Cardinal Has Claimed 15 NCAA Team Championships

Stanford won its first national title – the AIAW Championship in 1978 with a 5-4 victory over USC. In 1982, Stanford claimed its first-ever NCAA team title and has captured 14 championships since that year.

Highlights of Stanford's performance over the last 25 years include its unprecedented streaks of six consecutive NCAA team titles (1986-91) and three straight NCAA singles champions on two different occasions (1985-87; 1989-91). Frank Brennan won 10 of those NCAA Championships in his 21 years at the helm (1980-2000). Lele Forood has directed the Cardinal to five NCAA championships in eight years since taking over in 2001.

Since 1980, Stanford has produced 15 team titles, as well as 12 singles champions, four doubles champions, five singles runners-up, and four doubles runners-up.

In 2001, Stanford boasted the NCAA singles champion (Laura Granville), singles runner-up (Lauren Kalvaria) and doubles runner-up (Granville/Gabriela Lastra). In 2002, Stanford produced the national doubles champions (Kalvaria/Lastra) and two singles semifinalists (Erin Burdette, Lastra). Amber Liu claimed back-to-back NCAA singles championships in 2003 and 2004. Alice Barnes and Erin Burdette captured the doubles title in 2005.

The prestigious Honda Broderick Award has been given to seven Stanford players: Linda Gates (1985), Patty Fendick-McCain (1987), Sandra Birch (1989, 1991), Debbie Graham (1990), Lilia Osterloh (1997), Marissa Irvin (2000) and Laura Granville (2001).

Women's Tennis Professionals

Two-time NCAA singles champ Patty Fendick-McCain was voted by the Women's Tennis Association (WTA) as its 1988 Rookie of the Year. Capping an impressive debut on the pro tour, Fendick-McCain was a member of both the U.S. Federation Cup and the U.S. Wightman Cup teams. In 1994, she teamed with 1990 NCAA doubles champion Meredith McGrath to win the Australian Open Doubles title. McGrath, who had defeated Martina Navratilova at Eastbourne, England, won the coveted WTA Comeback Player of the Year Award in 1994.

Julie Heldman
Women's Tennis Tour.

WTA honors also came for Marianne Werdel-Witmeyer ('86 All-American), who received the WTA Service Award and was elected Vice President of the WTA in 1994 and president in 1995. Debbie Graham, who was the 1990 NCAA Singles Champion, was honored as 1992 WTA Rookie of the Year.

Many former Stanford players have been ranked within the top 100 on the tour.

Other honors abound on the WTA pro tour. Alycia Moulton was on the U.S. Wightman Cup team in 1985, and Burgin was a member of the U.S. Federation Cup team. In 1986, Burgin was captain of the Wightman Cup team. The year 1985 also marked the appearance of 10 former and current Stanford women in the main draw of the U.S. Open – a feat unmatched by any other collegiate tennis team. In 1986, seven former Stanford women appeared in the main draw of the U.S. Open.

TAUBE FAMILY TENNIS CENTER

The Taube Family Tennis Center hosted the first-ever combined men's and women's NCAA Tennis Championships in 2006. It was recently announced that the facility will again host the NCAA Championships in 2011. In addition, it has hosted the women's championship four times. The facility boasts 17 outdoor courts, all with championship lighting. It is the home of the nationally acclaimed East Palo Alto Tennis and Tutoring Program. The Taube Family Tennis Stadium has served as the host site for the Fed Cup Finals in 1999 and the Siebel Champions Tour in 2000 and 2001. Since 1997, the Stadium has been home to the Bank of the West Classic, which has featured Martina Hingis, Mary Pierce, Lindsay Davenport, Venus Williams, Justin Henin-Hardenne and Kim Clijsters.

Stanford Tennis Extends Thanks

Stanford University is only one of the entities which has benefited greatly from the generosity extended by the philanthropist Tad Taube and his family. Stanford Tennis is fortunate to be among these, and is proud that the Taube Tennis Center bears his name in recognition for his special help in making this beautiful arena possible, as well as for his countless other contributions to our program.

The Initial Stadium Improvement

The Ralph Rodriguez Clubhouse, built in 1983, became the cornerstone of the facility upgrade. It provides meeting rooms and coaching staff office space. It also houses the Orsak Family Heritage Room, featuring one of the most impressive displays of collegiate success in any sport in the nation. In 1989, the old bleacher-type seating was demolished, and a beautiful 1,200 individual seat stadium was erected. The Taube Family Tennis Stadium was named as a 1990 "Facility of the Year." This structure contains men and women's team locker rooms, additional office space, and an indoor practice range, formally named The Ralph Rodriguez Founders' Room.

The Craig R. Johnson Players' Lounge, donated by the former 1976 standout and his family, is a popular team gathering place and study area.

In 1996, the Russ and Jackie Thompson Video Center was added, courtesy of Jackie Thompson in memory of her husband. This trend-setting video center has been updated by Michael Boskin, and features video feeds from cameras mounted on seven courts. Players and coaches can review each practice and all matches either in the Video Center, or by a review of individual CDs.

The Facility Today

Thanks to the lead generosity of Tad and Dianne Taube, as well as over 1,300 other former players and supporters, The Taube Family Tennis Stadium was completed in the spring of 1997. It now features 2500 individual seats, a championship Plexicushion indoor court and substantial office space. The Koret and Fluegel Family Conference Rooms are an important component of the building and are serviced by a kitchenette, restrooms and substantial storage space.

In 1999, the Phil and Penny Knight Scoreboard was erected allowing for live updated scoring for all eleven courts for the stadium and the internet. The Victor and Gwen Riches Family Tutorial Rooms, home of the East Palo Alto Tennis and Tutoring Program, lighting for all eleven courts, and the Bill and Dixie Gates Heritage Plaza soon were added.

The 2004 addition of the $3 million Taube South Complex was spearheaded by the impetus afforded by Tad and Diane Taube, Mike and Shirley Orsak, the Craig Johnson family and John Arillaga. The U.S. Tennis Court and Track Builders Association named it the "Outstanding Outdoor Tennis Facility" in recognition of excellence in design and construction. The Taube South complex features six lighted courts, a scoreboard and permanent spectator seating.

The Taube South Complex was named the U.S. Tennis Court and Track Builders Tennis Facility Award in 2003.

