EVERY AQUATIC CENTER

HOME OF CHAMPIONS

The recently rebuilt and remodeled Avery Aquatic Center is the home of all Stanford aquatic teams, and considered the finest outdoor swimming and diving facility in the United States and perhaps the world.

One of the center pieces of the facility is Avery Stadium, which features the Avery Competition Pool, and can seat 2,530 spectators in a facility designed to host all of Stanford's water polo, swimming, and synchronized swimming events. The Avery Stadium Pool is 37 meters long and 20 meters wide. It tapers from 11 feet to 14 feet deep and features dual one-meter and three-meter Maxiflex springboards on the south end.

The Avery Stadium Pool also features a new scoreboard on the north end, installed and built by Daktronics.

The Avery Aquatic Center also features two ten-lane 50-meter pools, one of which is 25 yards wide, and the other is 25 meters wide.

The four pools within the Avery Aquatic Center give Stanford student-athletes and coaches tremendous flexibility when designing training programs.

The Sandy Foundation Team Room (men's) is located on the east side of the pool deck. The Harold A. Miller Team Room (women's) is located on the west side of the deck level. In 2000, two additional team locker rooms were completed. The Men's Timkin Team Room and the Women's Team Room are now in use.

Construction began in 2007 on the Avery Video Center, which added 2,000 square feet to the existing Avery Aquatic Center. At a cost of $1.4 million, the Avery Video Center provides a meeting facility for all aquatic sports programs, as well as state-of-the-art video equipment for game-planning and scouting purposes.

The Avery Aquatic Center has served as host of many conference and national championships. The facility has hosted the National Collegiate Men's Water Polo Championship three times (2004, 2007 and 2008), and was also the host site for the 2004 Men's MPSF Tournament.

The first-ever National Collegiate Women's Water Polo Championship was held at Avery Aquatic Center in May of 2001, and the facility has hosted the women's championship twice more, in 2004 and 2008.

On July 10, 2008, Avery Stadium was the site of the finale of the "Blastoff 2 Beijing" tour that featured a five-game series between the women's water polo teams of the United States and Australia. The United States captured a 7-5 victory in that contest in front of a standing room-only crowd of 2,926 fans, the largest recorded crowd to ever witness a women's water polo contest on American soil.

S STANFORD WOMEN'S WATER POLO AT THE OLYMPICS

In the relatively short history of Olympic women's water polo, Stanford alumnae have played a significant role in the fortunes of the United States Olympic Team since the first women's tournament at the 2000 Sydney Games. Over the three women's Olympic tournaments since 2000, Stanford boasts six of its alumnae combining to make a total of nine appearances for Team USA at the Olympics.

Brenda Villa, a 2003 Stanford graduate, leads the way as the only Cardinal player of that group to appear in all three Olympic tournaments. Villa, who served as the U.S. captain at the 2008 Beijing Games, has helped lead the U.S. to silver medals in Sydney and Beijing and a bronze medal at Athens in 2004.

Ellen Estes ('02) is the only other two-time Olympian among the group, donning the USA cap at the 2000 and 2004 Games, earning a silver and a bronze medal in the process.

Margie Dingeldein ('02) and Jackie Frank ('03) were also a part of the bronze medal-winning U.S. team in Athens, as Stanford boasted four members of that squad, the most the school has had on any one Olympic women's water polo team.

In 2008, two more Cardinal alumnae made their Olympic debuts, as Alison Gregorka ('07) and Jessica Steffens ('10) joined Villa on the silver medal-winning U.S. squad in Beijing.

The six Stanford Olympic alumnae have helped the United States become the only nation to medal in all three Olympic women's water polo tournaments.

▼ Tradition Of Excellence

Stanford women's water polo has earned itself a spot amongst the elite programs in the nation, laying claim to a national championship in 2002 and holding the distinction of being the only team to qualify for every NCAA Championship since the tournament's inception in 2001.

Stanford has reached the NCAA Championship final five times in those nine appearances. The Cardinal has captured one national championship (2002), finished second four times, and finished third four times.

Since 1996, Stanford has also captured four MPSF titles (2000, '01, '03 and '06). The program has also racked up an impressive 361-71 (.836) over that time.

Also in that time span, Stanford student-athletes have collected 62 All-America honors as well as 68 selections to the various All-MPSF teams. On three occasions a Stanford student-athlete has taken home player of the year honors, as Brenda Villa earned the honor in 2001 and Jackie Frank claimed the award in two consecutive years (2002-03). Villa (2002) and Frank (2003) have each also claimed the prestigious Peter J. Cutino Award, presented annually by the Olympic Club to the country's top female collegiate player. Five additional Cardinal alumnae have been finalists for the award as well.

Brenda Villa ('03) remains the only Cardinal student-athlete to have earned first-team All-America honors in each season at Stanford (2001-03).

But it has not only been the classroom where the Cardinal has excelled, as the program has had 87 Academic All-America selections and 82 MPSF All-Academic nods since 1998.

Six Stanford alumnae have also had the honor of representing Stanford at the Olympic Games since women's water polo was added to the Games in 2000. Villa is the only Cardinal alumna to have been on the U.S. team for all three tournaments, earning two silver medals (2000 and '08) and a bronze medal (2004).

