Avery Aquatic Center

The recently rebuilt and remodeled Avery Aquatic Center is home to Stanford water polo, swimming and diving, and women's synchronized swimming. It is widely regarded as the finest outdoor facility in the United States, and one of the best in the world.

One of the highlights of the facility is a 37-meter and 14-feet deep competition pool, which can seat 2,530 spectators in a stadium-like setting. The facility also features a 25-meter diving well with a 10-meter diving tower. The variety of pools within the entire facility gives Stanford athletes and coaches tremendous flexibility when designing training programs and scheduling practices and competitions for all five home teams.

The newly constructed Avery Video Center has added 2,000 square feet to the existing Avery Aquatic Center. At a cost of $1.4 million, the Avery Video Center provides a meeting facility for all aquatic sports programs.

The Avery Aquatic Center was host to the first-ever NCAA Women's Water Polo Championship in May of 2001, and most recently hosted the 2004 Men's Water Polo MPSF and NCAA Championships. It will also be the host site of the 2008 Men's and Women's NCAA Championships.

2008 WATER POLO CHAMPIONSHIP

NATIONAL COLLEGIATE • STANFORD, CALIFORNIA

(800) STANFORD

The 2008 edition of the Stanford women's water polo team will not only look forward to continuing the program's heralded success this year, but also carry with it a sizable amount of motivation after falling one goal short of the 2007 national title. Following a 27-3 season that included winning the MPSF regular-season title with a perfect 12-0 conference record, the Cardinal is more determined than ever to bring home the program's second national championship in 2008.

Stanford once again possesses the pieces for a successful run at its first title since 2002. The 2008 squad boasts a returning All-American, two All-MPSF performers, 10 returners, and seven newcomers primed to undertake the path to May's NCAA Championship.

Head Coach John Tanner, in his 11th season helming the Cardinal and now a four-time MPSF Coach of the Year after capturing the honor again in 2007, looks forward to seeing his young squad rise to the challenges standing between it and a second NCAA title. Through his previous 10 years at Stanford, Tanner has compiled a record of 244-43 (.850), captured a national title in 2002, and led the Cardinal to a feat that no other program has accomplished, appearances in all seven NCAA Championships.

"We have a lot of experienced players with good speed who play well in front of the goal as well as on the perimeter, so it is a balanced group," Tanner says.

Despite having just two seniors and seven upperclassmen on the 17-player roster, the Cardinal still boast a group laden with talent as well as vital collegiate and international experience.

Seniors Jackie Gauthier and Megan Nesland will be relied upon to provide much of the leadership and experience in 2008. Besides having three NCAA appearances and a pair of national runner-up finishes to their credit, the duo also boasts a winning resume, with 72 wins under their collective belt while at Stanford.

"We don't have as many seniors as we've had in the past, so we're going to look for our two seniors to really guide the team," says Tanner. "We'll need our whole team to play with great poise and composure when we get into difficult situations."

Yet Tanner is also confident in his team's ability to step up and continue the productivity of the graduated players.

"I think our players see what the older players did," Tanner says. "When these players graduate, the current players understand that there is a hole that needs to be filled, and one of the hallmarks of our program is that players step into that void and play a bigger role."

Also providing support will be 2007 All-American Lauren Silver, the team's co-scoring leader with 64 goals in 2007, as well as MPSF All-Freshman Team selection Kelly Eaton, who scored 26 goals last year. Additionally, sophomore Kelsey Holshouser (21 goals in 2007) and junior Kira Hillman (20 goals) bring offensive production to the table. Freshmen Kim Krueger and Amber Oland, members of the Junior National Team that participated in the 2007 Junior FINA World Championships in Porto, Portugal this past summer (along with Silver and junior Jessica Steffens), bring strong international experience to Stanford.

"Our freshmen are a very experienced group, given their age. They've played a lot of international water polo and had a lot of success," Tanner says of his squad. "This year's sophomores and juniors went through it last season, and we've been in the NCAA Championships every year, so playing all-or-nothing, win-or-you're-out games is nothing novel to our team."

Here is a look at the Cardinal by position:

Goalkeepers

With the graduation of three-time All-American goalkeeper Meredith McColl last June, the Cardinal head into 2008 with a pair of freshman goalkeepers in Amber Oland and Kim Hall.