In 2005, permanent bleachers seating over 200 were added to the competitive courts outside the Taube Family Tennis Stadium. Now, all 17 Taube Tennis Center courts have spectator viewing. Also added was a wireless system allowing umpires to relay the score of any of the 17 courts directly to the Phil and Penny Knight scoreboard, and from there to tennis website at www.gostanford.com. The viewer clicks on "Live Scoreboard" to follow the individual match score from a replica of the scoreboard. Further, the viewer may select a live video stream from any match being played on courts one through six.

S 89 IN A ROW: A LOOK BACK

One of the most dominating stretches in NCAA history came to an end on Feb. 3, 2007, as the Stanford women's tennis program suffered its first loss in three years after compiling a record 89-match winning streak.

In the semifinals of the National Indoor Team Championships in Madison, Wis., No. 6 Georgia Tech edged No. 1 Stanford 4-3 to hand the Cardinal its first loss since a 4-3 defeat in the NCAA championship match against Florida on May 18, 2003.

Otherwise, the 89-match winning streak produced three NCAA titles, three Pac-10 Championships, seven All-Americans and tons of other memorable moments. Head coach Lele Forood upped her dual match record to 171-3, achieving conference and national accolades along the way.

Here are just a few astounding numbers from the streak:

Overall victories: 89

7-0 match victories: 27

6-1 match victories: 18

5-2 match victories: 9

4-3 match victories: 2

other match scores: 30 (includes postseason matches, rain-shortened matches, etc.)

Wins vs. top-25 teams: 47

Home wins: 44

We take a closer look at some key matches (ITA rankings at time of match in parentheses):

Jan. 26, 2004: (2) Stanford 7, (56) TCU 0 at Stanford, Calif.

The start of the streak. Having dropped a 4-3 decision to host Florida in the 2003 NCAA Championship match, Stanford was looking to capture the hardware once again. A 7-0 shutout of TCU in which the Cardinal swept every match served as a good starting point. The singles lineup from that day featured: No. 1 Alice Barnes, No. 2 Lauren Barnikow, No. 3 Theresa Logar, No. 4 Story Tweedie-Yates, No. 5 Emilia Anderson and No. 6 Anne Yelsey. The doubles teams were: No. 1 Barnikow/Burdette, No. 2 Barnes/Yelsey and No. 3 Anderson/Logar. Only Logar and Yelsey would eventually experience the next loss three years later.

Mar. 3, 2004: (1) Stanford 6, (14) Fresno State 1 at Stanford, Calif.

Significant because this match represented the first make-up contest during the streak, with the original match on Feb. 17 postponed due to rain. This one was closer than the score indicated also, with a determined Fresno State squad pushing two singles matches to three sets and a then-unknown Jelena Pandzic shocking Amber Liu 6-2, 6-2 at the No. 1 singles spot. A doubles sweep and straight-set wins by Alice Barnes and Lauren Barnikow saved the day. Stanford notched a 3-0 record against Fresno State during the streak.

Mar. 26, 2004: (1) Stanford 5, (7) Washington 2 at Seattle, Wash.

Stanford's first victory by a 5-2 margin during the streak came against a tough Washington squad on its home court. After winning the doubles point, straight-set victories at the bottom three singles positions by Lauren Barnikow, Theresa Logar and Emilia Anderson helped ice the win.

April 2, 2004: (1) Stanford 6, (8) USC 1 at Stanford, Calif.

Stanford's 18th win of the year also happened to be head coach Lele Forood's 100th victory at the helm of the Cardinal. One of the most successful coaches in NCAA history, Forood has guided Stanford to five NCAA titles and one runner-up finish.

April 17, 2004: (1) Stanford 7, (7) USC 0 at Los Angeles, Calif.

After a near two-hour rain delay, Stanford blanked USC to clinch its 17th straight Pac-10 title and first of three conference crowns during the 89-match streak. All six Cardinal players in the lineup backed up their respective national rankings by posting wins.

May 23, 2004: (1) Stanford 4, (8) UCLA 1 at Athens, Ga.

Stanford capped a perfect 29-0 season with a 4-1 triumph over UCLA by tallying its 13th all-time NCAA title and first of three during the streak. The Cardinal captured the doubles point, with Lauren Barnikow and Erin Burdette clinching an 8-6 victory at the No. 1 spot. This was the fourth time in 2004 that Stanford beat UCLA, which would eventually lose four more matches to the Cardinal during the streak.

Feb. 5, 2005: (1) Stanford 4, (13) Georgia 0 at Madison, Wis.

February 5 turned out to be a welcomed date for Stanford on the calendar, as the Cardinal won every match played on this same date in 2004, 2005 and 2006. In this particular contest, Stanford breezed past Georgia in the semifinals to reach the championship match of the tournament. This was the first meeting between two of the more storied women's tennis programs since 1990.

2007 graduates Theresa Logar (left) and Anne Yelsey helped pace Stanford en route to an NCAA record 89-match winning streak.

April 8, 2005: (1) Stanford 4, (3) USC 3 at Los Angeles, Calif.

Finally, a challenger. Stanford's first 4-3 match win of the streak took place in Los Angeles against the Women of Troy. The Cardinal opened the contest by winning the doubles point with victories at Nos. 1 and 3. A 6-0, 6-1 win by Lejla Hodzic at No. 6 singles gave Stanford a 2-0 lead before USC's Lindsey Nelson shocked Alice Barnes 6-4, 6-1 at No. 2. In fact, Stanford lost singles battles at the top three spots of the lineup. However, clutch wins from Whitney Deason and Anne Yelsey at Nos. 4 and 5, respectively, proved to be the key.

May 22, 2005: (1) Stanford 4, (11) Texas 0 at Athens, Ga.

For the second year in a row, Stanford captured the NCAA championship at its "home away from home" during the streak: Athens, Ga. This time the hero was Erin Burdette, ending her brilliant career with a 6-4, 6-1 victory over Georgia's Kendra Strohm at No. 3 singles while playing in front of family and friends just 85 miles away from her hometown. Stanford finished off Texas in just two hours and 20 minutes, the quickest match time of the NCAA Championship in Athens.

Feb. 5, 2006: (1) Stanford 4, (15) Texas 0 at Madison, Wis.

A rematch of the previous year's NCAA Championship, Stanford again crushed Texas 4-0 en route to its record third consecutive National Team Indoor title. The victory was the Cardinal's 13th in a row at the event, which proved to be an early-season tune-up against some of the nation's best competition. Stanford outscored its four opponents 26-0 during the week to become the first team to win the title without yielding a point in the events' 19-year history.