Ellen Estes ('02) was a part of the U.S. team at the 2000 Sydney Games and the 2004 Athens Games, while Margie Dingeldein (2004), Jackie Frank (2004), Alison Gregorka (2008) and Jessica Steffens (2008) have all made an appearance on Team USA.

Thanks in part to the play and leadership from this group of six Stanford alumnae, the U.S. holds the distinction of being the only nation to medal in all three of the Olympic women's water polo tournaments.

What to Look For in 2010

Returning Scorers Make Stanford Dangerous

Stanford returns plenty of offensive firepower in 2010, as five 20-goal scorers from a year ago will be back in action, led by sophomore two-meter Melissa Seidemann, who led the team with 59 goals. Drivers Kelly Eaton (45 goals), Pallavi Menon (27 goals) and Kim Krueger (21 goals) along with two-meter Alex Koran (29 goals) join Seidemann in making up the brunt of the Cardinal's attack.

The Stellar Freshman Class

Stanford will also be bolstered this season by the addition of six new faces in 2010, as goalie Kate Baldoni (Newport Beach, Calif./Corona del Mar High School), two-meter offense Annika Dries (Laguna Beach, Calif./Laguna Beach High School), all-around Vee Dunlevie (Atherton, Calif./Sacred Heart Prep), driver Jillian Garton (Granite Bay, Calif./Granite Bay High School), two-meter offense Victoria Kennedy (Corona del Mar, Calif./Corona del Mar High School) and all-around Alexis Lee (Ventura, Calif./Ventura High School) join the squad.

Baldoni and Dries were part of the U.S. Junior National Team that won gold at the 18-Under Global Championships in Australia in July, 2008. Dunlevie and Lee are both Junior Olympic All-Americans, while Kennedy helped her CdM squad to a CIF Division II title in 2006 and Garton has trained with the U.S. Junior National Team.

Melissa Seidemann had a giant year as a freshman, scoring 59 goals to lead the Cardinal in scoring

Seidemann Eyeing Big 2010

Sophomore two-meter Melissa Seidemann will look to continue her dominant play in the middle as the 2010 season gets underway, as the Walnut Creek, Calif. native hopes to build off of her 59-goal debut a year ago. With a year of collegiate play under her belt already, Seidemann should still be a force in the two-meter spot and will continue to give opposing defenses fits.

Defensive Standouts Also Back On The Farm

The offensive end of the tank isn't the only place where the Cardinal will benefit from its returners. Both goalkeepers, sophomores Amber Oland (7.05 saves per game in '09) and Kim Hall (4.67 saves per game) return to guard the cage in 2010, while All-American two-meter Jessica Steffens will also continue to be a disruptive force for opposing attacks.

Stanford Picked To Capture MPSF Title In 2010

Stanford was the choice to take home the 2010 MPSF title, according to a poll of the conference's head coaches. The Cardinal received five of the eight first-place votes for a total of 45 points to finish atop the poll. USC was second with 42 points and one first-place vote, while UCLA was tabbed third with 38 points and the two remaining first-place votes

2010 STANFORD WOMEN'S WATER POLO

John Tanner

HEAD COACH
Stanford (1982)
13th Season

2008 MPSF Co-Coach of the Year
2007 MPSF Coach of the Year
2003 MPSF Coach of the Year
2002 MPSF Coach of the Year
1998 MPSF Coach of the Year

John Tanner enters his 13th season at the helm of the Stanford women's water polo program. An experienced and enthusiastic coach, Tanner took on the developing program in 1997 and has since turned it into a nationally-ranked powerhouse that has produced an NCAA Championship, four MPSF Championships, 11 U.S. National Team members, and six Olympians. Tanner's squad has also competed in the NCAA Championship game in each of the first three years of the NCAA Tournament, and finished in the top-three nationally each season since he came on board in 1997. Additionally, under Tanner's guidance Stanford is the only women's water polo team in the nation to qualify for all nine NCAA Championships since 2001. Tanner now holds a 297-52 (.851) career coaching record at Stanford.

In 2009, Tanner guided the Cardinal to a record of 26-4 (6-1 MPSF) and claimed a third-place national finish at the National Collegiate Women's Water Polo Championship. Four members of the team were named All-Americans by the ACWPC, and 11 were named Academic All-Americans. For the second straight year, a Stanford player also captured the MPSF Newcomer of the Year award, as Melissa Seidemann took home the honor.

Tanner earned the fifth MPSF Coach of the Year honor of his career in 2008 after leading the Cardinal to a 27-5 overall record and an 11-1 mark in MPSF play. Under Tanner's guidance, Stanford brought home a third-place national finish as well as placing four players on the ACWPC All-America Team, six on the All-MPSF Teams, including freshman goalie Amber Oland capturing Newcomer of the Year honors, and seven on the MPSF All-Academic Team.

Stanford posted a 27-3 overall record and reached the NCAA championship game for the sixth time in program history in 2007. His Cardinal squad featured five AWPCA All-Americans, an astounding 10 AWPCA Academic All-Americans, and eight members of both the MPSF All-Conference and All-Academic teams. For his part, Tanner earned his fourth career MPSF Coach of the Year honor.

