40 players to 94 All-America selections and 22 players to 45 All-Pac-10 honors during his tenure. Additionally, he guided four Cardinal squads to perfect records.

Cardinal Has Claimed 15 NCAA Team Championships

Stanford won its first national title – the AIAW Championship in 1978 with a 5-4 victory over USC. In 1982, Stanford claimed its first-ever NCAA team title and has captured 14 championships since that year.

Highlights of Stanford's performance over the last 25 years include its unprecedented streaks of six consecutive NCAA team titles (1986-91) and three straight NCAA singles champions on two different occasions (1985-87; 1989-91). Frank Brennan won 10 of those NCAA Championships in his 21 years at the helm (1980-2000). Lele Forood has directed the Cardinal to five NCAA championships in eight years since taking over in 2001.

Since 1980, Stanford has produced 15 team titles, as well as 12 singles champions, five doubles champions, five singles runners-up, and five doubles runners-up.

In 2001, Stanford boasted the NCAA singles champion (Laura Granville), singles runner-up (Lauren Kalvaria) and doubles runner-up (Granville/Gabriela Lastra). In 2002, Stanford produced the national doubles champions (Kalvaria/Lastra) and two singles semifinalists (Erin Burdette, Lastra). Amber Liu claimed back-to-back NCAA singles championships in 2003 and 2004. Alice Barnes and Erin Burdette captured the doubles title in 2005.

The prestigious Honda Broderick Award has been given to seven Stanford players: Linda Gates (1985), Patty Fendick-McCain (1987), Sandra Birch (1989, 1991), Debbie Graham (1990), Lilia Osterloh (1997), Marissa Irvin (2000) and Laura Granville (2001).

Women's Tennis Professionals

Two-time NCAA singles champ Patty Fendick-McCain was voted by the Women's Tennis Association (WTA) as its 1988 Rookie of the Year. Capping an impressive debut on the pro tour, Fendick-McCain was a member of both the U.S. Federation Cup and the U.S. Wightman Cup teams. In 1994, she teamed with 1990 NCAA doubles champion Meredith McGrath to win the Australian Open Doubles title. McGrath, who had defeated Martina Navratilova at Eastbourne, England, won the coveted WTA Comeback Player of the Year Award in 1994.

Julie Heldman pioneered the Women's Tennis Tour.

WTA honors also came for Marianne Werdel-Witmeyer ('86 All-American), who received the WTA Service Award and was elected Vice President of the WTA in 1994 and president in 1995. Debbie Graham, who was the 1990 NCAA Singles Champion, was honored as 1992 WTA Rookie of the Year.

Many former Stanford players have been ranked within the top 100 on the tour.

Other honors abound on the WTA pro tour. Alycia Moulton was on the U.S. Wightman Cup team in 1985, and Burgin was a member of the U.S. Federation Cup team. In 1986, Burgin was captain of the Wightman Cup team. The year 1985 also marked the appearance of 10 former and current Stanford women in the main draw of the U.S. Open – a feat unmatched by any other collegiate tennis team. In 1986, seven former Stanford women appeared in the main draw of the U.S. Open.

The Initial Stadium Improvement

The Ralph Rodriguez Clubhouse, built in 1983, became the cornerstone of the facility upgrade. It provides meeting rooms and coaching staff office space. It also houses the Orsak Family Heritage Room, featuring one of the most impressive displays of collegiate success in any sport in the nation. In 1989, the old bleacher-type seating was demolished, and a beautiful 1,200 individual seat stadium was erected. The Taube Family Tennis Stadium was named as a 1990 "Facility of the Year." This structure contains men and women's team locker rooms, additional office space, and an indoor practice range, formally named The Ralph Rodriguez Founders' Room.

The Craig R. Johnson Players' Lounge, donated by the former 1976 standout and his family, is a popular team gathering place and study area.

In 1996, the Russ and Jackie Thompson Video Center was added, courtesy of Jackie Thompson in memory of her husband. This trend-setting video center has been updated by Michael Boskin, and features video feeds from cameras mounted on seven courts. Players and coaches can review each practice and all matches either in the Video Center, or by a review of individual CDs.