Mar. 29, 2006: (1) Stanford 4, (8) Pepperdine 3 at Malibu, Calif.

Stanford's 72nd straight dual match win was not easy, representing the only other 4-3 victory during the streak. The Cardinal raced out to a comfortable 3-0 match lead before the upstart Waves stormed back to tie it at 3-3. On court four, Anne Yelsey had split sets and was tied 4-4 in the third frame before winning the final two games to keep the streak intact.

April 22, 2006: (1) Stanford 7, (6) California 0 at Stanford, Calif.

Stanford's home court winning streak reached 96 with a win over rival California. This one gave the Cardinal sole possession of the Pac-10 title. Prior to the match, Cardinal seniors Alice Barnes, Jessica Leck, Joanna Kao and Amber Liu were honored in a ceremony. This quartet suffered just two losses during their time on The Farm. Not to mention this was one of seven times Stanford would defeat California during the streak.

May 23, 2006: (1) Stanford 4, (7) Miami 1 at Stanford, Calif.

Postseason play at Taube Family Tennis Stadium became a fixture during the winning streak, as Stanford racked up a 10-0 record in such matches. Including this one, a 4-1 win over Miami that occurred one day behind schedule in a tournament that was pushed back constantly by rainy weather. After winning the doubles point, Celia Durkin and Jessica Nguyen cruised to straight-set wins at the Nos. 5 and 6 positions of the singles lineup. Theresa Logar provided the clincher on court three, winning 6-0, 6-3.

Feb. 2, 2007: (1) Stanford 6, (11) California 1 at Madison, Wisc.

The streak's final victory came on a Friday afternoon in Madison, Wis., at the National Team Indoor Championships. All six singles players in the California lineup were nationally-ranked but that did not prevent Stanford from winning five of those matches. That included Theresa Logar's 6-4, 6-2 upset of No. 3 Susie Babos at the No. 1 spot in the lineup.

24 hours later, No. 6 Georgia Tech shocked No. 1 Stanford 4-3 in the semifinals to snap the streak.

STANFORD TENNIS SALUTES THE EAST PALO ALTO TENNIS & TUTORING PROGRAM

Whitney Deason, former member of the Stanford Women's Team, with an EPATT friend.

The East Palo Alto Tennis and Tutoring Program (EPATT) is proud to be associated with Stanford University and Stanford Tennis. EPATT provides one-on-one academic tutoring and group tennis instruction to one hundred disadvantaged youth per year. This unique endeavor strives to impact children academically, athletically and socially. EPATT is a past recipient of the Stanford University Community Partnership Award for its work with the East Palo Alto community, which it serves.

Tutoring sessions are conducted at the Taube Family Tennis Center after school and in the evenings in the Gwen and Victor Riches Pinewood Tutorial Rooms. The program facilities include four classrooms, and counter space, which include a library and computer center with Internet access. More than 120 Stanford students volunteer as academic tutors and tennis instructors per year.

Stanford Tennis Members hope these youths can be afforded some of the same opportunities they themselves have received as young people. If you are interested in becoming a member of the East Palo Alto-Stanford "Team", contact Stanford Tennis Director Dick Gould or EPATT Executive Director Dave Higaki at (650) 725-4450.

What To Watch For In 2008-09

• Home Sweet Home

Stanford closed out last year's regular season home schedule with a perfect 11-0 record, extending its winning streak to 106 in such matches. Throw in a 28-0 record in NCAA Tournament matches played at Taube Family Tennis Stadium and Stanford is unbeaten in the last 134 contests played on its home court. Stanford's last loss at the Taube Family Tennis Stadium occurred on Feb. 27, 1999, when No. 4 California pulled a 5-4 upset.

• What Can Barte Do For An Encore?

Highlighting Stanford's success last year was the play of Hilary Barte, who in addition to becoming the program's 50th All-American, was named the 2008 ITA National Rookie of the Year and Pac-10 Freshman of the Year. Barte wrapped up the year with a team-best 30-8 overall mark while finishing 22-4 in duals. She became the first freshman in school history to win at least 30 overall matches and 20 duals since 2004 when Theresa Logar posted a 38-4 overall mark and was 27-0 in dual match action. Barte earned a final No. 4 national ranking and was the third seed at the NCAA Singles Championship.

Senior Jessica Nguyen is Stanford's lone holdover from its last NCAA championship squad, as Nguyen was a freshman during the Cardinal's 2006 NCAA title victory over Miami. In that championship match against the Hurricanes, Nguyen won her singles match at the No. 6 spot and teamed with Lejla Hodzic at the No. 3 doubles position. Fast forward three years and Nguyen is one of Stanford's premier players and will be counted on for veteran leadership. Entering the spring season, Nguyen had tallied a career overall singles record of 66-21 and earned All-America honors twice.

• Pac-10 Hardware Stays Here

In 2008, Stanford reached the postseason in the same method it has over the last 21 consecutive seasons – claiming the Pac-10's automatic bid after winning the regular season title. However, this time around the Cardinal had to share the hardware with UCLA as both squads finished with 7-1 records. But Stanford received the Pac-10's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament after defeating UCLA 4-3 in a counting match on Apr. 5. The last time a team not named Stanford captured the Pac-10 title was 1987, when California won the Southern Division and Washington locked up the Northern Division.

• Winning Experience And Tradition On Board

Former head coach Frank Brennan, who guided the Cardinal to an unthinkable 510-50 record in 21 years at the helm, joins this year's staff as a volunteer assistant coach. Brennan led Stanford to 10 NCAA championships during his time and produced numerous NCAA singles and doubles champions. Brennan, who was inducted into the Stanford Athletic Hall of Fame in 2001, joins current head coach Lele Forood, who has crafted a 214-10 record over eight seasons with five NCAA titles to her credit. And he'll be reunited with his son, Frankie Brennan, who is back for his 14th season as an assistant coach.

LELE FOROOD

THE PETER AND HELEN BING DIRECTOR OF WOMEN'S TENNIS

Stanford (1978)

9th Season

1997 ITA National Asst. Coach of the Year

2003 Wilson/ITA National Coach of the Year

Head coach Lele Forood, the 2003 Wilson/ITA National Coach of the Year and three-time Pac-10 Coach of the Year, enters her ninth year at the helm of the Cardinal.

