Stanford Reaches Halfway Point of Regular Season With Two Midweek Games

Winners of four of its past five games, seven of its past nine contests and nine of its past 12 outings, the Stanford Cardinal (13-13) will reach the halfway point of its 2009 regular season with a pair of midweek games. Stanford will host its longtime rival, the California Golden Bears (15-17) in a 5:00 p.m. PT non-conference contest Monday night at Klein Field at Sunken Diamond, before traveling to the South Bay for a Wednesday night game against the Santa Clara Broncos (13-17). First pitch from Santa Clara's Schott Stadium is set for 6:00 p.m.

Stanford posted its third consecutive Pac-10 series victory this past weekend, winning the rubber game to take two of three contests from visiting UCLA. California saw its losing streak reach seven games when it suffered a weekend sweep at Washington, while Santa Clara snapped its 10-game skid by sweeping Portland in a West Coast Conference series.

The Cardinal will leave for the desert on Thursday, and will resume Pac-10 play with a three-game series this weekend at Arizona State.

Broadcast Information

All 56 of Stanford's regular season games, and any postseason contests, will be carried live on the home of Cardinal baseball for nearly 51 years - student station KZSU 90.1 FM. The KZSU broadcast is available on the internet either at www.kzsuive.stanford.edu or via a link on www.gostanford.com.

Erik Adams will be behind the mic for both midweek contests, as well as the weekend series at Arizona State.

"Nine" Moves Into Ninth, Closes in on Eighth

Stanford's Mark Marquess is the ninth-winningest head coach in NCAA Division I baseball history, having compiled a 1,339-682-7 (.662) career record in his 33 campaigns at the helm of his alma mater. He is just three victories shy of matching Rod Dedeaux, who ranks eighth with 1,342 victories over 44 seasons at USC (1942-47 and 1949-86).

Marquess moved into sole possession of ninth place on the all-time list with his 1,332nd career win - a 13-3 victory over Washington March 27. With that Stanford win, he snapped a tie for ninth with Larry Cochell, who logged a 1,331-813-3 (.621) ledger over 39 years with seven schools.

Stanford-California Series

Stanford and California are playing the first of two non-conference games on The Farm, after the Golden Bears won two of three in a Pac-10 series at Berkeley March 21-23. Since 1959, when Stanford's single-game results are available, the Cardinal holds a 176-97-1 edge.

Stanford-Santa Clara Series

Stanford has gone 124-73-1 against Santa Clara since 1959, including a 6-5, April 1 victory on The Farm. The Cardinal has won four of the past five meetings with the Broncos.

Cardinal Clips

- Turning it Around: Since falling to 4-10 (1-2 in the Pac-10) with a March 23 loss, Stanford has gone 9-3 (6-3 in conference play)...the Cardinal has won 4 of its past 5 games.
- Surging Offense: Stanford has averaged 6.5 runs per game during this current 12-game stretch (78 total), with a .295 batting avg. (120-for-40), .491 slugging pct. and .380 on-base mark.
- Stingy Pitching: Cardinal pitchers have forged a 2.92 ERA (35er, 108.0ip) and a .220 avg. against (86-for-391) in the last 12 games, with 106 strikeouts against 32 walks.

Series Scoop

After taking two of three games vs. UCLA this past weekend, Stanford is now an impressive 17-5 in its last 22 weekend sets - a stretch which dates back to the final month of the 2006 season. Stanford is 11-3 in Pac-10 sets over the stretch, including a 3-1 mark in 2009. After dropping two of three at California in the opening conference series of the season, the Cardinal has rebounded to win each of its past three Pac-10 sets (vs. Washington, at Oregon and vs. UCLA).

(Almost) Halfway Home

Stanford's midweek contests will be its 27th and 28th games, marking the halfway point of the 56-game, 2009 regular season.

A Look at the Pac-10

By winning its last three Pac-10 series, Stanford has thrust itself into contention to finish in the conference's top two for the 24th time in 29 seasons. At 7-5 in conference play, the Cardinal finds itself tied with USC for third in the Pac-10, 3.0 games behind front-running Arizona State (10-2) and 1.5 contests in back of second-place Oregon State (7-2).

Fifth-place Washington State (5-4) trails the Cardinal and Trojans by just 0.5-game (3.5 games out of first), while UCLA (6-6) is 1.0-contest in back of third (4.0) and Washington (4-5) is 1.5-games behind (4.5) in a tightly-packed top-seven.