In 2006, Tanner led his squad to its fourth MPSF Championship and a 24-5 overall record. The Cardinal reached the national semifinals for the tenth-straight season and boasted five AWPCA All-Americans, five Academic All-Americans, five All-Conference honorees, and seven Academic All-Conference honorees.

In 2005, Tanner's squad earned runner-up honors at both the MPSF and NCAA Championships, finishing with a 21-7 overall record. The Cardinal boasted four AWPCA All-Americans, as well as eight Academic All-Americans and MPSF All-Academic selections.

During the 2004 season, Stanford earned third place at the NCAA Championships, following a second-place finish at the MPSF Championships. Posting a 19-5 overall record, the Cardinal was recognized not only for its superior athletic performance, but for its academic achievement as well. Three players were named All-Americans, and seven student-athletes were named MPSF Academic All-Conference and Academic All-Americans.

In 2003, Tanner was named the MPSF Coach of the Year for the second consecutive season after the Cardinal finished first in the MPSF Tournament and placed second in the NCAA Tournament. The Cardinal wrapped up the season with a 21-3 overall record with the help of MPSF Player of the Year Brenda Villa and Goalie of the Year Jackie Frank.

In 2002, he led the Cardinal to its first NCAA Championship and a 23-2 record. The Cardinal earned its first NCAA title, with the help of five All-Americans. Tanner was named the MPSF Coach of the Year for the most successful season in program history.

In 2001, the Cardinal finished second at the NCAA Championships with a 27-1 record, after becoming the first-ever collegiate team to remain undefeated during the regular season.

The 2000 Cardinal posted a record of 28-5 on its way to a third-place finish at the Collegiate Nationals, and boasted five All-Americans, four players named to Collegiate National All-Tournament teams, and eight Academic All-Americans.

In 1999, the team posted a 25-6 record and placed second at the Collegiate Nationals, falling to USC 7-6 in five overtimes in the Championship game.

In his first year as head coach in 1998, Tanner led Stanford to a 29-6 record and a third place finish at the Collegiate National Championships. That same year, he was named MPSF Coach of the Year, having, at the time, led the Cardinal to its most successful season in the history of the program.

A former Stanford water polo All-American himself, Tanner returned to his alma mater with a fortune of knowledge gained from years of coaching, both at the collegiate and international levels. Tanner has been involved with United States Water Polo in various capacities from 1988 to the present. He was the assistant coach of the U.S. Men's National Team that placed sixth at the 2000 Olympics in Sydney. He garnered the second World Championship of his career in 1997 as the Americans captured the World Cup in Athens, Greece.

Tanner began his international coaching career in 1988 as a scout coach for the U.S. National "A" Team. In December of 1998, he was appointed as head coach of the U.S. National "B" Team, a position he held until early 1991. In March of 1991, he was named the assistant coach of the U.S. Olympic Team. He helped the U.S. squad capture gold at the 1991 World Cup and a fourth-place finish at the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona.

In 1980, while a student-athlete at Stanford, Tanner became involved with coaching when he served as the head coach at Menlo-Atherton High School for one season. He then coached Menlo School for the 1983 season. In 1984, he served as an assistant coach for the Stanford men's water polo team under his former coach Dante Dettamanti, when the team advanced to the NCAA title match and finished the year with a 25-5 mark.

Following the 1984 season, Tanner was hired as the head coach of the men's water polo team at the University of the Pacific in Stockton, California. In 1988, he was named the school's Director of Aquatics and the head coach of the men's swimming program, holding all three titles until his appointment at Stanford in 1996. His teams finished in the top 15 in the nation all of his 12 years and in the top-10 each of his last 10 years. He captured Big West Conference Coach-of-the-Year honors in 1991, and in 1993 his squad finished fifth at the NCAA Championships.

As the men's swimming coach at Pacific, he led the Tigers to a top-20 finish at the NCAA Tournament and coached Brad Schumacher, Pacific's first and only Olympic gold medalist in any sport. Tanner served as Schumacher's coach at the 1996 Summer Olympics in Atlanta, where he earned two gold medals as a member of the U.S. 4x100-meter and 4x200-meter free relay teams.

Originally recruited from Menlo-Atherton High School to swim at Stanford, Tanner instead played on the water polo team his freshman year, beginning a career (1978-82) that spanned three national championships and culminated in All-America honors his senior year. Tanner, a left-handed driver, started for the Cardinal in 1981 and helped lead Stanford to a perfect 31-0 record and its fourth national crown. The undefeated season was only the second in NCAA water polo history. Tanner ranked sixth on the team in goals in 1981, with 27, and garnered Honorable Mention All-America status. In 1982, he finished his career with a 48-goal performance, tying for second on the squad, and helped lead the Cardinal to a 27-5 record and its third-straight NCAA championship match appearance. Tanner was named to the NCAA All-Tournament Team, and, for his efforts throughout the season, earned All-America honors. He graduated in December 1982 with a bachelor's degree in political science.

