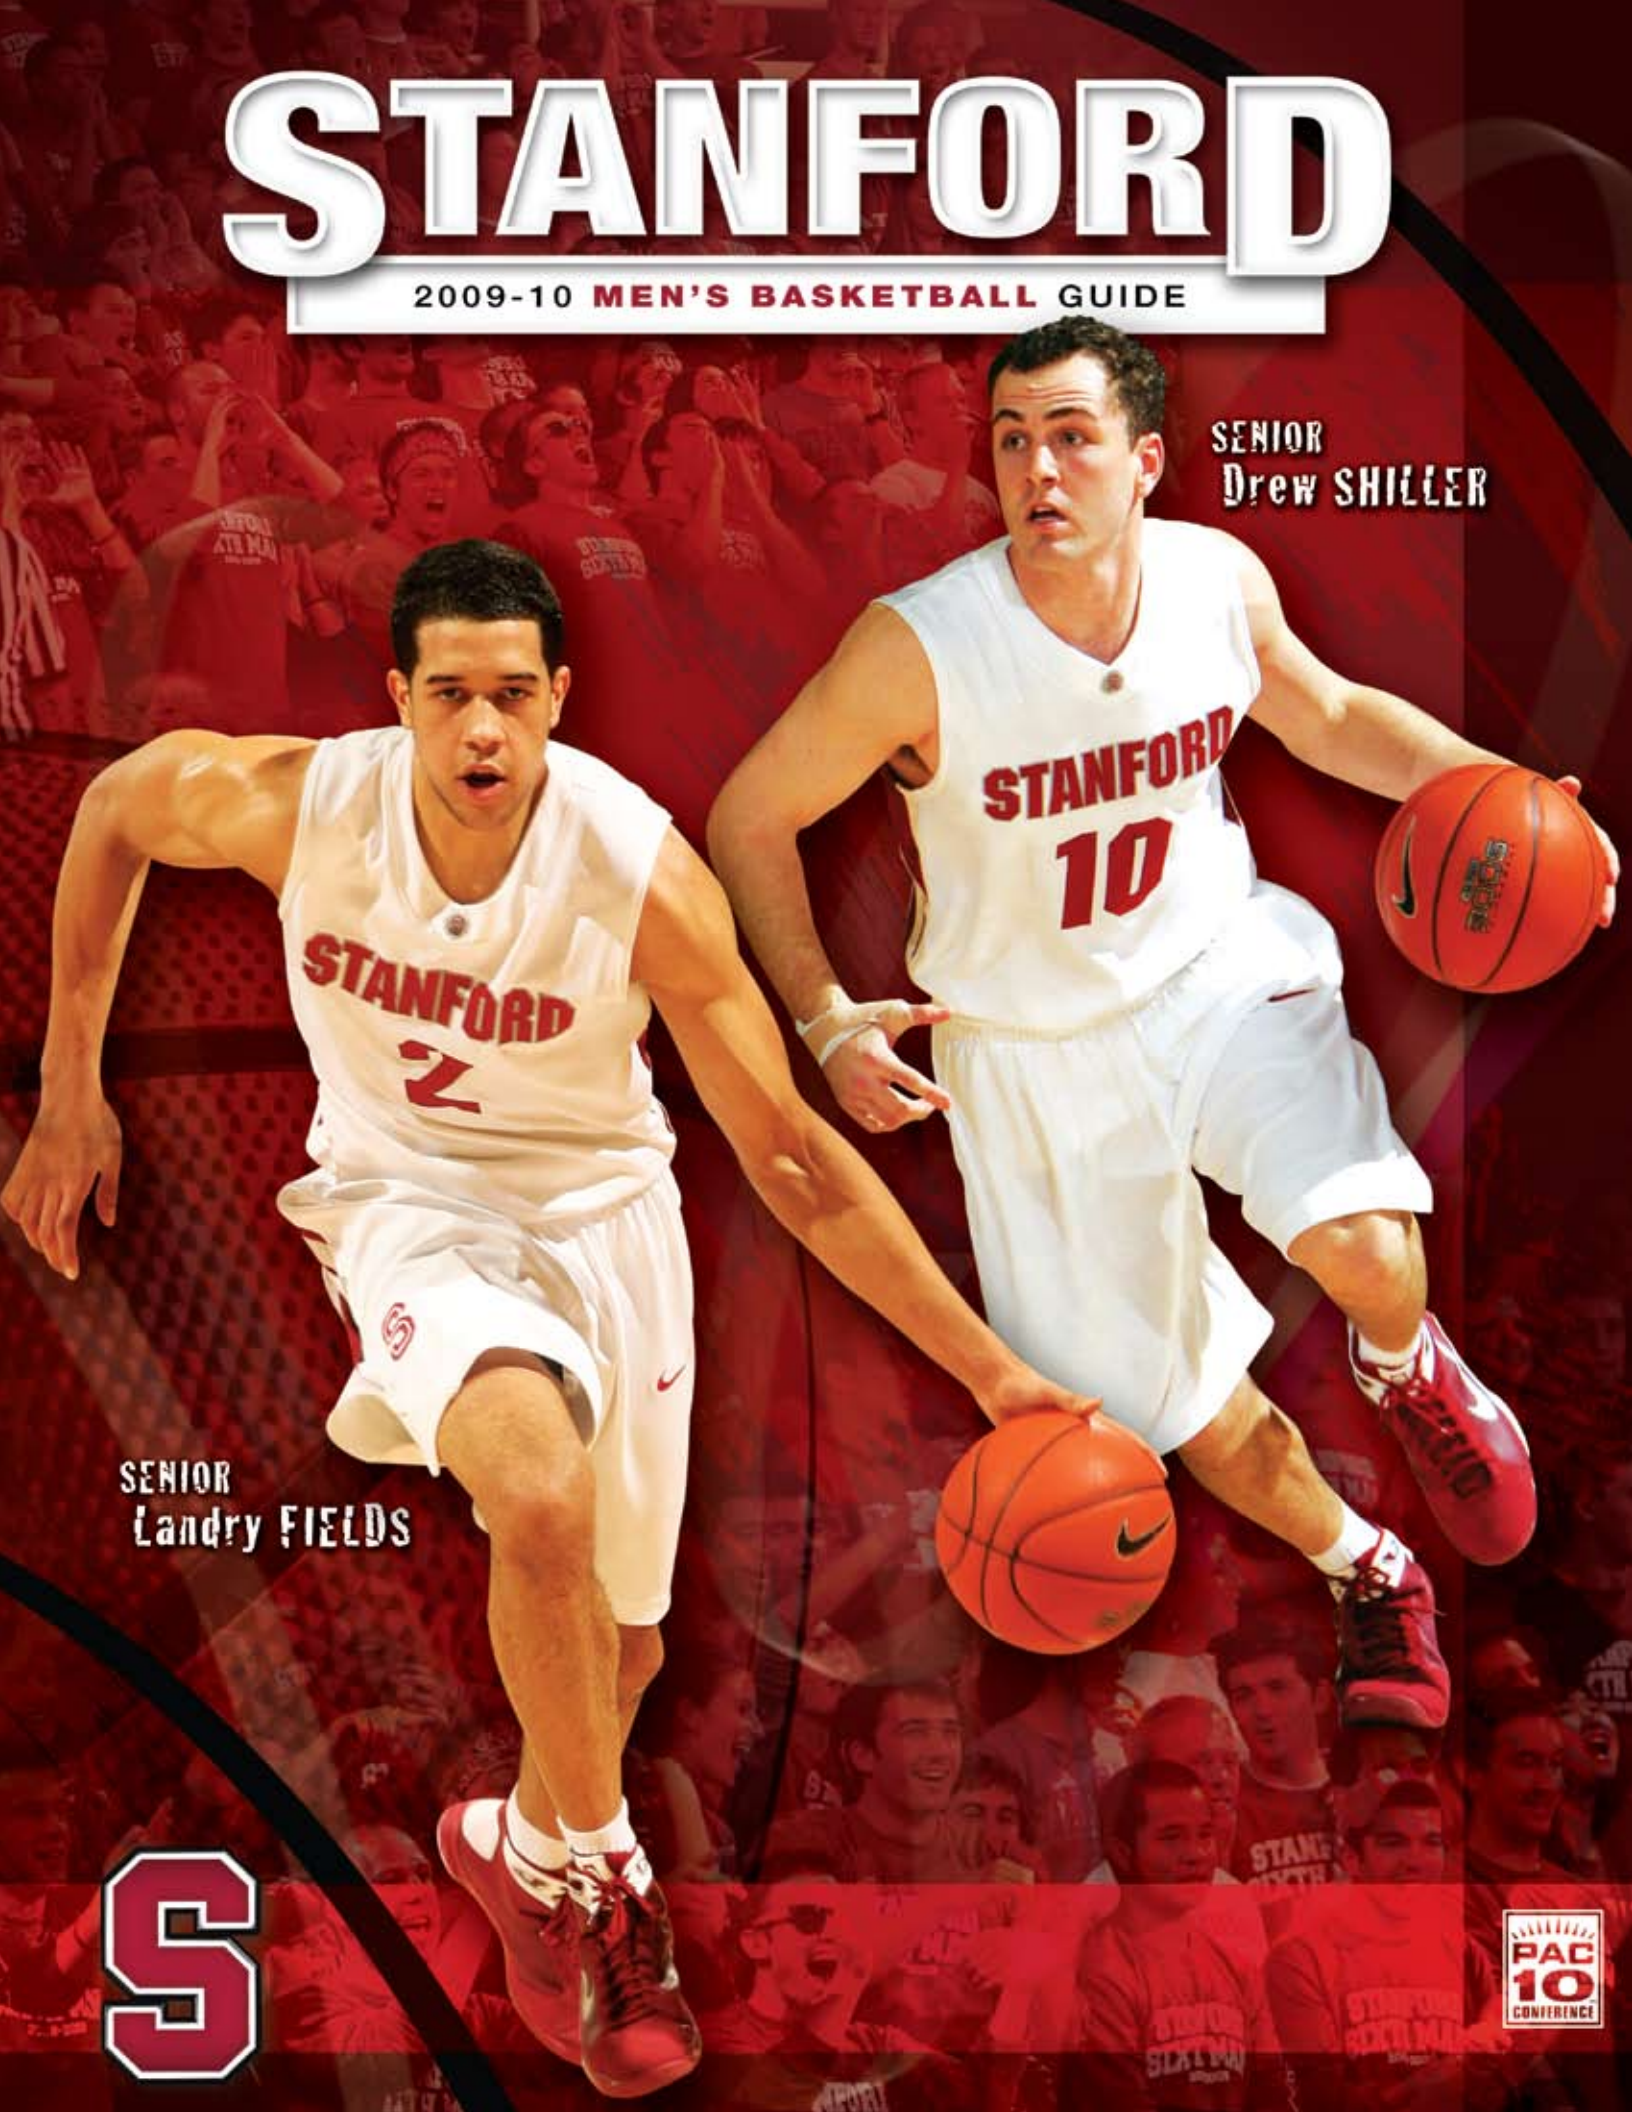
STANFORD

2009-10 MEN'S BASKETBALL GUIDE



PAC 10 CONFERENCE

Johnny DAWKINS

The Anne & Tony Joseph
Director of Men's Basketball

- Dawkins completed his first season with a 20-14 record and goes in the books as Stanford's winningest first-year head coach, surpassing Robert Burnett's 19-9 mark in 1951-52. Also, of the 21 first-year head coaches in Division I with no prior coaching experience in 2008-09, Dawkins ranked third for the distinction of winningest rookie coach.
- Dawkins arrived on The Farm after completing 11 years as a member of the Duke coaching staff. For nine of those 11 seasons, Dawkins served as the program's associate head coach. During his 11 years at Duke, the Blue Devils won a national championship in 2001, six ACC regular season championships and seven ACC Tournament titles.
- Dawkins finished his career in 1986 as the school's all-time leading scorer with 2,556 points. A consensus two-time, first team All-American and four-time All-ACC pick, Dawkins was named the 1986 National Player of the Year during his senior season.
- A 1986 first-round NBA draft selection (10th pick overall) by San Antonio, Dawkins saw action in nine seasons with the Spurs, 76ers and Pistons. During his NBA career, he averaged 11.1 points and 5.5 assists per game.

The Stanford basketball experience is unique: an opportunity to receive an exceptional education while competing at the highest level against the finest competition.

I firmly believe that this is not my program, it's our program. Special things happen when we are all in – together. When everyone is accountable and has ownership. That is the foundation of our family.

Stanford basketball is about class. It's about representing yourself, your team and your university in the very best way possible. And it's about winning – on the court, off the court and in life.

There's nothing like it.