Under Forood's guidance, Stanford has solidified its reputation as the premier women's tennis program in the nation. During her tenure, the Cardinal has compiled an unthinkable 214-10 record while capturing five NCAA team titles and eight consecutive Pac-10 championships.

Stanford has maintained two lengthy streaks under Forood's tutelage. Last year, the Cardinal made its 27th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance and has now tallied a 39-2 postseason ledger during Forood's tenure. Additionally, Stanford is unbeaten in its last 134 home matches, including 106 in the regular season, as the streak dates back to the 1999 season.

In addition to last year's NCAA quarterfinal appearance, the Cardinal has posted one semifinal showing and one runner-up finish, falling to Florida 4-3 in the 2003 NCAA title match.

In 2008, Stanford finished 22-5 overall and earned a share of the Pac-10 title with UCLA. Meanwhile, Forood picked up her 200th career victory midway through the year in a 5-2 win over William & Mary and earned ITA Regional Coach of the Year honors.

After serving as an assistant and associate head coach at Stanford for 13 years, Forood has made the most of her time with the Cardinal.

Prior to suffering a 4-3 dual match loss to Georgia Tech on Feb. 3, 2007, Forood directed the Cardinal to a historic 89-match winning streak that spanned three undefeated seasons (2004-06) and resulted in three NCAA titles, three Pac-10 championships and numerous conference and national accolades along the way.

The 2007 squad finished 24-2 overall and 8-0 in Pac-10 play, securing the 20th league title in school history and providing Forood with her third Pac-10 Coach of the Year honor. Despite playing almost three months without its normal lineup in tact as key starters battled injuries, Stanford reached the NCAA semifinals and was honored with five All-Americans.

In 2006, Forood guided the Cardinal to its 15th NCAA Team Championship in the 25-year history of the tournament. The Cardinal posted a 4-1 victory over Miami in the title match, claiming the hardware on its home court. Individually, five players (Alice Barnes, Celia Durkin, Amber Liu, Theresa Logar and Anne Yelsey) earned All-America honors.

Forood led Stanford to a 27-0 overall record and a 4-0 shutout of Texas in the 2005 NCAA Championship match. Barnes and Erin Burdette, the ITA Doubles Team of the Year, captured the NCAA Doubles Championship, besting teammates Liu and Yelsey in the finals. The Cardinal also won its 18th Pac-10 team title, while Barnes and Yelsey were crowned the conference doubles champions.

The first of three straight undefeated seasons occurred in 2004, as the Cardinal downed UCLA 4-1 in the NCAA Championship match. Forood helped Liu win her second straight NCAA Singles Championship, while doubles pair Lauren Barnikow and Burdette were named the ITA and Pac-10 Doubles Team of the Year.

Forood became the first female head coach to win the NCAA team title in 2001. The championship was the first for Forood, who was an assistant coach for five national title runs from 1989-1991 and in 1997 and 1999. She guided the Cardinal to a stellar 30-0 mark in her rookie season at the helm, in addition to the 2000 Pac-10 Championship and a final No. 1 ranking. That year marked the seventh perfect season and first in over 10 years.

Lele Forood was named the 2003 Wilson/ITA National Coach of the Year, and has guided the Cardinal to the national title five times in eight years as head coach.

Forood replaced one of Stanford's all-time great coaches in Frank Brennan, who retired in June 2000 after 21 years and 10 national championships.

She was an assistant coach for 10 years before being promoted to associate head coach in March of 2000. In 1997, Forood's efforts in helping lead the Cardinal to the NCAA title were recognized as she was named the Division I National Assistant Coach of the Year by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association.

An All-American at Stanford 1976 – the first year All-American accolades were awarded – Forood was a National Collegiate singles finalist as a freshman and a semifinalist during her sophomore campaign in leading Stanford to two second place national finishes. Competing internationally, she captured the gold medal in both singles and doubles at the 1975 Pan American Games. She was also the 1975 national amateur singles and doubles champion. Forood was ranked as high as 30th on the women's professional tour, and she had an impressive victory over Wimbledon Champion and second-seed Virginia Wade at the 1977 U.S. Open. At the 1976 U.S. Open, Forood teamed with Rachel Giscafere to reach the doubles semifinals.

Forood was a member of the Board of Women's Tennis Associates from 1979-1987 and served as its secretary-treasurer from 1983-87. She has been extremely active in promoting WTA events, and was the recipient of the prestigious WTA Player Service Award in 1983. After the tour and before coming back to Stanford, she promoted the first professional women's tour event in France from 1986-1988 at Strasbourg.

A San Francisco native who grew up in Mill Valley, New York and then Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Forood earned a degree in Sociology from Stanford in 1978.

FRANKIE BRENNAN

ASSISTANT COACH

Univ. of Redlands (1994)
14th Season
2003 ITA National Assistant
Coach of the Year

Frankie Brennan, the 2005 ITA Northwest Region Assistant Coach of the Year and son of legendary former head coach Frank Brennan, begins his 14th year as an assistant coach on The Farm.

During his time as an assistant coach, Brennan has tutored numerous student-athletes to All-America and Pac-10 accolades. Since joining the staff, he has helped guide the Cardinal to a 354-18 overall record, seven national championships and 13 straight conference titles. In 2003, Brennan's contributions were recognized on a higher level when he was named the ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year.

Brennan was a two-time all-conference player for the University of Redlands, where he helped the team to a Final Four appearance in 1993 and a fifth-place national finish in 1994. He was also a two-time All-Conference player at Foothill Junior College, where he helped lead the team to a semifinal appearance in the state championships in 1991 and a runner-up finish in 1992.

In 1991, Brennan was voted as The Times Tribune Athlete of the week twice, named MVP of the tennis team and nominated as The Times Tribune Athlete of the Year. He was also nominated for the Foothill College Male Athlete of the Year.

Brennan was head coach of the women's tennis team at the University of Redlands in 1995 before coming to work for his father in 1996. He has also worked for the United States Tennis Association, assisting in the Area Training Center and serving as a USTA zonal coach. Brennan has also been a hitting partner for Venus Williams and other top professionals at the Bank of the West Classic. Brennan also played a few years on the satellite circuit.

Brennan prepped at St. Francis and Los Altos High schools, where he was a four-year letterwinner in both tennis and football. He finished his senior year on the East Coast at Mt. St. Joseph High School in Vermont where he was a standout running back on their State Championship football team.