Five is Fine

Stanford is 11-5 this season when scoring at least five runs in a game, and 2-8 when plating four or fewer.

Two-out Magic

Stanford has scored 64 of its 139 runs (46.0%) this season with two outs in an inning.

Extra, Extra!

Stanford is a perfect 3-0 in extra inning games this season, including a 4-3, 10-inning victory last Thursday night against UCLA. The Cardinal beat Vanderbilt 6-5 in 10 frames on Opening Night (Feb. 20), and posted a 6-5, 12-inning win March 22 at California.

Start Me Up

Stanford's weekend rotation of junior RHP Jeffrey Inman, freshman RHP Jordan Pries and freshman LHP Brett Mooneyham has keyed three-straight Pac-10 series wins for the Cardinal. Against Washington, at Oregon and against UCLA, the trio has combined to go 5-1 with a 3.09 ERA (19er, 55.1ip) and a .218 opponents' average (43-for-197). They have also posted 52 strikeouts while issuing just 18 walks.

The three hurlers have worked at least 6.0 innings in seven of the nine starts, while completing 7.0 frames in four of the contests.

Bullish 'Pen

Anchored by closer Drew Storen, Stanford's bullpen has helped shorten games this year. The Cardinal is a perfect 10-0 when leading after 8.0 innings, while also going 7-0 when leading after 7.0 frames. Taken back another inning, Stanford is 9-2 when leading after 6.0 innings.

Swing and a Miss

Sophomore RHP Drew Storen has continued to demonstrate the electric stuff that made him a freshman All-American in 2008, as he has compiled 34 strikeouts in just 20.2 innings of work - an average of 14.81 punchouts per 9.0 innings. Perhaps more impressively, Storen has walked just one batter thus far - and that was the very first hitter he faced in 2009. Stanford's closer has faced 78 batters since that walk, yielding just 16 hits in 75 at-bats (.213) with one hit batsman and two sacrifice bunts.

Entering play this week, Storen is tied for ninth in the Pac-10 for wins and is tied for third in saves with a perfect 3-0 mark, four saves and a 1.31 ERA (3er, 20.2ip) in a staff-high 13 relief appearances. He has saved a conference-best three games in Pac-10 play.

Storen has tossed 12.1 consecutive scoreless innings over his last six outings, while going 2-0 with three saves. He has 20 strikeouts during the stretch, while limiting the opposition to a miniscule .125 batting average (5-for-40).

Storen has a career 5.3:1 strikeout-to-walk ratio, fanning 84 against 16 free passes in 77.0 innings pitched. On April 10, the draft-eligible sophomore was named the lone relief pitcher on ESPN.com's Mid-season Draft Prospect All-Star team.

"Rubber" Arm

Freshman LHP Brett Mooneyham has made his last four starts in the rubber game of a Pac-10 series - and has won the last three. Beginning with a dominating performance March 29 against Washington, Mooneyham is 3-0 with a 2.29 ERA (5er, 19.2ip) and a .149 average against (10-for-67). He has worked at least 6.0 innings in all three efforts, with 27 strikeouts and 10 walks.

Mooneyham's starts have resulted in a 11-0 win over Washington (March 29), a 6-3 triumph at Oregon (April 5) and a 7-2 victory this past Sunday over UCLA, and has given the Cardinal Pac-10 series victories over the Huskies, Ducks and Bruins.

Mooneyham leads the Pac-10 with a .152 opponents' batting average (12-for-79) during conference play, while he ranks third with 32 strikeouts and tied for third with three wins. His overall .190 average against (20-for-105) is the fifth-best in the Pac-10, while he has allowed the fewest hits among all

Milly is Mashing

Senior 1B Brent Milleville has come alive over his last 11 games, going 14-for-37 (.378) with 11 runs scored, one double, six home runs and 12 RBI. Milleville has hit safely in nine of those contests, while posting an .892 slugging percentage and a .439 on-base percentage.

Stanford's slugger capped a 5-for-11, three-homer weekend against UCLA by hammering a pair of longballs in the Cardinal's 7-2, rubber game victory. Milleville got Stanford on the board with a two-run homer in the second, and posted his second career multi-homer game with a solo clout in the eighth.