The Facility Today

Thanks to the lead generosity of Tad and Dianne Taube, as well as over 1,300 other former players and supporters, The Taube Family Tennis Stadium was completed in the spring of 1997. It now features 2500 individual seats, a championship Plexicushion indoor court and substantial office space. The Koret and Fluegel Family Conference Rooms are an important component of the building and are serviced by a kitchenette, restrooms and substantial storage space.

In 1999, the Phil and Penny Knight Scoreboard was erected allowing for live updated scoring for all eleven courts for the stadium and the internet. The Victor and Gwen Riches Family Tutorial Rooms, home of the East Palo Alto Tennis and Tutoring Program, lighting for all eleven courts, and the Bill and Dixie Gates Heritage Plaza soon were added.

The 2004 addition of the $3 million Taube South Complex was spearheaded by the impetus afforded by Tad and Diane Taube, Mike and Shirley Orsak, the Craig Johnson family and John Arillaga. The U.S. Tennis Court and Track Builders Association named it the "Outstanding Outdoor Tennis Facility" in recognition of excellence in design and construction. The Taube South complex features six lighted courts, a scoreboard and permanent spectator seating.

The Taube South Complex was named the U.S. Tennis Court and Track Builders Tennis Facility Award in 2003.

In 2005, permanent bleachers seating over 200 were added to the competitive courts outside the Taube Family Tennis Stadium. Now, all 17 Taube Tennis Center courts have spectator viewing. Also added was a wireless system allowing umpires to relay the score of any of the 17 courts directly to the Phil and Penny Knight scoreboard, and from there to tennis website at www.gostanford.com. The viewer clicks on "Live Scoreboard" to follow the individual match score from a replica of the scoreboard. Further, the viewer may select a live video stream from any match being played on any of 12 courts.

Dominance at Taube: 11 Years and Counting

Calling it a home-court advantage would be a complete understatement. What the Stanford women's tennis program has accomplished at the Taube Family Tennis Stadium over the last 10 years is simply astonishing.

Recognized as the longest active home winning streak of any intercollegiate sport in NCAA Division I athletics, Stanford now boasts an eye-popping 151-match winning streak overall in contests played at the Taube Family Tennis Stadium. That's 121 victories in a row during regular-season play, combined with a 30-0 record in NCAA Tournament matches played at home.

And with a thrilling 4-3 win over No. 7 California on Mar. 7, 2009, Stanford made it 10 years without suffering a loss on its home court. That's right, 10 years. The last time the Cardinal lost a match at the Taube Family Tennis Stadium was back on Feb. 27, 1999, when No. 4 California pulled a 5-4 upset.

Did You Know...

Even the scoring system for a college tennis dual match has experienced a change during the decade-long home winning streak. The 2000 campaign represented the last year of the nine-point scoring system, as one point was available for all six singles matches and all three doubles contests. The first team to five points secured the match. Since 2001, regular-season dual matches have been played with a seven-point scoring system. The team winning two of the three doubles matches takes a 1-0 lead, and one point each is awarded for the remaining six singles contests. Under this system, the first team to claim four points clinches the match. In postseason play or circumstances related to weather, matches may be abandoned if the outcome has already been decided.

Stanford also experienced a coaching change during the home winning streak, as Frank Brennan and Lele Forood were able to pad their records. Of the 151 consecutive victories during the streak so far, 21 were achieved under Brennan, who announced his retirement following the 2000 campaign. Brennan, now roaming the courts as a volunteer assistant coach, is Stanford's all-time winningest coach on the women's side with a 510-50 overall record. The remaining 130 victories (and counting...) during the streak have come under Forood's watch, who is now 233-15.

During her freshman season, Amber Liu actually lost her dual match debut at the Taube Family Tennis Stadium. Playing at the No. 1 spot in the season opener against Fresno State on Feb. 1, 2003, Liu was outlasted by Chloe Carlotti 3-6, 6-4, 6-4. It was the Bulldogs' only point in a 6-1 Stanford victory. And Liu would eventually rebound herself, winning two NCAA singles titles (2003, 2004) while earning All-America honors every year of her career.