In addition to coaching, Tanner has been a prominent member of several committees with United States Water Polo. He has served on the men's and women's National Team Head Coach Selection Committees, the Men's International/Olympic Committee and the National Coaches Committee. Tanner is also a member of the American Water Polo Coaches Association and United States Water Polo, Inc.

Susan Ortwein

ASSISTANT COACH
Stanford (1982)
13th Season

Susan Ortwein begins her 13th year as an assistant coach for the Stanford women's water polo program. In her 12 years on The Farm, Ortwein has coached the Cardinal to a 297-52 overall record, an NCAA Championship title, five NCAA runner-up finishes, and four MPSF Championship titles. Last season she helped guide the Cardinal to a 26-4 overall mark and an impressive 6-1 record in MPSF play while taking third at the 2009 National Collegiate Championship.

In her first year, the Cardinal went 29-6 on its way to a No. 2 national ranking and a third-place finish at Collegiate Nationals. In 1999, Stanford turned in a 25-6 season and concluded the year with second place at the National Collegiate Championship game after falling to USC 7-6 in five overtimes. In 2000, Stanford finished with a third-place finish at Collegiate National Championship and a 28-5 record. In 2001, the Cardinal finished with its best record in school history at 27-1 and became the first-ever collegiate team to remain undefeated during the regular season. In 2002, the Cardinal posted a 23-2 record en route to its first-ever NCAA Championship. During the 2003 season, Stanford posted the program's third runner-up finish at the NCAA Championship, earning a 21-3 overall record. The Cardinal took third at the NCAA Tournament in 2004, placing second at the MPSF Tournament and completing a 19-5 overall record. In 2005, the team posted a 21-7 record and a NCAA runner-up finish, while in 2006, the Cardinal finished with an overall mark of 24-5 and third-place national finish. Stanford would go on to capture the MPSF regular season championship and a second-place finish at the NCAA Championship in 2007 before claiming third-place national finishes in both 2008 and 2009.

Ortwein has primary responsibility for coaching Cardinal goalkeepers and two-meter players. Last season, converted two-meter Jacquelyn Gauthier earned second-team All-America honors while freshman goalkeeper Amber Oland was named to the All-America Third Team and also took home the MPSF Newcomer of the Year award. In 2007, two-meter player Christina Hewko and goalie Meredith McColl were named All-Americans for the second-straight season, and both received a third All-MPSF honor. In 2003, goalkeeper Jackie Frank was named NCAA Player of the Year and MPSF Goalie of the Year for the second consecutive season. Two-meter player Julie Gardner earned First-Team All-America and MPSF All-Conference honors that year as well.

As head coach of the Stanford Water Polo Foundation, Ortwein coached the team to a third-place finish at the 2008 Senior Nationals, and in 2007 guided the program to its third National Championship, marking back-to-back 20-and-Under national titles for the squad. She also helmed the senior team to a fourth-place finish at the Senior Nationals as well. Current Stanford athletes garnered honors in the tournaments, with Kira Hillman being named the MVP of the 20/U tournament, Kelly Eaton earning All-American nods in both the 20/U and Senior National tournaments, and Jackie Gauthier being named a Senior Nationals All-American. Alex Koran and Heather West also competed for both Stanford squads. In 2003, the team won its first National Championship in Mission Viejo, Calif., led by former Cardinal players Laurel Champion, Lauren Faust and Kate Pettit. In 2004, the Stanford club team earned second-place at Senior Nationals, where recent alum Kelly Lubber was honored as Tournament MVP and alums Hannah Lubber and Nancy El-Sakkary were named All-Americans. At the 2004 Junior Nationals, the Stanford club team placed fourth, and also boasted the honor of having four players named to the All-Tournament team. During the summer of 2005, Ortwein's squad placed sixth at the USA Water Polo Championships and team member Christina Hewko earned Honorable Mention All-American honors.

In 1998, Ortwein was named assistant coach of the U.S. National Team. In addition to her responsibilities at Stanford, she helped to prepare the U.S. women for the 2000 Olympic qualifying tournament in Italy. The 2000 Summer Olympics in Sydney, where the U.S. won the silver medal, marked the first time women's water polo had been in the Olympic games.

Ortwein, a former collegiate water polo and swimming standout, came to The Farm from the University of the Pacific, where she spent two years at the helm of the Tiger women's water polo program.

At Pacific in 1996, Ortwein became the head coach of the school's first women's water polo team. Successful in establishing a competitive program, she completed her final year (1997) by guiding the Tigers to a 10-14 record, doubling the win total of the inaugural campaign, and establishing Pacific's place among the nation's top competitors.

Ortwein's coaching career began at her alma mater, UC Santa Barbara. She served as a graduate assistant coach for the Gaucho swim team in 1990-91 and as a women's water polo assistant in 1992-93.

In college, Ortwein was one of the top water polo players in UCSB history. A four-time All-American, she was instrumental in two Gaucho national championships (1987 and 1989) and one runner-up finish (1988). She was also an accomplished swimmer, helping UCSB to the Big West Conference title all four years.

She continued her water polo career with the U.S. National Team upon graduation. A national team member in 1991-92, she helped lead the U.S. to a third-place finish at the 1991 FINA World Cup.