Milleville now leads the Pac-10 with five home runs during conference play, while he is third with a .794 slugging percentage. His six homers overall rank him tied for ninth in the Pac-10.

Pries' Stellar Start

Freshman RHP Jordan Pries has gone 3-0 with a 4.11 ERA (13er, 30.1ip) over his first seven collegiate outings (five starts). The Alameda, Calif. native is the first Stanford freshman to start 3-0 with at least one of the wins coming as part of the regular weekend rotation since Greg Reynolds in 2004. Mark Romanczuk won his first 12 decisions as a freshman in 2003, with the first three victories coming out of the bullpen before winning nine starts en route to a 12-2 debut campaign. Austin Yount was a perfect 4-0 in 16 relief appearances during his freshman 2006 season.

Setting the Table

Sophomore second baseman Colin Walsh has been Stanford's leadoff hitter for each of the past 17 games, and has posted a .518 on-base percentage as the Cardinal has gone 11-6 in those contests. He is hitting .344 (21-for-61) during the stretch, with 13 runs scored, four doubles, seven RBI, 21 walks, one hit-by-pitch and two stolen bases. The switch-hitting Walsh has reached base safely in 16 of those 17 games - including each of the last nine contests. In addition, Walsh has played flawless defense at second base, handling all 67 chances without an error.

During Stanford's current 9-3, 12-game run, Walsh is hitting at a .395 clip (17-for-43) with 10 runs scored, three doubles, six RBI, 14 walks and a .544 on-base mark.

Walsh ranks 10th in the Pac-10 with a .454 on-base percentage and is tied for fourth with 23 walks. He has drawn a league-best 14 walks during conference games, while his .508 on-base mark ranks sixth.

Walsh has hit safely in 23 of his last 29 starts dating back to 2008, going 38-for-110 (.345) with 24 runs scored, eight doubles, 15 RBI and 28 walks.

Toby on a Tear

Junior OF Toby Gerhart is batting .405 (17-for-42) with nine runs scored, three doubles, two triples, two home runs and nine RBI over his last 11 contests. He has hit safely in eight of those games, while logging seven multi-hit contests (including a pair of three-hit efforts).

His offensive success in Pac-10 play ranks Gerhart among leaders for conference-only games in: triples (t2nd - 2), doubles (t-4th - 4), stolen bases (t-4th - 4), hits (t-6th - 17), total bases (t-7th - 28) and sacrifice flies (t-8th - 1).

Thieves, Beware

Sophomore Zach Jones, who has started 14 games at catcher (in addition to 12 at third base), has thrown out an outstanding 46.2 percent of attempted base stealers (12 of 26). He is tied for the Pac-10 lead by nailing 12 would-be base thieves, while he has also picked off a runner.

Stanford has posted a 9-5 record in his starts behind the plate, while Cardinal pitchers have logged a 4.04 ERA (57er, 127.0ip) in those contests.

Power From the Northwest

Sophomore right fielder Kellen Kielsgaard is tied for seventh in the Pac-10 with a team-high seven home runs and ranks eighth with a .600 slugging percentage. He has belted four of his home runs during conference play to tie for second in the league, while his 13 RBI against Pac-10 pitching places him in a tie for third. Kielsgaard had a nice weekend against UCLA, going 5-for-12 with a double and a tie-breaking, sixth-inning solo homer in Saturday's rubber game.

Kielsgaard, a two-sport star at Auburn (Wash.) High School, was a redshirt freshman on Stanford's 2007 football squad, but gave up the gridiron to concentrate solely on baseball.

Iron Man Continues to Swing a Hot Bat

Sophomore shortstop Jake Schlender, who has started at SS for each of Stanford's 93 games during his collegiate career, is 13-for-36 (.361) with 12 runs scored, two doubles, one triple, one home run and five RBI over the last 11 games. The Cardinal shortstop is tied for eighth in the conference with 11 runs scored during Pac-10 play.

In 2008, Schlender became the first Stanford freshman to start every game at shortstop since games played became an officially kept statistic in 1960. The Scottsdale, Ariz. native was the first Cardinal rookie to start each contest at any position since current San Diego Padres outfielder Jody Gerut did so in 1996.

Mr. Consistency

Throughout his four years on The Farm, senior outfielder Joey August has been a picture of consistency at the plate. Stanford's active leader in batting average and hits, he owns a career .309 batting average (178-for-576) in 169 games (130 starts). He is also a lifetime .322 hitter (75-for-233) in 60 career Pac-10 contests.