A third generation coach, Brennan and his family have been involved with coaching tennis for years. His grandfather was Billie Jean King's coach for 18 years, as well as the personal instructor to former president Jimmy Carter and his family while he was in the White House. In May of 2002, Inside Tennis named the "Brennan Clan," Frank Sr., Jr. and III, to their top-10 list of "Guys Who Have Lent A Hand" to women's tennis.

FRANK BRENNAN

VOLUNTEER ASSISTANT COACH

Indiana (1966)
1st Season

Stanford will add even more experience and tradition to its bench this year as coaching legend Frank Brennan enters his first season as the club's volunteer assistant coach.

Brennan is the winningest coach in program history, compiling a 510-50 overall record in 21 years while leading the Cardinal to 10 NCAA championships (1982, 1984, 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1997 and 1999). During his time on The Farm, Brennan developed some of the finest collegiate players in the country, which resulted in nine NCAA singles and three NCAA doubles titles.

The ITA and Pac-10 Coach of the Year in 1999, Brennan also accumulated other numerous honors throughout his career. In December 2000, he was honored by both Wilson Sporting Goods and the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (formerly the ITCA) as the women's collegiate tennis "Coach of the Decade." It marked the second time Brennan received the award as he was recognized as "Coach of the Decade" for the 1980s, as well.

In 1991, he again was honored as the Coach of the Decade by the NCAA as part of the NCAA All-Decade Team. The Northern California Tennis Hall of Fame member (February 1994) is also a five-time Pac-10 Southern Division Coach-of-the-Year honoree and winner of the 1998, 1999 and 2000 Pac-10 Coach of the Year award.

In addition to the numerous national champions he has coached, Brennan tutored 40 players to 94 All-America selections and 22 players to 45 All-Pac-10 honors during his tenure. Additionally, he guided four Cardinal squads to perfect records.

Head Coach Lele Forood says: "Lindsay had a development year last season where she played tough matches against the best players in the country and continued to learn how to utilize her game to its fullest. She finished her sophomore year on a high note and will work hard this year to find the consistency in results that her game is capable of bringing at this level. She is very comfortable attacking, which will always be the goal of her play in both singles and doubles. Look for a profound maturity and purpose to Lindsay's game this season and some inspired doubles play to boot."

While she might look somewhat small in stature, she hits much bigger than her size, a talent she shares with a few teammates! Her backhand is already a great shot and with a concentration on smart serving and work on her fore-court game, Courtney will make a strong push in the singles lineup this season. She is a gritty competitor and her past success at national tournaments on the junior level will set the stage for continued success in the college game as well."

Sally Ride, the first American woman in space in 1983, was recognized in January 2005 as the 38th recipient of the Theodore Roosevelt Award for considerable professional accomplishments as well as her contributions to intercollegiate athletics and higher education. A three sport athlete at Swarthmore in tennis, field hockey and basketball, Ride transferred to Stanford where she played #1 singles from 1969-72. She reached the quarterfinals of the International Intercollegiate Tennis Championship. She earned four degrees from Stanford: a BS in physics and BA in English in 1973, a MA in physics and a PhD in astrophysics in 1975 and 1978, respectively. Ride was the NCAA Silver Anniversary Award winner in 1998.

2008-09: Posted a 2-3 mark during the fall season ... picked up victories in her final two matches ... registered her first career victory on Oct. 18 at the ITA Northwest Regional Championships, defeating Eastern Washington's Caitlin Bampton 6-0, 6-2 in a first round consolation match ... added a 6-0, 6-3 mock dual match win at the No. 5 position over Alyssa Nafarrete of Hawai'i.

Prior to Stanford: Four-year letterwinner at Brentwood High School in Los Angeles, Calif. ... compiled a 108-4 overall record during her high school career ... CIF Player of the Year ... CIF MVP ... individual CIF champion in 2006 (all divisions) ... guided team to CIF semifinals in 2007, a championship in 2005 and final appearance in 2004 ... 2007 Los Angeles Player of the Year ... national team experience includes the following: USTA national team, World Youth Cup in the Czech Republic, Maureen Connolly Brinker Cup and The Maccabiah Games.

Personal: Parents are Stuart and Susan Hansen ... has one sister, Austin ... hobbies include singing (was a member of high school choir for four years).

Head Coach Lele Forood says: "Logan is the latest Angelino recruit to arrive on The Farm. She has had an illustrious junior career tempered lately by a concentration on academics. Her increased focus back on the court is already yielding growth in her game. Her forehand and serve are first-class shots and she possesses plenty of pop to build a power game. Logan's sense of the court and anticipation are both excellent and with a commitment to improved court coverage and positioning, she will start to see the results in singles and doubles."

2008-09: Tallied a 3-2 record in singles play during the fall season ... won her first three matches of the year in straight-sets at the ITA Northwest Regional Championships before dropping a hard-fought 2-6, 6-3, 6-2 decision to No. 12 Melanie Gloria of Fresno State in the round of 16 ... suffered a 6-3, 6-4 defeat to Anja-Vanessa Parker of Hawai'i in a mock dual match at the No.4 spot.

Prior to Stanford: Has prior experience with international competition representing the USA.

Personal: Parents are Li Jian and Song Wei ... father, Li Jian, was a member of his college track and field team and established the school record in the 400-m hurdles ... enjoys reading and traveling ... looking to pursue a career in political science or East Indian studies.

Head Coach Lele Forood says: "Veronica comes to The Farm having played plenty of international junior tennis events, including most of the Grand Slams. She is a very good ball striker, loves to play her hard, flat groundstrokes on the rise and has a nice serve to complement the power. V is an avid student, listens well and picks up nuances quickly. She will provide a nice spark to the lineup in singles and doubles this season and gain valuable experience in what leads to success in the college game."

2008-09: Posted a 6-2 mark during the fall, sharing the team lead for victories with Hilary Barte ... reached the quarterfinals of the Saint Mary's Invitational ... advanced to the round of 16 at the ITA Northwest Regionals, surrendering just 10 games in three victories before falling to No. 21 Katrina Zheltova ... outlasted Melinda Wong of Hawai'i 4-6, 6-2, 1-0 (6) in a mock dual match ... earned a preseason ranking of No. 77.