During the streak, Stanford has routinely piled up victories over its Pac-10 rivals. Those schools have no choice- they must visit the Taube Family Tennis Stadium at some point thanks to a scheduling pattern that alternates playing sites every year. So which non-conference foe has suffered the most during the streak? That would be Fresno State, winless in eight attempts since the 1999 season. Other frequent non-league victims during the streak include the following: Sacramento State (0-6), Cal Poly (0-5), Pacific (0-5), UNLV (0-5), Hawai'i (0-4) and UC Davis (0-4).

Looking Back At The Milestones...

Win No. 1: Mar. 5, 1999 – Stanford 7, Arizona 2

Seemed like just another victory at the time, not the start of an incredible streak that would span a decade. Here's the starting lineup that Stanford head coach Frank Brennan penciled into his scorebook that afternoon:

Singles

- 1) Teryn Ashley (STAN) d. Lindsay Blau (ARIZ) 6-1, 4-6, 6-2
- 2) Monique Allegre (ARIZ) d. Gabriela Lastra (STAN) 4-6, 6-4, 6-4
- 3) Lauren Kalvaria (STAN) d. Joanna Buczkowska (ARIZ) 6-2, 7-5
- 4) Jennifer Heiser (STAN) d. Michelle Gough (ARIZ) 6-4, 6-0
- 5) Keiko Tokuda (STAN) d. Vanessa Ablel (ARIZ) 6-3, 6-2
- 6) Sarah Pestieau (STAN) d. Carly Stringer (ARIZ) 7-5, 6-7, 7-6

Doubles

- 1) Blau/Allegre (ARIZ) d. Lastra/Kalvaria (STAN) 9-7
- 2) Ashley/Pestieau (STAN) d. Gough/Abel (ARIZ) 9-8
- 3) Tokuda/Heiser (STAN) d. Stringer/Marino (ARIZ) 8-5

Win No. 7: May 15, 1999 – Stanford 4, Pacific 0

Regarded as the premier tennis facility in the country, the Taube Family Tennis Stadium has served as a host site to several NCAA Tournament matches during the streak. Fast forward 10 years and nothing has changed. During the winning stretch, the facility has played host to the 2002 and 2006 NCAA Championships. On this date, Stanford blanked Pacific in the first of 28 NCAA Tournament matches played on its home court during the streak.

Win No. 21: May 13, 2000 – Stanford 5, Fresno State 1

Despite the nation's No. 1 player, Marissa Irvin, suffering a loss at the No. 1 spot, Stanford cruised to five singles victories and the doubles matches were cancelled because the outcome had already been decided. This would be the final home match played under legendary coach Frank Brennan, who compiled a 510-50 overall record during his time on The Farm and owns the distinction as the program's all-time winningest coach.

Win No. 22: Jan. 26, 2001 – Stanford 7, Washington State 0

Stanford blanked Washington State 7-0 in the first home match played under new head coach Lele Forood, who succeeded Brennan. Nine years later, Forood still has the Cardinal rolling along with five NCAA championships and eight consecutive Pac-10 titles to her credit.

Win No. 51: May 19, 2002 – Stanford 4, Florida 1

Hosting the NCAA Championships for the first time since 1997, Stanford notched a 4-1 victory over Florida to claim the national championship on its home court. The victory was well earned for the third-seeded Cardinal, which had to sit through a rain delay of three hours and 10 minutes before competition started shortly after 4 p.m. Erin Burdette's 7-6, 6-2 victory at the No. 4 position sealed the match, as Stanford's senior class of Lauren Kalvaria, Gabriela Lastra and Keiko Tokuda wrapped up their collegiate careers with a 116-4 record and three NCAA championships.

Win No. 65: Jan. 26, 2004 – Stanford 7, TCU 0

Stanford's 7-0 rout of TCU turned out to be win No. 65 during the home winning streak but it also represented the first victory of another improbable stretch. After falling to host Florida 4-3 in the 2003 NCAA Championship, Stanford opened its 2004 campaign with a ho-hum shutout victory over the Horned Frogs. And 88 consecutive wins would follow, giving the Cardinal an 89-match winning streak that spanned three seasons and produced three more NCAA championships.