Oland, a native of Santa Ana, Calif., comes to The Farm after a successful prep and international career as a member of the U.S. Junior National Team. This past summer, Oland competed with the Junior National Team at the FINA Junior World Championships in Portugal, and, as a prep at Foothill High School, was a three-time All-CIF selection.

A Kaneohe, Hawai'i native, Hall joins the Cardinal after starting for both the water polo and swim teams at Punahou High School. Twice named to the all-league squad in water polo, Hall will compete for time in the cage as well in 2008.

"We have only two goalies, both freshmen, so we're going to expect a lot from them in the goal," Tanner says about the team's goalkeeper situation. "Amber is a highly-regarded, experienced goalie, and Kim is a talented and determined athlete who is showing significant signs of competence at the collegiate level."

Two-Meter Offensive and Defensive Players

The graduation of four-time All-American Christina Hewko (38 goals in 2007) and 2007 All-American Alison Gregorka (22 goals), combined with the absence of junior Jessica Steffens, who will redshirt 2008 in order to train for the upcoming Olympic Games, means that the Cardinal will employ a committee of players to hold down the fort at the two-meter position this season.

Sophomore Alex Koran returns this year to build off of a rookie campaign that saw her score 10 goals, while freshmen Emily Clopp and Allie Gerrity will also provide depth at the two-meter position.

In addition to the young trio, senior Jackie Gauthier will see time in the middle on both offense and defense. Junior Koree Blyleven, along with 2008 co-captains Lauren Silver and Heather West, will also be expected to help out at two meters this season.

"Alex will get the ball a lot, so we'll expect that she will score more goals than she did last year," Tanner says. "Jackie is an effective player in all phases of the game."

Drivers

Stanford returns a healthy amount of production at the driver position for 2008, highlighted by junior captain Lauren Silver. In 2007, Silver scored a total of 64 goals, scored in 28 of 30 contests, and posted 12 hat tricks.

"Lauren is a very powerful shooter who will take chances and act aggressively when there are opportunities," Tanner says, pointing out Silver's three goals in the 2007 national-title game. "Clearly she's not shy about taking risks offensively, and she is also a very good defensive player."

Gauthier, West, and Blyleven will also make their contributions at the driver position and the two-meter spot. The offensive production and skill of Gauthier and Blyleven will help the Cardinal's high-scoring attack, while the defensive expertise of West provides the team with a solid all-around presence in front of the goal.

Senior Megan Nesland, one of two seniors on the squad along with Gauthier, is another strong defensive presence for the Cardinal who will contribute to limiting opponents' chances this season. Junior Kira Hillman, who upped her scoring to 20 goals last season after netting just three as a freshman, is yet another option for the Cardinal on the attack.

Sophomores Kelly Eaton and Kelsey Holshouser will also be major contributors at the driver position. Eaton, a member of last year's MPSF All-Freshman Team, scored 26 goals on the year and once again this season will be expected to bolster Stanford's offensive output. Holshouser, with 21 goals last season, provides yet another scoring option for the Cardinal on the offensive end. Also returning for the Cardinal this year at the driver position is Megan May, a redshirt junior who scored 12 goals in each of her first two seasons in 2005 and 2006.

The driver position will also be bolstered by the addition of three freshmen eager to make an impact in international players Kim Krueger and Chelsea Smith-Carmichael, as well as prep standout Jenna Gunderson.

Krueger and Smith-Carmichael possess solid international resumés, as both were part of the 2006 Junior Pan-Am Games team that won the gold medal. Most recently, Krueger played with the Junior Team that participated in the Junior FINA World Championships in Portugal over the summer. Gunderson, a graduate of St. Francis High School in Mountain View, is a two-time All-Central Coast Section performer.

"As a group, our freshmen cover a lot of what we need, and we'll expect them to make substantial contributions to whatever success we may have," says Tanner.

Looking Ahead

As has become routine for a successful program such as Stanford, the Cardinal will dive right into a schedule full of the nation's elite. After the opener against Santa Clara on Feb. 3 at Avery, the Cardinal host what has annually been one of the most competitive collegiate water polo tournaments in the country, the Stanford Invitational, from Feb. 9-10.