August has enjoyed a power surge recently, hitting all four of his home runs within the last 11 games. Three of those have come in Pac-10 contests, as he finds himself in a tie for the seventh-most home runs in conference play (but just two off the leader). August hammered his first career grand slam in Stanford's 13-3 victory over Washington March 27, then the Salem, Ore. native went deep in front of family and friends during the Cardinal's 3-1 win April 4 at Oregon.

August has hit safely in 14 of his last 16 games overall, going 19-for-68 (.279).

Gaylord Getting it Done

Junior infielder Adam Gaylord has hit safely in 12 of the 17 games he has had an at-bat, going 15-or-52 (.288). He has added two doubles and eight RBI, while leading the club with five sacrifice bunts and two sac flies. Gaylord already has 14 more hits than he did in 2008 (one, in only 15 at-bats), while he is 5-for-12 (.417) with runners in scoring position.

Gaylord has started 16 games - 14 at third base and two at second.

Fearnow Providing Relief

Senior right-hander Max Fearnow has been very impressive since moving to the Stanford bullpen, with a 1.50 ERA (2er, 12.0ip) over six relief outings. He has allowed just nine hits in 45 at-bats (.200), with four walks and 11 strikeouts.

Fearnow earned the win March 25 at UC Davis with 3.0-innings of two-hit, shutout relief. After allowing a pair of singles in his first inning, he retired the final seven batters he faced as Stanford scored five runs.

Sandbrink Success

Sophomore right-hander Danny Sandbrink has gone 1-0 with a 1.59 ERA (2er, 11.1ip) over his last five outings (two starts). During that time, he has yielded just seven hits in 40 at-bats (.152), with 12 strikeouts against five walks.

Sandbrink started a pair of midweek games, tossing 3.0-scoreless innings in Stanford's 5-2 win at UC Davis March 25, and earned the win with 4.0-effective frames in a 10-2 triumph March 30 at Pacific.

Back for More

Stanford's 35-man roster includes 17 returning letterwinners from its 2008 College World Series club, a total that includes six starting position players, three starting pitchers and its closer.

The Cardinal has retained the services of the following starting position players: OF Joey August (Sr.), OF Toby Gerhart (Jr.), 3B Zach Jones (So.), 1B Brent Milleville (Sr.), SS Jake Schlander (So.) and OF Jeff Whitlow (Sr.). Please note that Gerhart and Whitlow spent a majority of last season in a platoon role.

RHP Max Fearnow (Sr.), RHP Jeffrey Inman (Jr.) and RHP Danny Sandbrink (So.) all saw significant time in the 2008 rotation, while closer Drew Storen (RHP - So.) is back after a freshman All-America campaign.

A New Guard

On the flip side, 259 of Stanford's 879 at-bats (29.56%) have been taken by players who had fewer than 20 at-bats in 2008: Mike Garza (5 in 2009, high school in 2008); Adam Gaylord (52 in '09, 15 in '08); Christian Griffiths (14 in '09, HS in '08); J.J. Jelmini (3 in '09, 3 in '08); Jonathan Kaskow (50 in '09, 5 in '08); Kellen Kielsgaard (90 in '09, 3 in '08); Kellen McColl (3 in '09, 0 in '08); Min (Brian) Moon (28 in '09, 0 in '08) and Wande Olabisi (14 in '09, 4 in '08).

Likewise, 107.0 of the Cardinal's 233.0 innings pitched (45.9%) have been handled by players who threw less than 20.0 frames in 2008: Brian Busick (3.0 in 2009, high school in 2008); Brett Mooneyham (32.0 in '09, HS in '08); Jordan Pries (35.0 in '09, HS in '08); Chris Reed (1.1 in '09, HS in '08); Carey Schwartz (8.1 in '09, 3.1 in '08); Scott Snodgrass (15.0 in '09, HS in '08); Kyle Thompson (2.2 in '09, 0.0 in '08) and Brandt Walker (9.2 in '09, 6.0 in '08).

Inman Named to Golden Spikes Award Watch List; Third-Team All-America

Junior right-handed pitcher Jeffrey Inman has been named by USA Baseball as one of 50 players on the preseason Golden Spikes Award Watch List, while he is also a preseason third-team All-America selection by Baseball America.