Win No. 107: May 23, 2006 – Stanford 4, Miami 1

For the second time during the home winning streak, Stanford won the NCAA championship on its home court. Appearing in the national championship match for the 20th time in the 25-year history of the event, Stanford captured its 15th team title in a tournament that was pushed back constantly by rainy weather. After winning the doubles point, Celia Durkin and Jessica Nguyen cruised to straight-set wins at the Nos. 5 and 6 positions of the singles lineup. Theresa Logar provided the clincher on court three, winning easily 6-0, 6-3.

Win No. 110: Feb. 17, 2007 – Stanford 4, UCLA 3

Someone in the stands on this Saturday afternoon had to be asking themselves the following question: "is the scoreboard malfunctioning?" That's because for the first time in seven years the number "3" was appearing in the opponent's score column. Stanford had not surrendered three points to an opponent in a home match since Apr. 21, 2000, when the Cardinal downed USC 6-3. Fast forward to this date against UCLA, and Stanford was actually trailing 3-2 while the match was in the hands of Anne Yelsey and Lindsay Burdette. Both rallied to victories, with Yelsey beating Tracy Lin 6-2, 6-7, 7-6 at the No. 2 spot while Burdette rallied past Elizabeth Lumpkin 2-6, 7-6, 6-1 on court six.

Win No. 142: Mar. 7, 2009 – Stanford 4, California 3

California entered this match ranked No. 7, six spots ahead of No. 13 Stanford. The Golden Bears captured the doubles point and two of the next three singles matches to take a 3-1 lead. Three matches remained and the situation was the same in all three: a Stanford win in the first set before California bounced back in the second. That's when the comeback started. Veronica Li picked up her biggest win of the year on court five, Hilary Barte evened the match at 3-3 with a win at the No. 1 spot and Jessica Nguyen turned a 5-3 deficit in the third set into a 7-5 victory to secure the 4-3 Stanford win and keep the streak alive.

Win No. 149: Apr. 11, 2009 – Stanford 7, Pepperdine 0

This Senior Day shutout of Pepperdine resulted in win No. 800 for the Stanford women's tennis program. Head coach Curly Neal got the program off on the right foot, leading Stanford to an 11-0 mark during the inaugural season back in 1975. There has never been a losing season in the 35-year history of the program and Stanford has reached the 20-win plateau every season since a 16-5 finish in 1981.

Bob Bowsby

The Jaquish & Kenninger
Director of Athletics

One of the most respected athletic administrators in the nation, Bob Bowsby enters his fourth full year as the Jaquish & Kenninger Director of Athletics at Stanford University, a position he was appointed to on April 25, 2006 after spending 15 years at the helm of the University of Iowa's athletic program. In his initial three years in the position, Stanford has continued its well-earned reputation of fielding the most successful and wide-ranging Division I-A athletic programs in the nation.

As Stanford's sixth athletic director, Bowsby succeeds Ted Leland (1991-2005), Andy Geiger (1979-90), Joe Ruetz (1972-78), Chuck Taylor (1963-71) and Al Masters (1925-63). He directs a department that includes 35 intercollegiate varsity teams – 15 men's, 19 women's and one coed – plus the physical education department, intramurals, club sports, open recreation and the Stanford Golf Course.

Under his administrative guidance, Stanford claimed its unprecedented 15th straight Learfield Sports Director's Cup last spring, emblematic of the top overall program in the country. Ten Stanford teams boasted Top 10 finishes, winning national championships in men's gymnastics and women's rowing.

Stanford's student-athletes were also highly-decorated last year. Foluke Akinradewo (women's volleyball) earned her second straight national player of the year honor while eight student-athletes earned conference player of the year marks. In addition, Erik Shoji (men's volleyball) earned national freshman of the year accolades.

Two Stanford coaches--Thom Glielmi (men's gymnastics) and Yaz Farooq (women's rowing) earned national coach of the year marks.

Throughout his career, Bowsby has emerged as a national leader in intercollegiate and amateur athletics. He was named in February, 2007, to the United States Olympic Committee Board of Directors.

He has previously served as President of the NCAA Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association (2002-03), Chair of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee for two years (2003-05) and a committee member for five years, Chair of the Big Ten Administrator's Council (2002-04) and Chair of the NCAA Management Council.