While the Cardinal will play at least 12 regular-season games at home, the team faces a rigorous challenge on the road, having to face three of it's national top-four counterparts on the road in defending national champion UCLA, USC, and Hawai'i.

"Playing UCLA, USC and Hawai'i on the road this year will be a big challenge," Tanner says. "We will have to be a determined road team to have success and get favorable seeding in the MPSF Tournament. We have some really exciting and challenging home games against traditionally strong teams and teams on the rise. But, we'll have to find success on the road if we're going to qualify for the NCAAs."

Yet there is a carrot at the end of the race for the Cardinal, as this year's NCAA Championships will take place at Stanford's own Avery Stadium. With the opportunity to potentially claim a national title in front of the home crowd, the Cardinal has even more motivation to succeed in the regular season and make a postseason run in 2008.

"We've always had such fantastic fan support, and that's also why the NCAA wants to have the Championships here," Tanner comments. "I think our players will be very excited to have the opportunity to compete here at the end of the season, but we've got a lot to take care of before we even contemplate how that will look."

The MPSF Tournament will be held in San Diego from April 24-27, while the NCAA Championships will take place at Avery Stadium from May 11-13.

The 2008 squad boasts a returning All-American, two All-MPSF performers, 10 returners, and seven newcomers primed to undertake the path to May's NCAA Championship.

Coach Tanner led the Cardinal to a National Championship in 2002.

John Tanner enters his 11th season at the helm of the Stanford women's water polo program. An experienced and enthusiastic coach, Tanner took on the developing program in 1997 and has since turned it into a nationally-ranked powerhouse that has produced an NCAA Championship, four MPSF Championships, 11 U.S. National Team members, and six Olympians. Tanner's squad has also competed in the NCAA Championship game in each of the first three years of the NCAA Tournament, and finished in the top-three nationally each season since he came on board in 1997. Tanner now holds a 244-43 (.850) career coaching record at Stanford.

Under Tanner's guidance last season, Stanford posted a 27-3 overall record and reached the NCAA championship game for the sixth time in program history. His Cardinal squad featured five AWPCA All-Americans, an astounding 10 AWPCA Academic All-Americans, and eight members of both the MPSF All-Conference and All-Academic teams. For his part, Tanner earned his fourth career MPSF Coach of the Year honor.

In 2006, Tanner led his squad to its fourth MPSF Championship and a 24-5 overall record. The Cardinal reached the national semifinals for the tenth-straight season and boasted five AWPCA All-Americans, five Academic All-Americans, five All-Conference honorees, and seven Academic All-Conference honorees.

In 2005, Tanner's squad earned runner-up honors at both the MPSF and NCAA Championships, finishing with a 21-7 overall record. The Cardinal boasted four AWPCA All-Americans, as well as eight Academic All-Americans and MPSF All-Academic selections.

During the 2004 season, Stanford earned third place at the NCAA Championships, following a second-place finish at the MPSF Championships. Posting a 19-5 overall record, the Cardinal was recognized not only for its superior athletic performance, but for its academic achievement as well. Three players were named All-Americans, and seven student-athletes were named MPSF Academic All-Conference and Academic All-Americans.

In 2003, Tanner was named the MPSF Coach of the Year for the second consecutive season after the Cardinal finished first in the MPSF Tournament and placed second in the NCAA Tournament. The Cardinal wrapped up the season with a 21-3 overall record with the help of MPSF Player of the Year Brenda Villa and Goalie of the Year Jackie Frank.

In 2002, he led the Cardinal to its first NCAA Championship and a 23-2 record. The Cardinal earned its first NCAA title, with the help of five All-Americans. Tanner was named the MPSF Coach of the Year for the most successful season in program history.

In 2001, the Cardinal finished second at the NCAA Championships with a 27-1 record, after becoming the first-ever collegiate team to remain undefeated during the regular season.

The 2000 Cardinal posted a record of 28-5 on its way to a third-place finish at the Collegiate Nationals, and boasted five

All-Americans, four players named to Collegiate National All-Tournament teams, and eight Academic All-Americans.

In 1999, the team posted a 25-6 record and placed second at the Collegiate Nationals, falling to USC 7-6 in five overtimes in the Championship game.