2007-08: Finished 28-10 overall and 19-6 in duals, with those victory totals ranking second on the squad ... played primarily at the bottom two spots of the lineup (11-1 at No. 5 and 6-5 on No. 6) ... received a final national ranking of No. 104 ... won six of her final eight matches to close out the year, including all three in the NCAA Tournament ... 12-8 against Pac-10 opponents ... 14-4 in home matches ... 7-2 on the road ... 2-4 in three-set matches ... won at least three matches in a row on six different occasions ... pieced together a season-high seven-match winning streak for most of the month of March ... one of her biggest wins came in the form of a 6-4, 6-2 decision over then-No. 6 Maya Johansson of Georgia Tech at the NCTC Classic in January ...notched a 5-2 mark during fall action ... reached the quarterfinals of the ITA Northwest Regional Championships, defeating No. 66 Stephanie Kusano of California 6-4, 6-4 and No. 43 Renata Kucerkova of Fresno State 6-2, 6-3 along the way ... eventually lost to teammate and champion Jessica Nguyen ... picked up a win in her collegiate debut, breezing past Robin Guier of UC Davis 6-1, 6-0 at the Saint Mary's Invitational on Oct. 12 ... teamed up with Jennifer Yen to reach the championship match of the Saint Mary's Invitational ... in doubles, teamed with Celia Durkin at the No. 3 position to finish 19-5 overall and 18-4 in duals.

Prior to Stanford: Attended King School ... recipient of the Bausch and Lomb Math and Science award at King School ... ranked in the top-10 nationally in under-14 age division and top-20 in the under-16 and under-18 divisions ... ranked No. 1 in the New England under-18 division at the age of 14, winning the under-18 New England Sectional Championship at the age of 14 ... also competed in the Junior U.S. Open.

Personal: Parents are Robert and Joan ... has two siblings, Brendan and Devin ... hobbies include skiing, running and swimming.

Head Coach Lele Forood says: "Carolyn had an interesting freshman campaign marked by great wins and tough close losses. She possesses skills all around the court, including great coverage ability, but it will be the focus on her attacking game that will separate this year from last. Her excellent volleying ability will be put to use more and with an improved serve, Carolyn will continue to make lots of progress in both singles and doubles as she follows through on her immense potential. She served notice at the Freeman Memorial Championship that her 'bigger' game will get results."

Advanced to the semifinals of two singles and doubles Pro Circuit events and the finals of a doubles pro circuit event in Tucson, Ariz.

Personal: Daughter of Trung and Susan ... Brother Jason played tennis at UCLA ... Enjoys writing, music and traveling.

Head Coach Lele Forood says: "Jessica starts her senior year looking back on having had her usual superb play and a few injury issues last year. Hopefully with a fully healthy campaign coming up, she will re-establish herself as a top-10 singles player and a crafty and effective doubles teammate. Her game is very diverse and like Hilary, she can hit much bigger than her size would indicate. She combines power with touch and almost always goes for the best shot choice available. It should be an entertaining time watching Jessica, a co-captain, lead this young team!"

2008-09: Did not compete during the fall season.

2007-08: Finished with a 2-4 overall record ... did not play in any dual matches ... participated in three singles matches during the fall, going 2-1 ... 2-1 in home matches ... won her first collegiate singles match, when Nevada's Florence DeVrye withdrew from the round of 128 on Oct. 19 at the ITA Northwest Regional Championships ... also defeated Oregon's Anna Powaska in the following round by a 7-5, 6-2 score.

Prior to Stanford: Lettered four years in tennis at Stacey High School ... four-time team captain ... four-time 1A Texas State champion.

Personal: Parents are Jose and Maria ... has one brother, Isaac ... hobbies include playing basketball, spending time at the beach and eating Puerto Rican food.

Head Coach Lele Forood says: "Isamarie spent her junior year gaining tons of experience at the collegiate level during her first season on the team. She has a huge serve, plays doubles very intuitively, as well as aggressively. Her singles game improved with more and more match play. This season she has had a wrist injury and not been able to play yet. When she returns, she will continue to bring experience, support and advice, along with big shot-making to enhance this young team's success."

Bob BOWLSBY

THE JAQUISH & KENNINGER DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

One of the most respected and admired athletic administrators in the nation, Bob Bowsby enters his third full year as the Jaquish & Kenninger Director of Athletics at Stanford University, a position he was appointed to on April 25, 2006 after spending 15 years at the helm of the University of Iowa's athletic program. In his initial two years in the position, Stanford has continued its well-earned reputation of fielding the most successful and wide-ranging Division I-A athletic programs in the nation.

As Stanford's sixth athletic director, Bowsby succeeds Ted Leland (1991-2005), Andy Geiger (1979-90), Joe Ruetz (1972-78), Chuck Taylor (1963-71) and Al Masters (1925-63). Bowsby directs a department that includes 35 intercollegiate varsity teams – 15 men's, 19 women's and one coed – plus the physical education department, intramurals, club sports, open recreation and the Stanford Golf Course. The department has an annual budget of approximately $75 million and a staff of over 225.

"Bob Bowsby represents the best professional and personal values when it comes to student-athletes," said Stanford University Provost John Etchemendy. "He understands that the success of an athletics program is not simply measured in wins and losses, but in the academic achievements and character of the young women and men who work so hard on the field and in the classroom."

Under his administrative guidance, Stanford claimed its unprecedented 14th straight U.S. Sports Academy Directors' Cup last year, emblematic of the top overall program in the country. Sixteen Stanford teams boasted Top 10 finishes, winning national championships in women's cross country and synchronized swimming. In addition, the women's volleyball, women's basketball and men's golf teams enjoyed runner-up NCAA Tournament finishes in their respective sports, while the men's basketball team advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. Eight Stanford teams claimed conference championships.

Stanford's student-athletes were also highly-decorated last season. Two players – Foluke Akinradewo (women's volleyball) and Candice Wiggins (women's basketball) – earned national player of the year honors while nine student-athletes earned conference player of the year marks. In addition, three student-athletes – Hilary Barte (women's tennis), Alex Clayton (men's tennis) and Alix Klineman (women's volleyball) – earned national freshman of the year accolades.

Stanford student-athletes continue to excel in the classroom, as 14 Cardinal student-athletes earned academic All-America status during the 2007-08 season. Six Stanford student-athletes – Neftalem Araia (cross country), Russell Brown (track and field), Rachel Buehler (women's soccer), Tanner Gardner (wrestling), Rob Grube (men's golf) and Arianna Lambie (women's cross country) – were named Pac-10 Scholar Athletes of the Year.