Bowsby was appointed by President George Bush as a member of the Commission on Opportunities in Athletics in 2002-03. The committee was led by U.S. Secretary of Education Rod Paige.

Bowsby was elected chair of the NCAA Olympic Sports Liaison Committee and represented the NCAA as one of two voting members on the United States Olympic Committee Board of Directors. He served as a member of the NCAA/U.S. Olympic Committee Task Force chaired by Cedric Dempsey and George Steinbrenner.

In addition, Bowsby served as chair of the NCAA Wrestling Committee and has served on NCAA committees on Financial Aid and Amateurism, the Special Committee to Review Amateurism Issues and the Special Committee to Review Financial Conditions in Athletics.

Bowsby has also served as an Executive Committee member with both the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and served as President of the I-A organization for two years.

The National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) named Bowsby in 2001-02 as Central Region Athletic Director of the Year and Sports Business Journal selected him from the four regional award winners as the National Athletics Director of the Year. The award highlights the efforts of the athletic directors for their commitment and positive contributions to campuses and their surrounding communities.

As the chief administrator for Iowa's athletic department from 1991-2006, Bowsby earned a reputation as one of the most admired, energetic and ambitious athletic administrators in the nation. Bowsby guided and supervised the merger of the Hawkeye's women's and men's athletics departments while enabling Iowa to maintain its standing as one of the most visible and successful Division I athletic programs.

Under his leadership, Iowa enjoyed unprecedented success and growth in the area of fund raising and facilities. Bowsby and the UI Development staff put in place $25 million in endowments to help support Hawkeye student-athlete scholarship aid. In addition, he managed the planning and construction of $120 million in facility projects on campus, including an $87 million renovation to Kinnick Stadium.

A native of Waterloo, Iowa, Bowsby became Iowa's 10th Athletic Director in June, 1991, after serving in the same role at the University of Northern Iowa since 1984. Bowsby earned his bachelors degree from Moorhead State University (Minnesota) in 1975 and his master's degree from the University of Iowa in 1978.

Bob and his wife, Candice, have four children: Lisa, Matt, Rachel and Kyle.

2010 STANFORD TENNIS

Stanford University at a Glance

On October 1, 1891, the 465 new students who were on hand for opening day ceremonies at Leland Stanford Junior University greeted Leland and Jane Stanford enthusiastically, with a chant they had made up and rehearsed only that morning. Wah-hoo! Wah-hoo! L-S-J-U! Stanford! Its wild and spirited tone symbolized the excitement of this bold adventure. As a pioneer faculty member recalled, "Hope was in every heart, and the presiding spirit of freedom prompted us to dare greatly."

For the Stanford's on that day, the university was the realization of a dream and a fitting tribute to the memory of their only son, who had died of typhoid fever weeks before his sixteenth birthday. Far from the nation's center of culture and unencumbered by tradition or ivy, the new university drew students from all over the country: many from California; some who followed professors hired from other colleges and universities; and some simply seeking adventure in the West. Though there were many difficulties during the first months – housing was inadequate, microscopes and books were late in arriving from the East – the first year foretold of greatness. As Jane Stanford wrote in the summer of 1892, "Even our fondest hopes have been realized."

▼ Ideas of "Practical Education"

Governor and Mrs. Stanford had come from families of modest means and had built their way up through a life of hard work. So it was natural that their first thoughts were to establish an institution where young men and women could "grapple successfully with the practicalities of life." As their thoughts matured, these ideas of "practical education" enlarged to the concept of producing cultured and useful citizens who were well-prepared for professional success.

Nearly 116 years later, the university still enjoys the original 8,180 acres (almost 13 square miles) of grassy fields, eucalyptus groves, and rolling hills that were the Stanford's generous legacy, as well as the Quadrangle of "long corridors with their stately pillars" at the center of campus. It is still true, as the philosopher William James said, during his stint as a visiting professor, that the climate is "so friendly ... that every morning wakes one fresh for new amounts of work."