In his first year as head coach in 1998, Tanner led Stanford to a 29-6 record and a third place finish at the Collegiate National Championships. That same year, he was named MPSF Coach of the Year, having, at the time, led the Cardinal to its most successful season in the history of the program.

A former Stanford water polo All-American himself, Tanner returned to his alma mater with a fortune of knowledge gained from years of coaching, both at the collegiate and international levels. Tanner has been involved with United States Water Polo in various capacities from 1988 to the present. He was the assistant coach of the U.S. Men's National Team that placed sixth at the 2000 Olympics in Sydney. He garnered the second World Championship of his career in 1997 as the Americans captured the World Cup in Athens, Greece.

Tanner began his international coaching career in 1988 as a scout coach for the U.S. National "A" Team. In December of 1998, he was appointed as head coach of the U.S. National "B" Team, a position he held until early 1991. In March of 1991, he was named the assistant coach of the U.S. Olympic Team. He helped the U.S. squad capture gold at the 1991 World Cup and a fourth-place finish at the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona.

In 1980, while a student-athlete at Stanford, Tanner became involved with coaching when he served as the head coach at Menlo-Atherton High School for one season. He then coached Menlo School for the 1983 season. In 1984, he served as an assistant coach for the Stanford men's water polo team under his former coach Dante Dettamanti, when the team advanced to the NCAA title match and finished the year with a 25-5 mark.

Following the 1984 season, Tanner was hired as the head coach of the men's water polo team at the University of the Pacific in Stockton, California. In 1988, he was named the school's Director of Aquatics and the head coach of the men's swimming program, holding all three titles until his appointment at Stanford in 1996. His teams finished in the top 15 in the nation all of his 12 years and in the top-10 each of his last 10 years. He captured Big West Conference Coach-of-the-Year honors in 1991, and in 1993 his squad finished fifth at the NCAA Championships.

As the men's swimming coach at Pacific, he led the Tigers to a top-20 finish at the NCAA Tournament and coached Brad Schumacher, Pacific's first and only Olympic gold medalist in any sport. Tanner served as Schumacher's coach at the 1996 Summer Olympics in Atlanta, where he earned two gold medals as a member of the U.S. 4x100-meter and 4x200-meter free relay teams.

Originally recruited from Menlo-Atherton High School to swim at Stanford, Tanner instead played on the water polo team his freshman year, beginning a career (1978-82) that spanned three national championships and culminated in All-America honors his senior year. Tanner, a left-handed driver, started for the Cardinal in 1981 and helped lead Stanford to a perfect 31-0 record and its fourth national crown. The undefeated season was only the second in NCAA water polo history. Tanner ranked sixth on the team in goals in 1981, with 27, and garnered Honorable Mention All-America status. In 1982, he finished his career with a 48-goal performance, tying for second on the squad, and helped lead the Cardinal to a 27-5 record and its third-straight NCAA championship match appearance. Tanner was named to the NCAA All-Tournament Team, and, for his efforts throughout the season, earned All-America honors. He graduated in December 1982 with a bachelor's degree in political science.

In addition to coaching, Tanner has been a prominent member of several committees with United States Water Polo. He has served on the men's and women's National Team Head Coach Selection Committees, the Men's International/Olympic Committee and the National Coaches Committee. Tanner is also a member of the American Water Polo Coaches Association and United States Water Polo, Inc.

Stanford Women's Water Polo

Susan Ortwein begins her 11th year as an assistant coach for the Stanford women's water polo program. In her 10 years on The Farm, Ortwein has coached the Cardinal to a 244-43 overall record, an NCAA Championship title, five NCAA runner-up finishes, and four MPSF Championship titles. Last season, Ortwein helped the Cardinal to the MPSF Regular Season Championship and a second-place finish at the NCAA Championships.

In her first year, the Cardinal went 29-6 on its way to a No. 2 national ranking and a third-place finish at Collegiate Nationals. In 1999, Stanford turned in a 25-6 season and concluded the year with second place at the National Collegiate Championship game after falling to USC 7-6 in five overtimes. In 2000, Stanford finished with a third-place finish at Collegiate National Championship and a 28-5 record. In 2001, the Cardinal finished with its best record in school history at 27-1 and became the first-ever collegiate team to remain undefeated during the regular season. In 2002, the Cardinal posted a 23-2 record en route to its first-ever NCAA Championship. During the 2003 season, Stanford posted the program's third runner-up finish at the NCAA Championship, earning a 21-3 overall record. The Cardinal took third at the NCAA Tournament in 2004, placing second at the MPSF Tournament and completing a 19-5 overall record. In 2005, the team posted a 21-7 record and a NCAA runner-up finish, while in 2006, the Cardinal finished with an overall mark of 24-5 and third-place national finish.