Ortwein, a San Diego native, earned a bachelor's degree in sociology from UC Santa Barbara in 1990 and a master's degree in sport science in 1997 from Pacific.

Kyle Utsumi

VOLUNTEER
ASSISTANT COACH
Stanford (1995)
3rd Season

Kyle Utsumi begins his third season with the women's water polo program as a volunteer assistant coach in 2009.

Utsumi has helped guide the Cardinal to a combined record of 53-9 as well as to an MPSF mark of 17-2 and a pair of third-place national finishes in his first two seasons as a volunteer assistant.

During the 2008 Olympics, Utsumi served as the videographer for the U.S. Water Polo Olympic Team staff, as both the men's and women's teams captured silver medals in Beijing.

Utsumi has served as the head coach of the U.S. Junior National Team since 2004, and prior to that helmed the Youth National Team from 2001-03. His success coaching at the junior level includes gold medals at the 2004 Jr. Pan-American Games in San Salvador, El Salvador, and at the 2005 Jr. World Championships in Perth, Australia. He was also named the USWP Women's Elite Coach of the Year in 2004. In 2007, the Junior National Team, featuring current Stanford players Kim Krueger, Amber Oland, Lauren Silver, and Jessica Steffens, finished fourth at the World Championships in Porto, Portugal.

Utsumi also served as head coach of the Menlo School girls water polo team, which he led to nine league and three Central Coast Section titles in his nine years at the helm.

He began his coaching career in 1993 and still coaches with the Stanford Water Polo Foundation club, where he has coached every age group over that time and was instrumental in starting both the boys and girls 14-under programs.

Utsumi, who played at Stanford under head coach Dante Dettamanti in 1991, graduated in 1995 with a bachelor's degree in economics, and in 1996 also earned his master's in sociology from Stanford.

Favorite Stanford Memory: "My favorite Stanford moment was during my freshman year at a team dinner when, on the spot, the freshman had to create a rap about the senior class. In about 15 minutes we came up with a rap that perfectly described the senior class and it even rhymed. We performed it at a restaurant in front of like 50 people and every one loved it. I'm pretty sure that our rap turned out so good because of all of the hours we practiced singing songs on Rock Band throughout the year."

Favorite Stanford Memory: Saturday, Oct. 6, 2007. I am on a train coming back from my freshman dorm scavenger hunt in the city. Stanford football is playing USC in the Coliseum. My mom texts me, '1st down on usc 10 yd line, 2 min left.' I read the text aloud and freshmen all around me stare in disbelief. One boy even ventures so far as to tell me I'm wrong, that we must be on our own ten-yard line, I quickly put him in his place. At this point, I call my mom and before I know it, I am standing in the middle of the train car relaying the play-by-play of our epic last minute win over USC. The impromptu broadcast ends when Bo McNally intercepts Booty's pass with 23 seconds left. The train pulls into the station and it is a sprint down campus drive, screaming and cheering as cars honk at us. I grab all my friends and head to greet the team at Maples. I shove my way to the buses and high-five as many football players as I can. I have never been so excited, had so much fun, or felt more connected with my classmates than when Stanford beat USC, 24-23.

SCHOLARSHIPS & THE COMMUNITY

2010 STANFORD WOMEN'S WATER POLO

Women's Water Polo Boasts Athletic and Academic Success

Scotti Shafer, Meridith McColl, Heather West and Kelly Eaton each won CIF Female Scholar Athlete of the Year honors.

The Stanford women's water polo team is not only one of the nation's most dominant teams in the pool, but also includes a group of top academic performers. Notably, a future Stanford women's water polo player won the California Intercollegiate Federation Scholar-Athlete of the Year award four times in the five-year span of 2002-06. Last season, the Cardinal squad included all four winners as players or staff.

The award, established in 1982, recognizes one female and one male student-athlete each year for excellence in the classroom, in athletics and strong contributions to the community. The students are honored at the State Capital and on the Senate and Assembly Floors in Sacramento and receive a $2,000 scholarship to the school of their choice. Nominations for the prestigious award were received from the 1,393 high schools that make up the CIF membership.

Former Stanford standouts Scotti Shafer ('06) and Meridith McColl ('07) were selected in 2002 and 2003, respectively, while current Cardinal stars Heather West (2005 honoree) and Kelly Eaton (2006) also claimed the award.

Since 1998, the Stanford program has earned 76 AWPCA All-Academic honors and 71 MPSF All-Academic honors, while finishing in the top-three at the NCAA Championships all 11 seasons.

Giving Back to the Community

Stanford women's water polo players excel not only in the pool and in the classroom, but are also active members of the community. In 1999, the team decided it wanted to give back to the local community and has since been committed to a tutoring and mentoring program at the East Palo Alto Charter School. The team wanted to participate in something on-going, committing to more than just a one-time event. Each player and coach on the squad tutors at EPA Charter on a weekly basis. Players come once each week for at least an hour and work with one or two students on a focused academic skill. While the Cardinal athletes have helped to drastically improve the reading and math abilities of many students, they often serve even more important roles as female role models and friends. The students have close relationships with the players, and often come as fans to cheer on the Cardinal. Over 30 students have showed up to loudly support their favorite athletes. The players and coaches also donate dozens of holiday gifts to students, adopting three to four families each year.