Sponsored by Major League Baseball, the Golden Spikes Award is in its 32nd season honoring the top player in college baseball. The list will be paired down to 30 on May 26 and again to five finalists on June 2, while the winner will be announced in a July 15 awards show as part of MLB All-Star festivities in St. Louis.

Inman played a key role in Stanford's run to the 2008 College World Series, going 7-2 with a 4.27 ERA (34er, 71.2ip) in 16 games (13 starts) as a sophomore. He then followed his sophomore collegiate campaign by striking out 34 batters in just 31.1 innings for the Yarmouth-Dennis Red Sox, and was tabbed by Baseball America as the ninth-best prospect in the 2008 Cape Cod League.

Storen Named to NCBWA Stopper of the Year Watch List

Stanford sophomore right-hander Drew Storen is one of 40 players selected to the initial watch list for the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association Stopper of the Year Award. The award is in its fifth season, and honors the top relief pitcher in NCAA Division I baseball.

2009 Stanford Baseball

A Memorable Run to Omaha - A Look Back at 2008

Stanford finished the 2008 season in a familiar place - Omaha, Neb., as the program made its 16th trip to the College World Series. The Cardinal tied for third at the CWS after a 2-2 record that featured victories over Florida State and Miami (Fla.).

Stanford's NCAA Tournament run was indeed impressive, as after losing the opening game of the Regional, the Cardinal tied a school record for a single postseason with seven consecutive victories - four to win the Regional, two in a Super Regional sweep at Cal State Fullerton and one in the College World Series opener.

Head coach Mark Marquess led Stanford to a 14-10 mark and second-place finish in the Pac-10, as the Cardinal finished in the league's top two for the 23rd time in the last 28 seasons. Stanford had five first-team All-Pac-10 selections, matching Arizona and conference champion Arizona State for most in the league.

The Next Level

The Stanford Baseball program, which as seen 80 of its former players make it to the majors, had seven players from last year's roster selected in the 2008 Major League Baseball First-Year Player Draft. Jason Castro led the way when he was selected by the Houston Astros with the 10th overall pick of the draft. Next was Jeremy Bleich, who was chosen in the Compensation A round by the New York Yankees (44th pick overall). Stanford had four first-day choices overall, as Cord Phelps was nabbed by the Cleveland Indians in the third round (107th overall) and Sean Ratliff was selected by the New York Mets in the fourth round (134th overall).

The draft's second day saw the selections of Austin Yount by the Los Angeles Dodgers (12th round, 367th pick overall), Erik Davis by the San Diego Padres (13th round, 405th overall) and Randy Molina by the Seattle Mariners (43rd round, 1,272nd overall).

Storen emerged as one of college baseball's premier closers during a stellar freshman campaign in 2008, going 5-3 with eight saves and a 3.51 ERA (22er, 56.1ip) in a club-high 31 relief outings. He was a first-team freshman All-America selection by Collegiate Baseball/Louisville Slugger, while he earned second-team honors from Rivals.com and third-team accolades from Ping!Baseball. The first-team All-Pac-10 performer was fourth in the league for saves (second among freshmen), while he tied for the seventh-highest single-season save total in Stanford history.

Following Stanford's 2008 season, Storen served as the closer for the Cotuit Kettleers in the prestigious Cape Cod League. He posted five saves, a 2.76 ERA (5er, 16.1ip) and .200 average against (12-for-60) in 13 relief appearances, with 15 strikeouts against five walks.

From the Gridiron to the Diamond

Junior OF Toby Gerhart is the latest in a proud Stanford tradition of two-sport athletes. During the 2008 football season, the running back established Stanford's single-season rushing record with 1,136 yards. The bruising runner averaged 5.4 yards per carry (210 attempts), while scoring 15 rushing touchdowns - good for second in school history.