Ortwein has primary responsibility for coaching Cardinal goalkeepers and two-meter players. Last season, two-meter player Christina Hewko and goalie Meridith McColl were named All-Americans for the second-straight season, and both received a third All-MPSF honor. In 2003, goalkeeper Jackie Frank was named NCAA Player of the Year and MPSF Goalie of the Year for the second consecutive season. Two-meter player Julie Gardner earned First-Team All-America and MPSF All-Conference honors that year as well.

As head coach of the Stanford Water Polo Foundation, Ortwein coached the team to the program's third National Championship in the summer of 2007, marking back-to-back 20-and-Under national titles for the squad. She also helmed the senior team to a fourth-place finish at the Senior Nationals as well. Current Stanford athletes garnered honors in the tournaments, with Kira Hillman being named the MVP of the 20/U tournament, Kelly Eaton earning All-American nods in both the 20/U and Senior National tournaments, and Jackie Gauthier being named a Senior Nationals All-American. Alex Koran and Heather West also competed for both Stanford squads. In 2003, the team won its first National Championship in Mission Viejo, Calif., led by former Cardinal players Laurel Champion, Lauren Faust and Kate Pettit. In 2004, the Stanford club team earned second-place at Senior Nationals, where recent alum Kelty Luber was honored as Tournament MVP and alums Hannah Luber and Nancy El-Sakkary were named All-Americans. At the 2004 Junior Nationals, the Stanford club team placed fourth, and also boasted the honor of having four players named to the All-Tournament team. During the summer of 2005, Ortwein's squad placed sixth at the USA Water Polo Championships and team member Christina Hewko earned Honorable Mention All-American honors.

In 1998, Ortwein was named assistant coach of the U.S. National Team. In addition to her responsibilities at Stanford, she helped to prepare the U.S. women for the 2000 Olympic qualifying tournament in Italy. The 2000 Summer Olympics in Sydney, where the U.S. won the silver medal, marked the first time women's water polo had been in the Olympic games.

Ortwein, a former collegiate water polo and swimming standout, came to The Farm from the University of the Pacific, where she spent two years at the helm of the Tiger women's water polo program.

At Pacific in 1996, Ortwein became the head coach of the school's first women's water polo team. Successful in establishing a competitive program, she completed her final year (1997) by guiding the Tigers to a 10-14 record, doubling the win total of the inaugural campaign, and establishing Pacific's place among the nation's top competitors.

Ortwein's coaching career began at her alma mater, UC Santa Barbara. She served as a graduate assistant coach for the Gauchos swim team in 1990-91 and as a women's water polo assistant in 1992-93.

In college, Ortwein was one of the top water polo players in UCSB history. A four-time All-American, she was instrumental in two Gauchos national championships (1987 and 1989) and one runner-up finish (1988). She was also an accomplished swimmer, helping UCSB to the Big West Conference title all four years.

She continued her water polo career with the U.S. National Team upon graduation. A national team member in 1991-92, she helped lead the U.S. to a third-place finish at the 1991 FINA World Cup.

Ortwein, a San Diego native, earned a bachelor's degree in sociology from UC Santa Barbara in 1990 and a master's degree in sport science in 1997 from Pacific.

Assistant Coach
11th Season

Kyle Utsumi begins his first season with the women's water polo program as a volunteer assistant coach in 2008.

Most recently, Utsumi served as the head coach of the U.S. Junior National Team since 2004, and prior to that helmed the Youth National Team from 2001-03. His success coaching at the junior level includes gold medals at the 2004 Jr. Pan-American Games in San Salvador, El Salvador, and at the 2005 Jr. World Championships in Perth, Australia. He was also named the USWP Women's Elite Coach of the Year in 2004. In 2007, the Junior National Team, featuring current Stanford players Kim Krueger, Amber Oland, Lauren Silver and Jessica Steffens, finished fourth at the World Championships in Porto, Portugal.