Stanford Scholarship Funding

In June of 1934, the "Tiny Buck of the Month Club" was formed to raise the necessary funds from Stanford alumni and friends to pay the tuition costs for capable, worthy and needy student-athletes. As the Club's name implied, membership dues were one dollar per month and the word "tiny" was added to emphasize the modest amount and to honor head football coach, Claude "Tiny" Thornhill. The Club later shortened its name to the "Stanford Buck Club" and revised its initial membership dues requirement.

Until the mid-1970s, there were no athletic scholarships for women, nor was there any fundraising organization devoted to this purpose. To accomplish the task of raising scholarship funds for women, the Cardinal Club was formed in 1977-78.

Under the guidance of the Buck and Cardinal Club leadership, a merged Buck/Cardinal Club was formed in 1987 to raise funds for both men's and women's athletic scholarships. The new volunteer organization was built on the fine Buck and Cardinal Club traditions that served both organizations well.

In 2007, the Stanford Athletic Department provided full operating budgets to all 35 varsity sports. These budgets include all of the components necessary for our programs to compete at the Division I level. Because of this, none of our varsity sports will be required to fundraise for their basic operating budgets effective fiscal year 2008 (September 1, 2007).

These new budgets will be funded in large part by a more robust Buck/Cardinal Club, enabling our head coaches and their staffs to focus their time and energy on coaching and recruiting instead of fundraising for basic operating budgets. Our donors will receive Buck/Cardinal Club benefits commensurate with their generosity.

Under the new Stanford Athletics annual giving program, the Buck/Cardinal Club will not only include its great scholarship tradition, but also assist the department's coaches and staff in providing the resources needed to compete at the highest level of NCAA Division I athletics.

Instead of receiving solicitations from individual sports, donors and friends of Stanford Athletics will now receive a single solicitation from the Buck/Cardinal Club. By giving a gift to the Buck/Cardinal Club, the donor is giving both their favorite sport, and all of Stanford's varsity sports, the budget resources they need. Donors will also have the opportunity to let us know which sports are their favorites at the time of the donation, and sports will keep in touch with donors who specify interest in that specific program.

For more information on the Buck/Cardinal Club and giving to Stanford Athletics, please call (650) 724-9081 or visit gostanford.com/giving.

Stanford University at a Glance

On October 1, 1891, the 465 new students who were on hand for opening day ceremonies at Leland Stanford Junior University greeted Leland and Jane Stanford enthusiastically, with a chant they had made up and rehearsed only that morning. Wah-hoo! Wah-hoo! L-S-J-U! Stanford! Its wild and spirited tone symbolized the excitement of this bold adventure. As a pioneer faculty member recalled, "Hope was in every heart, and the presiding spirit of freedom prompted us to dare greatly."

For the Stanford's on that day, the university was the realization of a dream and a fitting tribute to the memory of their only son, who had died of typhoid fever weeks before his sixteenth birthday. Far from the nation's center of culture and unencumbered by tradition or ivy, the new university drew students from all over the country: many from California; some who followed professors hired from other colleges and universities; and some simply seeking adventure in the West. Though there were many difficulties during the first months – housing was inadequate, microscopes and books were late in arriving from the East – the first year foretold of greatness. As Jane Stanford wrote in the summer of 1892, "Even our fondest hopes have been realized."

▼ Ideas of "Practical Education"

Governor and Mrs. Stanford had come from families of modest means and had built their way up through a life of hard work. So it was natural that their first thoughts were to establish an institution where young men and women could "grapple successfully with the practicalities of life." As their thoughts matured, these ideas of "practical education" enlarged to the concept of producing cultured and useful citizens who were well-prepared for professional success.

Nearly 116 years later, the university still enjoys the original 8,180 acres (almost 13 square miles) of grassy fields, eucalyptus groves, and rolling hills that were the Stanford's generous legacy, as well as the Quadrangle of "long corridors with their stately pillars" at the center of campus. It is still true, as the philosopher William James said, during his stint as a visiting professor, that the climate is "so friendly ... that every morning wakes one fresh for new amounts of work."

▼ Current Perspectives

In other ways, the university has changed tremendously on its way to recognition as one of the world's great universities. At the hub of a vital and diverse Bay Area, Stanford is less than hour's drive south of San Francisco and just a few minutes north of the Silicon Valley, an area dotted with computer and high technology firms largely spawned by the university's faculty and graduates. On campus, students and faculty enjoy new libraries, modern laboratories, tremendous sports and recreation facilities, and comfortable residences. Contemporary sculpture, as well as pieces from the Stanford Museum's extensive collection of sculpture by Auguste Rodin, is placed throughout the campus, providing unexpected pleasures at many turns. At the Stanford Medical Center, world-renowned for its research, teaching, and patient care, scientists and physicians are searching for answers to fundamental questions about health and disease. Ninety miles down the coast, at Stanford's Hopkins Marine Station on the Monterey Bay, scientists are working to better understand the mechanisms of evolution, human development, and ecological systems.