▼ Current Perspectives

In other ways, the university has changed tremendously on its way to recognition as one of the world's great universities. At the hub of a vital and diverse Bay Area, Stanford is less than hour's drive south of San Francisco and just a few minutes north of the Silicon Valley, an area dotted with computer and high technology firms largely spawned by the university's faculty and graduates. On campus, students and faculty enjoy new libraries, modern laboratories, tremendous sports and recreation facilities, and comfortable residences. Contemporary sculpture, as well as pieces from the Stanford Museum's extensive collection of sculpture by Auguste Rodin, is placed throughout the campus, providing unexpected pleasures at many turns. At the Stanford Medical Center, world-renowned for its research, teaching, and patient care, scientists and physicians are searching for answers to fundamental questions about health and disease. Ninety miles down the coast, at Stanford's Hopkins Marine Station on the Monterey Bay, scientists are working to better understand the mechanisms of evolution, human development, and ecological systems.

The university is organized into seven schools: Earth Sciences, Education, Engineering, the Graduate School of Business, Humanities and Sciences, Law and Medicine. In addition, there are more than 30 interdisciplinary centers, programs, and research laboratories – including the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace; the Institute for International Studies; the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center; and the Stanford Center for the Study of Families, Children and Youth – where faculty from a wide range of fields bring different perspectives to bear on issues and problems. Stanford's Overseas Studies Program offers students in all fields remarkable opportunities for study abroad, with campuses in Australia, Beijing, Berlin, Cape Town, Florence, Kyoto, Madrid, Moscow, Oxford, Paris, and Santiago.

▼ Stanford People

By any measure, Stanford's faculty – which numbers just over 1,800 – is one of the most distinguished in the nation. As of the June of 2007, the faculty included 18 Nobel Laureates, four Pulitzer Prize winners, 24 MacArthur Fellows, 21 recipients of the National Medal of Science, three National Medley of Technology recipients, 228 members of the National Academy of Arts and Sciences, 135 members of the National Academy of Sciences, 83 National Academy of Engineering members, 29 members of the National Academy of Education, seven Wolf Foundation Prize winners, seven winners of the Koret Foundation Prize and three Presidential Medal of Freedom winners. Yet beyond their array of honors, what truly distinguishes Stanford faculty is their commitment to sharing knowledge with their students. The great majority of professors teach undergraduates both in introductory lecture classes and in small advanced seminars.

Currently 14881 students, of which 6689 are undergraduates, live and study on campus. A little more than 40 percent come from California, but all 50 states and approximately 68 countries are represented as well. Among undergraduates, approximately 55 percent are African American, Asian American, International, Mexican American, Native American, Native Hawaiian or Other Hispanic in ethnicity. Like the faculty, the Stanford student body is distinguished. Approximately 10 students apply to Stanford for every place in the freshman class with 89% of those admitted finishing in the top 10% of their high school class. Ninety-four Stanford students have been named Rhodes Scholars, 74 have been selected Marshall Award winners, and 49 have been chosen Truman Scholars. Nearly 90 percent of graduating seniors plan to attend graduate or professional schools. Stanford students also shine in a tremendous array of activities outside the classroom – from student government to music, theater, and journalism. Through the Haas Center for Public Service, students participate in many community service activities, such as tutoring programs for children in nearby East Palo Alto, the Hunger Project, and the Arbor Free Clinic.

In the athletic arena, Stanford students have enjoyed tremendous success as well. Stanford fields teams in 36 Division I varsity sports (15 men, 20 women, 1 co-ed). Of Stanford's 95 NCAA titles (107 national), 55 have been captured since 1990, by far the most in the nation. Thirty-eight of Stanford's athletes and coaches participated win the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona, 49 competed in Atlanta at the 1996 Games, 34 represented Stanford at the 2000

Games in Sydney, and 43 Stanford associates competed at the 2004 Games in Athens. Intramural and club sports are also popular; over 1,000 students take part in the club sports program, while participation in the intramural program has reached 9,000, with many students active in more than one sport.

▼ Looking Ahead

In her address to the Board of Trustees, in 1904, Jane Stanford said, “. . . Let us not be afraid to outgrow old thoughts and ways, and dare to think on new lines as to the future of the work under our care.”

Her thoughts echo in the words of former Stanford President Gerhard Casper, who has said, “The true university must reinvent itself every day . . . At Stanford, these are days of such reconsideration and fresh support for our fundamental tasks – teaching, learning, and research.”