Ten Stanford student-athletes – Araia, Buehler, Dylan Carney (men's gymnastics), Michael Garcia (men's track and field), Gardner, Sandy Hohener (men's water polo), Graeme Hoste (men's track and field), Josh Hustedt (track and field), Lambie and Laura Shane (lacrosse) – were named NCAA Postgraduate Scholars. In addition, Carney was the recipient of the Walter Byers Postgraduate Scholarship, the highest academic honor in intercollegiate athletics.

Bowsby continues to leave his mark in Stanford's coaching circles. Under first-year head coach Jim Harbaugh, the Stanford football team was on of the most improved squads in the Pac-10 Conference last season, as evident of wins over top-ranked (USA Today) USC and defending Pac-10 Conference co-champion Cal. Last spring, Bowsby ushered in a new era of Stanford basketball with the hiring of head coach Johnny Dawkins.

Throughout his career, Bowsby has emerged as a national leader in intercollegiate and amateur athletics. He was named in February, 2007, to the United States Olympic Committee Board of Directors.

He has previously served as President of the NCAA Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association (2002-03), Chair of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee for two years (2003-05) and a committee member for five years, Chair of the Big Ten Administrator's Council (2002-04) and Chair of the NCAA Management Council.

Bowsby was appointed by President George Bush as a member of the Commission on Opportunities in Athletics in 2002-03. The committee was led by U.S. Secretary of Education Rod Paige.

Bowsby was elected chair of the NCAA Olympic Sports Liaison Committee and represented the NCAA as one of two voting members on the United States Olympic Committee Board of Directors. He served as a member of the NCAA/U.S. Olympic Committee Task Force chaired by Cedric Dempsey and George Steinbrenner.

In addition, Bowsby served as chair of the NCAA Wrestling Committee and has served on NCAA committees on Financial Aid and Amateurism, the Special Committee to Review Amateurism Issues and the Special Committee to Review Financial Conditions in Athletics.

Bowsby has also served as an Executive Committee member with both the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and served as President of the I-A organization for two years.

The National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) named Bowsby in 2001-02 as Central Region Athletic Director of the Year and Sports Business Journal selected him from the four regional award winners as the National Athletics Director of the Year. The award highlights the efforts of the athletic directors for their commitment and positive contributions to campuses and their surrounding communities.

As the chief administrator for Iowa's athletic department from 1991-2006, Bowsby earned a reputation as one of the most admired, energetic and ambitious athletic administrators in the nation. Bowsby guided and supervised the merger of the Hawkeye's women's and men's athletics departments while enabling Iowa to maintain its standing as one of the most visible and successful Division I athletic programs.

Under his leadership, Iowa enjoyed unprecedented success and growth in the area of fund raising and facilities. Bowsby and the UI Development staff put in place $25 million in endowments to help support Hawkeye student-athlete scholarship aid. In addition, he managed the planning and construction of $120 million in facility projects on campus, including an $87 million renovation to Kinnick Stadium.

A native of Waterloo, Iowa, Bowsby became Iowa's 10th Athletic Director in June, 1991, after serving in the same role at the University of Northern Iowa since 1984. Bowsby earned his bachelor's degree from Moorhead State University (Minnesota) in 1975 and his master's degree from the University of Iowa in 1978. He and his wife, Candice, have four children: Lisa, Matt, Rachel and Kyle.

Stanford University at a Glance

On October 1, 1891, the 465 new students who were on hand for opening day ceremonies at Leland Stanford Junior University greeted Leland and Jane Stanford enthusiastically, with a chant they had made up and rehearsed only that morning. Wah-hoo! Wah-hoo! L-S-J-U! Stanford! Its wild and spirited tone symbolized the excitement of this bold adventure. As a pioneer faculty member recalled, "Hope was in every heart, and the presiding spirit of freedom prompted us to dare greatly."

For the Stanford's on that day, the university was the realization of a dream and a fitting tribute to the memory of their only son, who had died of typhoid fever weeks before his sixteenth birthday. Far from the nation's center of culture and unencumbered by tradition or ivy, the new university drew students from all over the country: many from California; some who followed professors hired from other colleges and universities; and some simply seeking adventure in the West. Though there were many difficulties during the first months – housing was inadequate, microscopes and books were late in arriving from the East – the first year foretold of greatness. As Jane Stanford wrote in the summer of 1892, "Even our fondest hopes have been realized."

Ideas of "Practical Education"

Governor and Mrs. Stanford had come from families of modest means and had built their way up through a life of hard work. So it was natural that their first thoughts were to establish an institution where young men and women could "grapple successfully with the practicalities of life." As their thoughts matured, these ideas of "practical education" enlarged to the concept of producing cultured and useful citizens who were well-prepared for professional success.

Nearly 116 years later, the university still enjoys the original 8,180 acres (almost 13 square miles) of grassy fields, eucalyptus groves, and rolling hills that were the Stanford's generous legacy, as well as the Quadrangle of "long corridors with their stately pillars" at the center of campus. It is still true, as the philosopher William James said, during his stint as a visiting professor, that the climate is "so friendly ... that every morning wakes one fresh for new amounts of work."

Current Perspectives

In other ways, the university has changed tremendously on its way to recognition as one of the world's great universities. At the hub of a vital and diverse Bay Area, Stanford is less than hour's drive south of San Francisco and just a few minutes north of the Silicon Valley, an area dotted with computer and high technology firms largely spawned by the university's faculty and graduates. On campus, students and faculty enjoy new libraries, modern laboratories, tremendous sports and recreation facilities, and comfortable residences. Contemporary sculpture, as well as pieces from the Stanford Museum's extensive collection of sculpture by Auguste Rodin, is placed throughout the campus, providing unexpected pleasures at many turns. At the Stanford Medical Center, world-renowned for its research, teaching, and patient care, scientists and physicians are searching for answers to fundamental questions about health and disease. Ninety miles down the coast, at Stanford's Hopkins Marine Station on the Monterey Bay, scientists are working to better understand the mechanisms of evolution, human development, and ecological systems.