The university is organized into seven schools: Earth Sciences, Education, Engineering, the Graduate School of Business, Humanities and Sciences, Law and Medicine. In addition, there are more than 30 interdisciplinary centers, programs, and research laboratories – including the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace; the Institute for International Studies; the Stanford Linear Accelerator Center; and the Stanford Center for the Study of Families, Children and Youth – where faculty from a wide range of fields bring different perspectives to bear on issues and problems. Stanford's Overseas Studies Program offers students in all fields remarkable opportunities for study abroad, with campuses in Australia, Beijing, Berlin, Cape Town, Florence, Kyoto, Madrid, Moscow, Oxford, Paris, and Santiago.

▼ Stanford People

By any measure, Stanford's faculty – which numbers just over 1,800 – is one of the most distinguished in the nation. As of the June of 2007, the faculty included 18 Nobel Laureates, four Pulitzer Prize winners, 24 MacArthur Fellows, 21 recipients of the National Medal of Science, three National Medley of Technology recipients, 228 members of the National Academy of Arts and Sciences, 135 members of the National Academy of Sciences, 83 National Academy of Engineering members, 29 members of the National Academy of Education, seven Wolf Foundation Prize winners, seven winners of the Koret Foundation Prize and three Presidential Medal of Freedom winners. Yet beyond their array of honors, what truly distinguishes Stanford faculty is their commitment to sharing knowledge with their students. The great majority of professors teach undergraduates both in introductory lecture classes and in small advanced seminars.

Currently 14881 students, of which 6689 are undergraduates, live and study on campus. A little more than 40 percent come from California, but all 50 states and approximately 68 countries are represented as well. Among undergraduates, approximately 55 percent are African American, Asian American, International, Mexican American, Native American, Native Hawaiian or Other Hispanic in ethnicity. Like the faculty, the Stanford student body is distinguished. Approximately 10 students apply to Stanford for every place in the freshman class with 89% of those admitted finishing in the top 10% of their high school class. Ninety-four Stanford students have been named Rhodes Scholars, 74 have been selected Marshall Award winners, and 49 have been chosen Truman Scholars. Nearly 90 percent of graduating seniors plan to attend graduate or professional schools. Stanford students also shine in a tremendous array of activities outside the classroom – from student government to music, theater, and journalism. Through the Haas Center for Public Service, students participate in many community service activities, such as tutoring programs for children in nearby East Palo Alto, the Hunger Project, and the Arbor Free Clinic.

In the athletic arena, Stanford students have enjoyed tremendous success as well. Stanford fields teams in 36 Division I varsity sports (15 men, 20 women, 1 co-ed). Of Stanford's 95 NCAA titles (107 national), 55 have been captured since 1990, by far the most in the nation. Thirty-eight of Stanford's athletes and coaches participated in the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona, 49 competed in Atlanta at the 1996 Games, 34 represented Stanford at the 2000

Games in Sydney, and 43 Stanford associates competed at the 2004 Games in Athens. Intramural and club sports are also popular; over 1,000 students take part in the club sports program, while participation in the intramural program has reached 9,000, with many students active in more than one sport.

▼ Looking Ahead

In her address to the Board of Trustees, in 1904, Jane Stanford said, "... Let us not be afraid to outgrow old thoughts and ways, and dare to think on new lines as to the future of the work under our care."

Her thoughts echo in the words of former Stanford President Gerhard Casper, who has said, "The true university must reinvent itself every day... At Stanford, these are days of such reconsideration and fresh support for our fundamental tasks – teaching, learning, and research."

The Jaquish & Kenninger
Director of Athletics

One of the most respected athletic administrators in the nation, Bob Bowsby enters his fourth full year as the Jaquish & Kenninger Director of Athletics at Stanford University, a position he was appointed to on April 25, 2006 after spending 15 years at the helm of the University of Iowa's athletic program. In his initial three years in the position, Stanford has continued its well-earned reputation of fielding the most successful and wide-ranging Division I-A athletic programs in the nation.

As Stanford's sixth athletic director, Bowsby succeeds Ted Leland (1991-2005), Andy Geiger (1979-90), Joe Ruetz (1972-78), Chuck Taylor (1963-71) and Al Masters (1925-63). He directs a department that includes 35 intercollegiate varsity teams – 15 men's, 19 women's and one coed – plus the physical education department, intramurals, club sports, open recreation and the Stanford Golf Course.

Under his administrative guidance, Stanford claimed its unprecedented 15th straight Learfield Sports Director's Cup last spring, emblematic of the top overall program in the country. Ten Stanford teams boasted Top 10 finishes, winning national championships in men's gymnastics and women's rowing.

Stanford's student-athletes were also highly-decorated last year. Foluke Akinradewo (women's volleyball) earned her second straight national player of the year honor while eight student-athletes earned conference player of the year marks. In addition, Erik Shoji (men's volleyball) earned national freshman of the year accolades.

Two Stanford coaches--Thom Glielmi (men's gymnastics) and Yaz Farooq (women's rowing) earned national coach of the year marks.

Throughout his career, Bowsby has emerged as a national leader in intercollegiate and amateur athletics. He was named in February, 2007, to the United States Olympic Committee Board of Directors.