Utsumi also served as head coach of the Menlo School girls water polo team, which he led to nine league and three Central Coast Section titles in his nine years at the helm.

He began his coaching career in 1993 and still coaches with the Stanford Water Polo Foundation club, where he has coached every age group over that time and was instrumental in starting both the boys and girls 14-under programs.

Utsumi, who played at Stanford under head coach Dante Dettamanti in 1991, graduated in 1995 with a bachelor's degree in economics, and in 1996 also earned his master's in sociology from Stanford.

Why I Chose Stanford: "Since my uncle lives in Los Gatos, I had the opportunity to visit Stanford when I was only 10 years old. I have been in love with the campus since then. Basically Stanford has everything that I ever wanted in a university. Aside from the beautiful campus, I like the fact that it is located on the west coast (closer to home), has great weather, has top notch facilities, and is close to my relatives for family support. In addition, the more research I did about the school, the more I found what an amazing institution Stanford really is. The students, teachers, and coaches are passionate, and the academic and athletic resources offered are exceptional. In short, I believe I found an environment where I can thrive and reach my goals in college."

Why I Chose Stanford: "Coming to Stanford has been a childhood dream. As well as wanting to be an engineer, I always dreamed about being a part of the Stanford swim team. As I started to play water polo and my athletic ambitions changed, I realized that my dream of being a Stanford engineer and athlete was still a possibility. Although it was a longtime ambition, going to the campus and meeting all of the really nice people made it clear to me that Stanford was the only place for me."

Favorite Stanford Memory: "One of my best Stanford memories is from last year in my freshman dorm. We all went to one of the events for New Student Orientation (NSO) and were getting in huge cheering contests with the other dorms. That was when I realized I had come to a place that would always have something exciting and new to offer me with plenty of interesting people to experience all those new things right along with me."

Women's Water Polo Boasts Athletic and Academic Success

Scotti Shafer, Meridith McColl, Heather West and Kelly Eaton each won CIF Female Scholar Athlete of the Year honors.

The Stanford women's water polo team is not only one of the nation's most dominant teams in the pool, but also includes a group of top academic performers. Notably, a future Stanford women's water polo player won the California Intercollegiate Federation Scholar-Athlete of the Year award four times in the five-year span of 2002-06. Last season, the Cardinal squad included all four winners as players or staff.

The award, established in 1982, recognizes one female and one male student-athlete each year for excellence in the classroom, in athletics and strong contributions to the community. The students are honored at the State Capital and on the Senate and Assembly Floors in Sacramento and receive a $2,000 scholarship to the school of their choice. Nominations for the prestigious award were received from the 1,393 high schools that make up the CIF membership.

Former Stanford standouts Scotti Shafer ('06) and Meridith McColl ('07) were selected in 2002 and 2003, respectively, while current Cardinal stars Heather West (2005 honoree) and Kelly Eaton (2006) also claimed the award.

Since 1998, the Stanford program has earned 67 AWPCA All-Academic honors and 64 MPSF All-Academic honors, while finishing in the top-three at the NCAA Championships all 10 seasons.

Giving Back to the Community

Stanford women's water polo players excel not only in the pool and in the classroom, but are also active members of the community. In 1999, the team decided it wanted to give back to the local community and has since been committed to a tutoring and mentoring program at the East Palo Alto Charter School. The team wanted to participate in something on-going, committing to more than just a one-time event. Each player and coach on the squad tutors at EPA Charter on a weekly basis. Players come once each week for at least an hour and work with one or two students on a focused academic skill. While the Cardinal athletes have helped to drastically improve the reading and math abilities of many students, they often serve even more important roles as female role models and friends. The students have close relationships with the players, and often come as fans to cheer on the Cardinal. Over 30 students have showed up to loudly support their favorite athletes. The players and coaches also donate dozens of holiday gifts to students, adopting three to four families each year.

Lauren Silver works with a couple of students at the East Palo Alto Charter School. Students often come to cheer on the Cardinal at matches.