The university is organized into seven schools: Earth Sciences, Education, Engineering, the Graduate School of Business, Humanities and Sciences, Law and Medicine. In addition, there are more than 30 interdisciplinary centers, programs, and research laboratories – including the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace; the Institute for International Studies; the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center; and the Stanford Center for the Study of Families, Children and Youth – where faculty from a wide range of fields bring different perspectives to bear on issues and problems. Stanford's Overseas Studies Program offers students in all fields remarkable opportunities for study abroad, with campuses in Australia, Beijing, Berlin, Cape Town, Florence, Kyoto, Madrid, Moscow, Oxford, Paris, and Santiago.

Stanford People

By any measure, Stanford's faculty – which numbers just over 1,800 – is one of the most distinguished in the nation. As of the June of 2007, the faculty included 18 Nobel Laureates, four Pulitzer Prize winners, 24 MacArthur Fellows, 21 recipients of the National Medal of Science, three National Medley of Technology recipients, 228 members of the National Academy of Arts and Sciences, 135 members of the National Academy of Sciences, 83 National Academy of Engineering members, 29 members of the National Academy of Education, seven Wolf Foundation Prize winners, seven winners of the Koret Foundation Prize and three Presidential Medal of Freedom winners. Yet beyond their array of honors, what truly distinguishes Stanford faculty is their commitment to sharing knowledge with their students. The great majority of professors teach undergraduates both in introductory lecture classes and in small advanced seminars.

Currently 14881 students, of which 6689 are undergraduates, live and study on campus. A little more than 40 percent come from California, but all 50 states and approximately 68 countries are represented as well. Among undergraduates, approximately 55 percent are African American, Asian American, International, Mexican American, Native American, Native Hawaiian or Other Hispanic in ethnicity. Like the faculty, the Stanford student body is distinguished.

Approximately 10 students apply to Stanford for every place in the freshman class with 89% of those admitted finishing in the top 10% of their high school class. Ninety-four Stanford students have been named Rhodes Scholars, 74 have been selected Marshall Award winners, and 49 have been chosen Truman Scholars. Nearly 90 percent of graduating seniors plan to attend graduate or professional schools. Stanford students also shine in a tremendous array of activities outside the classroom – from student government to music, theater, and journalism. Through the Haas Center for Public Service, students participate in many community service activities, such as tutoring programs for children in nearby East Palo Alto, the Hunger Project, and the Arbor Free Clinic.

In the athletic arena, Stanford students have enjoyed tremendous success as well. Stanford fields teams in 36 Division I varsity sports (15 men, 20 women, 1 co-ed). Of Stanford's 95 NCAA titles (107 national), 55 have been captured since 1990, by far the most in the nation. Thirty-eight of Stanford's athletes and coaches participated in the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona, 49 competed in Atlanta at the 1996 Games, 34 represented Stanford at the 2000 Games in Sydney, and 43 Stanford associates competed at the 2004 Games in Athens. Intramural and club sports are also popular; over 1,000 students take part in the club sports program, while participation in the intramural program has reached 9,000, with many students active in more than one sport.

Looking Ahead

In her address to the Board of Trustees, in 1904, Jane Stanford said, “. . . Let us not be afraid to outgrow old thoughts and ways, and dare to think on new lines as to the future of the work under our care.”

Her thoughts echo in the words of former Stanford President Gerhard Casper, who has said, “The true university must reinvent itself every day . . . At Stanford, these are days of such reconsideration and fresh support for our fundamental tasks – teaching, learning, and research.”

Stanford captured its unprecedented 14th consecutive U.S. Sports Academy Directors' Cup last year, finishing with a total of 1461 points after placing in 21 postseason championships and earning points in the maximum 10 women's sports and nine men's sports. Stanford boasted an impressive 12 top-five finishes, winning a national championship in women's cross country, placing second in women's volleyball, women's basketball, men's gymnastics and men's golf, third in men's and women's swimming, women's gymnastics, women's water polo and fifth in women's indoor track and field and women's tennis. Stanford also finished seventh in men's indoor track, eighth in fencing, ninth in women's soccer, softball and men's basketball, 17th in men's tennis and 19th in men's cross country and wrestling.

Fall

Stanford finished fall competition with 315 points, good for third place in the Division I Sports Academy Directors' Cup standings behind California (370) and USC (343). The Cardinal scored points in five of nine fall sports, led by a strong showing by the women's cross country team, which captured its third straight NCAA championship. The women's volleyball team made another appearance in the NCAA title match, while the women's field hockey (9th), women's soccer (NCAA third round) and men's cross country teams (19th NAAs) all enjoyed strong fall showings.

Winter

Stanford took control of the Directors' Cup standings with a strong showing in the winter, as 10 Cardinal teams accounted for 767 points. Stanford women's basketball team advanced to the championship game of the NCAA Tournament while the Cardinal men's and women's gymnastics team finished second and third, respectively, at the NCAA Championships. Stanford finished third in men's and women's swimming, fifth in women's indoor track and field, seventh in men's indoor track and field, eighth in fencing, ninth in men's basketball and 19th in wrestling.

Spring

Stanford teams followed up their strong winter performances with an impressive spring, netting 468.00 points. The Stanford women's water polo team placed third at the NCAA Championships while the men's golf team and women's tennis team finished second and fifth, respectively, at their NCAA Championship events. Stanford also placed ninth in women's track and field, 17th in men's tennis and 25th in women's golf.

Directors' Cup Overview

The Sports Academy Directors' Cup was developed as a joint effort between the National Collegiate Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) and the USA Today in 1993-94 in an effort to honor universities that strive for success in all of their sports programs. The program was expanded in 1995-96 to include Division II, III and the NAIA. Each institution is awarded points based on an institutions finish in 20 sports – 10 each for men and women.

Stanford's Champions

NCAA championships are commonplace at Stanford University, as Cardinal teams have won national titles at an unprecedented rate, including a national-best 79 since 1980 and 56 since 1990. Stanford has won at least one NCAA championship for 32 consecutive years and has won four national titles in a single season nine times.

Nine different Stanford teams have won at least five national titles, including men's tennis (18), women's tennis (16), men's water polo (11), women's swimming and diving (9), men's swimming and diving (8), men's golf (8), women's volleyball (6), synchronized swimming (6) and women's cross country (5). A total of 19 Stanford teams have won at least one national championship.

Stanford teams have won a total of 109 national championships. In NCAA competition, Cardinal teams have won 95 team titles, including 58 men's championships and an NCAA-best 37 women's titles.