He has previously served as President of the NCAA Division I-A Athletic Directors' Association (2002-03), Chair of the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Committee for two years (2003-05) and a committee member for five years, Chair of the Big Ten Administrator's Council (2002-04) and Chair of the NCAA Management Council.

Bowsby was appointed by President George Bush as a member of the Commission on Opportunities in Athletics in 2002-03. The committee was led by U.S. Secretary of Education Rod Paige.

Bowsby was elected chair of the NCAA Olympic Sports Liaison Committee and represented the NCAA as one of two voting members on the United States Olympic Committee Board of Directors. He served as a member of the NCAA/U.S. Olympic Committee Task Force chaired by Cedric Dempsey and George Steinbrenner.

In addition, Bowsby served as chair of the NCAA Wrestling Committee and has served on NCAA committees on Financial Aid and Amateurism, the Special Committee to Review Amateurism Issues and the Special Committee to Review Financial Conditions in Athletics.

Bowsby has also served as an Executive Committee member with both the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics and the Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and served as President of the I-A organization for two years.

The National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) named Bowsby in 2001-02 as Central Region Athletic Director of the Year and Sports Business Journal selected him from the four regional award winners as the National Athletics Director of the Year. The award highlights the efforts of the athletic directors for their commitment and positive contributions to campuses and their surrounding communities.

As the chief administrator for Iowa's athletic department from 1991-2006, Bowsby earned a reputation as one of the most admired, energetic and ambitious athletic administrators in the nation. Bowsby guided and supervised the merger of the Hawkeye's women's and men's athletics departments while enabling Iowa to maintain its standing as one of the most visible and successful Division I athletic programs.

Under his leadership, Iowa enjoyed unprecedented success and growth in the area of fund raising and facilities. Bowsby and the UI Development staff put in place $25 million in endowments to help support Hawkeye student-athlete scholarship aid. In addition, he managed the planning and construction of $120 million in facility projects on campus, including an $87 million renovation to Kinnick Stadium.

A native of Waterloo, Iowa, Bowsby became Iowa's 10th Athletic Director in June, 1991, after serving in the same role at the University of Northern Iowa since 1984. Bowsby earned his bachelors degree from Moorhead State University (Minnesota) in 1975 and his master's degree from the University of Iowa in 1978.

Bob and his wife, Candice, have four children: Lisa, Matt, Rachel and Kyle.

Principles That Guide Us

Department of Athletics, Physical Education, and Recreation

Department of Athletics, Physical Education, and Recreation

MISSION STATEMENT

From its founding in 1891, Stanford University's leaders have believed that physical activity is valuable for its own sake and that vigorous exercise is complementary to the educational purposes of the university. Within this context for human development, it is the mission of Stanford's Department of Athletics, Physical Education and Recreation to offer a wide range of high quality programs which will encourage and facilitate all participants to realize opportunities for championship athletic participation, physical fitness, health and well being.

▼ We Will Teach

- By encouraging our student-athletes to capture all the joy, power and extraordinary personal growth that comes to those who compete and support athletic excellence.
- By hiring and retaining the best coaches and staff members available and arming them with the tools to achieve at the highest level.
- By fostering and nurturing a coaching, physical education and recreation staff that is committed to teaching with integrity & ambition and that performs in a manner which is consistent with the academic priorities of Stanford University.
- By recognizing the need to work as a team while valuing each individual's unique characteristics and abilities.
- By committing ourselves to the personal development and well being of our student-athletes and staff. Those who participate at all levels will learn the benefits of teamwork, discipline, goal setting, physical fitness, healthy lifestyles, character development, self confidence, sportsmanship, and an appreciation for lifelong learning.

▼ We Will Lead

- By being the model of success, of universal opportunity, and of unwavering commitment to the ideal of the scholar-athlete.
- By operating with integrity as we follow the spirit and the letter of each rule. Integrity will be displayed in our policies, performances and programs.
- By continuing our long history of conference and national prominence through a commitment to cutting edge involvement in athletic issues.

▼ We Will Win

- By maximizing our effort in every competition, on every team and in every setting where skill, determination and hard work combine to achieve singularly successful results.
- By having an uncompromising commitment to Conference and National championships and by providing each student-athlete with the tools necessary to be successful at the highest levels of both academic and athletic performance.
- By creating a commitment to a university-wide wellness culture that will allow Stanford students, faculty and staff to maximize their health and fitness opportunities throughout their lives.

▼ We Will Serve

- By respecting, honoring and responding to the needs of our student-athletes, coaches, colleagues, advocates and members of our larger community.
- By encouraging innovation and creativity. We will harness technology to extend our reach and to interface with our various internal and external constituencies.
- Through fiscal responsibility in all elements of departmental operations.
- By advancing outreach as a fundamental component of the department, we will strive to enhance the overall mission of the University through competitive excellence, effective outreach and an on-going commitment to customer service.
- By utilizing the department resources and physical facilities to serve the campus community, our alumni and our supporters throughout the world.
- By valuing our heritage, and in doing so we commit ourselves to championship caliber athletic achievement and the on-going enhancement of the traditions of Stanford Athletics, including leadership, individual and team achievement & intense pride and loyalty.