Stanford Scholarship Funding

In June of 1934, the "Tiny Buck of the Month Club" was formed to raise the necessary funds from Stanford alumni and friends to pay the tuition costs for capable, worthy and needy student-athletes. As the Club's name implied, membership dues were one dollar per month and the word "tiny" was added to emphasize the modest amount and to honor head football coach, Claude "Tiny" Thornhill. The Club later shortened its name to the "Stanford Buck Club" and revised its initial membership dues requirement.

Until the mid-1970s, there were no athletic scholarships for women, nor was there any fundraising organization devoted to this purpose. To accomplish the task of raising scholarship funds for women, the Cardinal Club was formed in 1977-78.

Under the guidance of the Buck and Cardinal Club leadership, a merged Buck/Cardinal Club was formed in 1987 to raise funds for both men's and women's athletic scholarships. The new volunteer organization was built on the fine Buck and Cardinal Club traditions that served both organizations well.

In 2007, the Stanford Athletic Department provided full operating budgets to all 35 varsity sports. These budgets include all of the components necessary for our programs to compete at the Division I level. Because of this, none of our varsity sports will be required to fundraise for their basic operating budgets effective fiscal year 2008 (September 1, 2007).

These new budgets will be funded in large part by a more robust Buck/Cardinal Club, enabling our head coaches and their staffs to focus their time and energy on coaching and recruiting instead of fundraising for basic operating budgets. Our donors will receive Buck/Cardinal Club benefits commensurate with their generosity.

Under the new Stanford Athletics annual giving program, the Buck/Cardinal Club will not only include its great scholarship tradition, but also assist the department's coaches and staff in providing the resources needed to compete at the highest level of NCAA Division I athletics.

Instead of receiving solicitations from individual sports, donors and friends of Stanford Athletics will now receive a single solicitation from the Buck/Cardinal Club. By giving a gift to the Buck/Cardinal Club, the donor is giving both their favorite sport, and all of Stanford's varsity sports, the budget resources they need. Donors will also have the opportunity to let us know which sports are their favorites at the time of the donation, and sports will keep in touch with donors who specify interest in that specific program.

For more information on the Buck/Cardinal Club and giving to Stanford Athletics, please call (650) 724-9081 or visit gostanford.com/giving.

Headlines From Athens

Game-high Three Goals from Ellen Estes Lifts Team USA to 6-5 Win over Australia

U.S. center Ellen Estes (Novato, CA/Stanford) gave her all. It took three goals from the veteran Olympian to propel the U.S. women to bronze, beating Australia 6-5.

"I was just thinking about what I could do to help the team," Estes said of her three-goal performance. "I was trying to perform in my role ... trying to do everything possible to make sure we won the game."

Team USA Guarantees a Play for a Medal with 8-4 Win; Jackie Frank Tallies 14 Saves in Goal

U.S. goalie Jackie Frank (Long Beach, CA/Stanford) had a phenomenal game in the cage, racking up a whopping 14 saves for Team USA. The 14-save performance stands as Frank's highest total in goal for Team USA in major competition since notching 14 in a semifinal win over Canada at the 2002 World Cup in Perth, Australia.

"Jackie played well the entire game. We never expect to come into these games and get the kinds of leads that we have." U.S. Head Coach Guy Baker said.

Margie Dingeldein, 2004 Olympian.

USA Women Blow Past Greece in Pre-Olympic Contest, 10-3

Dingeldein went crosscage, bar-in to snag a 5-2 advantage for the U.S. women two minutes away from halftime.

Villa, Dingeldein, and Estes each scored two goals in the win for the U.S., contributing 60% of Team USA's goals. Frank had five saves in two quarters of play in the cage.

Brenda Villa Leads Team USA with Four Goals to Slip Past Hungary in Olympic Opener, 7-6

"Brenda's first goal set the tone," Baker said. "In the first game of any tournament there's going to be nerves. You start to settle down after the tournament gets going, but I think she was a good example. She's been playing at such a high level consistently for such a long time. I think that she may have been the best player in the world this year."

Team USA relied on the sure hands of Villa once again during a 6-on-5 situation in which a block by Villa prevented a goal by Hungary.

Stanford players accounted for 14 of the 31 goals scored by team USA, and averaged 4.7 goals each, as compared to 2.8 goals per player for the team as a whole. Stanford athletes played 20:25 on average per game, almost 3 quarters of each game. As a team, USA players averaged just over 15 minutes per game.