Professional Lineage

Stanford has eight players on its 35-man roster that has had a parent or grandparent play professional sports:

Joey August (father, Bill, was a quarterback with the NFL's San Francisco 49ers in 1975, but did not play in a game); Toby Gerhart (father, Todd, played in the USFL with the Denver Gold in 1985-86 and went to NFL training camp with the Minnesota Vikings in 1986 and Houston Oilers in 1987); Jonathan Kaskow (father, Chris, played men's doubles tennis at Wimbledon in 1977); Kellen Kiilsgaard (grandfather, Carl, played for the NFL's Chicago Cardinals in 1950); Michael Marshall (father, Mike, was a two-time World Series champion and played 11 MLB seasons from 1981-91 with the Los Angeles Dodgers, New York Mets and Boston Red Sox); Kellen McColl (father, Milt was a two-time Super Bowl champion during an eight-year NFL career with the San Francisco 49ers and Los Angeles Raiders from 1981-88; grandfather, Bill, played for the NFL's Chicago Bears from 1952-59; uncle, Duncan, was drafted by the NFL's Washington Redskins in 1977); Brett Mooneyham (father, Bill, pitched for the Oakland Athletics in 1986) and Jordan Pries (grandfather, Bud Daley, was a two-time World Series winner during a 10-year MLB career with the Cleveland Indians, Kansas City Athletics and New York Yankees from 1955-64).

Stanford Among the All-Time Best

Currently in its 116th season of college baseball, Stanford has posted the fifth-most wins of any NCAA Division I program with a 2,572-1,615-34 (.613) all-time record. That ledger includes 128 NCAA Tournament wins over 28 appearances, tied for the sixth-most all-time.

Leading the Pac

Since the Pac-10 disbanded the two-division system and realigned prior to the 1999 season, Stanford leads all conference teams with 444 wins, four league titles and six trips to the College World Series.

Cardinal Consistency

Stanford has finished at least .500 in 15 straight seasons, and in 31 of 32 campaigns under head coach Mark Marquess. The Cardinal has also advanced to the NCAA Tournament in 25 of the last 28 years (since 1982), while advancing to the College World Series 14 times over that span. By virtue of that success, players on 28 of the last 30 four-year graduating classes at Stanford have played in Omaha.

Seven Former Stanford Players on 2009 MLB Opening Day Rosters

Continuing the proud tradition of Stanford baseball at the highest level, seven former Cardinal players are on Opening Day 25-man Major League Baseball rosters - infielder Eric Bruntlett (Philadelphia Phillies), outfielder Chris Carter (Boston Red Sox), first baseman Ryan Garko (Cleveland Indians), outfielder Jody Gerut (San Diego Padres), pitcher Jeremy Guthrie (Baltimore Orioles), infielder Jed Lowrie (Boston Red Sox) and outfielder Carlos Quentin (Chicago White Sox).

Carter and Lowrie experienced the pomp and circumstance of Opening Day for the first time, while Guthrie earned a pitcher's top regular season honor - the Opening Day start for Baltimore.

STANFORD'S COACHES

Dean Stotz, Associate Head Coach

Is in his 33rd year on the Stanford coaching staff in 2009...serves as the team's primary hitting instructor and third base coach...Stanford has posted at least a .305 team batting average in nine of the last 12 years (since 1997), while tallying four of the school's top-10 run totals...has played a key role in the recent development of such players as 2008 American League All-Star Carlos Quentin and current Major Leaguers Chris Carter, Sam Fuld, Ryan Garko, Jody Gerut and Jed Lowrie...renowned talent evaluator has helped the Cardinal land numerous highly-touted recruits, while 28 of Stanford's last 30 four-year graduating classes have played in the College World Series.

Dave Nakama, Assistant Coach

Enters his 10th season with Stanford in 2009, during his second stint with the Cardinal...works primarily with Stanford's infielders and hitters, while serving as the Cardinal's first base coach... was previously on Stanford's staff from 1997-98, and returned to The Farm in 2002 after spending three seasons on the staff at San Francisco State (1999-2001)...Stanford has posted each of the top five fielding percentages in school history under his guidance, while Cardinal hitters have posted a team batting average of .305 or better in six of his nine years.

Jeff Austin, Assistant Coach

1998 National Collegiate Player of the Year with Stanford and former Major Leaguer is in his second season coaching the Cardinal pitchers in 2009...his 2008 staff ranked third in the Pac-10 with a 4.45 ERA, while two of his charges (Jeremy Bleich and Erik Davis) were chosen in the MLB First-Year Player Draft...went 12-4 with a 3.11 ERA during his banner 1998 campaign, with 136 strikeouts in 133.0 innings...still ranks sixth in Stanford history for career strikeouts (317) and innings (309.2)...pitched in the majors with Kansas City (2001-02) and Cincinnati (2003).
